FUNERALS.

The funeral yesterday afternoon of J. N. E. Hodier, from Chamberlain's undertaking rooms, at 2:30 o'clock, was very largely attended. Service at the home for incurables on Monday afternoon was conducted by Rev. Walker. The funeral services yesterday at the undertaking rooms were conducted by Rev. W. H. Sampson. Obsequies at the grave were conducted by Canon White and by representatives of the Free Masons and the Orange order. Queen Preceptory, Black Knights of Ireland, and Verner Lodge L. O. A., headed by the 62nd band, attended the funeral. A number of citizens also attended to pay their last respects to the deceased. The remains were interred in Fernhill.

COUNTY COURT DEALING WITH RIOTING CASES

Many witnesses at hearing yesterday — His Honor corrects impression regarding Sergt. Kilpatrick

The trial of Thomas Shannon, Percy Warren, Bedford Hines, Wm. Brown, Wm. Day, Wm. Chambers and Wm. Edmondson, indicted yesterday morning on the charges of rioting and causing damage to the building on Smythe St., belonging to the St. John Railway Co., was commenced yesterday afternoon before Judge Forbes and the following jury: J. Harold McGoldrick, J. A. McDonald, John Fitzgerald, Fred Pender, A. C. Gilmour, C. J. Kane, Leverett A. Belyea, Robert D. Campbell, J. A. Turner, Horace C. Brown, John Kenney, Jr., and Hugh McDougall.

The court was crowded which was in contradistinction to the smallness of the audience down stairs where the Carleton County blusterer was successfully killing time.

Before the panel was completed it found that there were not sufficient numbers of those summoned present and John Kenney, Jr., and Hugh McDougall, two spectators in court, were immediately pressed into service.

Mr. Bustin, counsel for one of the accused, asked each prospective juror if he was a stockholder in the St. John Railway Co., or had any interest therein or were in any capacity employed by the company. To each of these questions each man answered in the negative.

H. O. McInerney appeared for the Crown and Recorder Baxter, K.C., with him.

Geo. H. V. Belyea appeared for Shannon, S. B. Bustin for Warren, E. S. Ritchie for Bedford Hines, a deaf mute, J. A. Barry for Brown and Day, Herbert J. Smith for Chambers, and Francis Kerr for Edmondson.

The alleged riot took place on July 23rd last.

The charges.

The accused were indicted by the grand jury "with divers other persons to the jurors aforesaid known, unlawfully, riotously and in a manner causing reasonable fear of a tumultuous disturbance of the peace, did assemble together and being assembled together did then and there make a great noise and thereby began and continued for some time to disturb the peace tumultuously contrary to the statute in such case made and provided and against the peace of our said King, his Crown and dignity."

The second clause in the indictment charged each of the prisoners with damaging the building belonging to the St. John Railway Co. and situated on Smythe and Dock streets.

To each of these counts the prisoners pleaded not guilty.

The direct evidence was the same as given at the preliminary examination before Police Magistrate Ritchie, Detective William Worthington Mayor Frink, Police Officer James H. McNamee, Armstrong B. Clifford, the deputy sheriff, told of the events leading up to the alleged riot. In answer to Mr. Barry His Worship stated that he had made no provisions to prevent the disturbance, although he knew that a street railway strike was on.

Police Sergeant Henry Kilpatrick, Night Detective Fred Lucas, Officer William A. Gibbs gave evidence.

His Honor's Statement.

At the conclusion of Officer Kilpatrick's testimony His Honor referred to a statement which he made in charging the grand jury in the morning that the officer had been on the force for twenty-five years, was present on the night of the alleged riot, and saw no one he knew at all in the crowd. His Honor had commented to the grand jury that if all the police men knew people as well as Sergeant Kilpatrick the city would be a very different place. His Honor said that the officer's evidence was misinterpreted; that the sergeant knew and recognized a large number of citizens in the crowd who were of the better element but did not recognize any of the rowdy element. In justice to the sergeant and police force His Honor made this statement.

Other witnesses examined were Alex. Hamilton, Orland C. Ward, George Saul, Wm. Doyle and James Sullivan.

The court adjourned at six o'clock to meet again this morning at ten, when two witnesses will be called by the Crown in order to complete its case.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. W. F. Mahon.

Many friends heard with sincere regret of the death early yesterday morning at the Private Hospital, of Mrs. Mahon, wife of W. F. Mahon, manager of the Eastern Securities Company. During the summer Mr. and Mrs. Mahon and family have been living at Duck Cove. Following the birth a few days ago of an infant, it was seen that Mrs. Mahon's condition was serious, and early yesterday morning her husband four small children. Her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Roop, reside in New Glasgow. She also leaves two sisters, Miss Pearl Roop, at home, and Mrs. T. J. Meagher, Halifax, and three brothers.

The funeral this afternoon will be at 2:30 o'clock from St. Andrew's church, Rev. Gordon Dickie officiating. The body will be taken to the church at midday. During a residence of several years in this city, Mr. and Mrs. Mahon have made a large circle of friends and all were shocked to learn of Mrs. Mahon's death.

GEORGE N. FOWLER TROUNCES CARVELL WITHOUT GLOVES

Carleton County blusterer's underhand methods call forth well merited rebuke—Hon. J. K. Flemming on stand—Commission refuses ridiculous request of prosecution leader.

The enquiry into the charges made by Mr. Dugal in connection with the Quebec Railway, was resumed yesterday morning in the court house.

