Tragic Death in France of H. W. Allingham.

MARSEILLES, Nov. 23. - Herbert geon of Grosvenor street, London, was found dead in his room at the Hotel du Louvre. He had arrived at Marseilles on the previous evening, and registered at the hotel with several friends, among whom was a well known London specialist, who was going to accompany him to Egypt. Mr. Allingham dined with them, and appeared to be in the best of spirits. Indeed, his hilarity struck his companons as being slightly forced. He retired to his room at a late hour, and it is supposed that he must have had an attack of an old malady, which often left him in a very depressed condition for several hours.

When the attendant knocked at the bedroom door next morning he received no answer, and so entered with the hot water. Mr. Allingham lay on the bed in an attitude of repose, but a faint and peculiar odor caused the waiter to cross over to the bed, when F. C. > WHAT SULPHUR DOES For the Human Body in Health and Disease.

The mention of sulphur will recall to many of us the early days when our mothers and grandmothers gave us our daily dose of sulphur and molasses every spring and fall.

It was the universal spring and fall "blood purifier," tonic and cure-all and mind you, this old-fashioned remedy was not without merit. The idea was good, but the remedy was crude and unpalatable, and a chester Exchange, from his selarge quantity had to be taken to get cond campaign in South Afany effect. Nowadays we get all the beneficial effects of sulphur in a palatable, con-

is far more effective than a tablespoonful of the crude sulphur. In recent years, research and experiment have proven that the best sulphur for medicinal use is that obtained from Calcium (Calcium Sulphide) and sold in drug stores under the name of Stuart's Calcium Wafers. They are small chocolate coated pellets and contain the active medicinal principle of sulphur in a highly concentrated, effective form. Few people are aware of the value of this form of sulphur in restoring ese coolie labor plan is fully in operand maintaining bodily vigor and ation, and the mines are again working, health: sulphur acts directly on the liver, and excretory organs and purifies and enriches the blood by the so long as the supply of gold holds out, prompt elimination of waste material. and apparently it is inexhaustible.
