illness of a witness. The trial of the case of John R. Gunter v. Samuel Miller of Hartland, was then begun. It is an action for the alleged false imprisonment of the plaintiff on a capias for an alleged indebtedness of $27 for commission on a life insurance premium. The original action was discontinued and Gunter claims he never owed Miller. When he proposed today to give evidence of this fact, objection was taken that the matter could not be gone into in an action for false imprisonment, and that the plaintiff should have brought his action for malicious arrest and presecu tion. The objection was sustained, but the plaintiff was allowed to amend his declaration upon paying costs of the day and postponing trial till January.

ANNUAL EXHIBITION

Very Successful Fair - Perfect

The annual exhibition of the Simonds and Loch Lomond Agricultural Society was held Tuesday in the agricutural hall at Loch Lomond, and a most successful fair it was. The weather was perfect and in consequence the attendance of spectators was above the average. The exhibits were the best shown in recent years and brought out most complimentary remarks from all who saw them. Some 40 or 50 head of cattle were shown, and a good looking for the prosecution and C. H. Peters lot they were. Horses were exhibited in big numbers and all of them were good specimens. Sheep and swine were to be seen in large numbers. Within church, T. L. Alexander presiding. the agricultural hall the exhibts of produce were most creditable. Manufactured articles were in evidence, which went to indicate that the wives of the farmers in that district are losing none of their ability in the line of making mats, socks and mittens, There was quite a crowd present from the city, included in which were: Hon. A. T. Dunn, Hon. H. A. McKeown, John Wilson, Joseph Noble, S. Drury, John Johnston, Chas. F. Tilley, D. H. Waterbury, W. B. Campbell, W. A. Porter, R. O'Brien, Dr. W. L. Ellis, J. O'Neill, Geo. A. The statement is made by Chapman & Hall the English publishers of Dickens's works, that their annual sales have reached the immense total for many years past of 250,000 copies. In popularity Pickwick leads, and close upon that comes David Copperfield. Says the current Academy: "When it is remembered that many of the novels are out of copyright and have been issued in various forms by other publishers, it will be seen how enormous the sale of Dickens continues to be."