F. B. Carvell, counsel for Mr. Dugal, occupied the greater part of the morning with one of his customary exhibitions of gallery play. Mr. Carvell introduced tactics clearly questionable in character and at times he became so wrathful that he had to be called to order by the chairman of the commission. At one point in the proceedings Mr. Carvell used the word "liar" and became so abusive in his demonstration that the chairman threatened to have the commission rise until Mr. Carvell could become cooler.

The counsel for Mr. Dugal again attempted to persecute Hon. J. K. Flemming, who was on the stand, and made many wild statements concerning him. When Mr. Flemming refused to answer the same question over and over Mr. Carvell became greatly incensed and called upon the commission to commit Mr. Flemming to jail for contempt. The suggestion was made in view of the fact that Mr. Flemming had refused to answer the question and therefore could not be compelled to answer questions directly bearing upon the charges.

Mr. Flemming, however, swore that he had never received from any contractor money for his own use. The remainder of the session was quiet.

Morning Session.

When the enquiry was opened Mr. Carvell drew attention to the fact that evidence taken in the earlier hearings had not yet been transcribed and he had not been able to secure a copy of the proceedings. He understood that the notes for four days had been taken by Mr. Dugal's stenographer, was called from the county court and explained that he had been ill. The commissioners told him that the evidence had been transcribed within a day or so.

Mr. Carvell then opened the proposed case and if he had the books of the St. John and Quebec Railway Co., but was told that Mr. Teed did not have them.

Mr. Carvell then opened the proposed case and if he had the books of the St. John and Quebec Railway Co., but was told that Mr. Teed did not have them.

Mr. Carvell then opened the proposed case and if he had the books of the St. John and Quebec Railway Co., but was told that Mr. Teed did not have them.

Continuing, Mr. Fowler said he had just come from attendance upon one of the most momentous sessions of the Canadian parliament, where the leaders of both political parties buried their political differences and worked in harmony and unity in the interests of the empire. Mr. Carvell had seemed to have been impressed with the scenes and happenings of that parliamentary session and yet here he came without the spirit of humanity in his heart and makes an attempt upon a political opponent which showed he still had venom in his heart.

The event of parliament had had no softening influence upon him. This whole case has been founded upon political hatred and its superstructure was of malice. If the books of the railway company were in court and the court took the speaker's advice they would not be investigated. The function of the court was to find if any of the funds of the province had been diverted as thousands of dollars had been diverted by the government of which Mr. Carvell was a supporter. The sessions had shown that all the money voted for the St. John Valley Railway had been spent in that railway and thousands of dollars besides. Men who concerned in the Central Railway matter had not put in a dollar and took out hundreds and thousands. Mr. Fowler strongly resented the attack made upon Mr. Flemming by Mr. Carvell.

Mr. Carvell—"If there was anything wrong, if there was a steal ten years ago it does not affect this matter today one way or the other."

Mr. Fowler—"Well, you will hear still more of it yet."

Hon. J. K. Flemming was then called.

POOR GIVE TO THE FUND

Committees report generous response to Patriotic Fund — Fine spirit displayed by all.

In handing in their returns to the secretary of the Patriotic Fund yesterday afternoon, Messrs. James Collins and E. Clinton Brown, who had been collecting in Prince Ward, stated that they had been engaged in one of the pleasantest tasks of their lives.

"We didn't have a wealthy district to cover, either, but we met a splendid spirit among the very poorest. They all wanted to give. If they didn't have any change in the house they borrowed from their neighbors. We got as small a sum as ten cents. It was given with a full heart and was just as acceptable as if it had been as many dollars. All regretted that they had not more to give."

"At one house where we were requested a contribution, the woman proudly replied, 'I have given my son.' This was Mrs. London, whose son went away with the 62nd battalion.

"In another, an aged lady, with a display of a good deal of patriotic feeling, remarked 'three of my nephews have gone out to fight for the King.'"

"In a third house, that of Mrs. Charles Orr, we learned that a son who had been in the habit of contributing $5 each week to the family's support, had gone out to fight."

"That was the spirit of the people the whole way through," remarked these gentlemen, "so that our task was a pleasant one indeed."

STEFANSSON HAS RENEWED SEARCH

Nome, Alaska, Sept. 1.—The gasoline schooner King and Wings, which has arrived here from Point Barrow, Alaska, brought news that Vilhjamur Stefansson, the Canadian explorer, with two companions, set out from Martin Point, east of the mouth of the Barter River, March 22, last, with six dogs, a sled, two rifles and plenty of ammunition, heading straight north over the ice in search of new land, supporting party of three others accompanied Stefansson sixteen days to repeat what he had formerly said but Mr. Carvell continued in heated terms until the chairman threatened to adjourn the hearing and order was restored.

Witness said he had no conversation or correspondence with J. H. Corbett after these charges were laid. He does not know where he was. Witness declined to answer whether he telegraphed Mr. Corbett asking him to meet him in Moncton on May 12, 1912.

On cross examination Mr. Flemming said he gave a packet of money, which Mr. Kennedy said he gave witness to the committee of the party in Woodstock. In answer to Mr. Carvell witness said he would not divulge the name of the man to whom the parcel was given as he considered that a confidential matter.

Mr. Carvell asked several other questions which were not answered and then announced that he had no other witnesses to call.

Other Evidence.

Paul F. Blanchet was recalled and went into the details of an audit which he made of the books of the railway company at the suggestion of the royal commission. Mr. Blanchet was on the stand during part of the afternoon but his evidence was purely of a technical nature.

S. D. Waas, chief engineer with the St. John and Quebec Railway Co., was also recalled. He went into the details of the cost of completing the road between the Barrens and Gagetown, with the exception of the section between Fredericton and Miramichi. His estimate was $30,059.74 for the section between Gagetown and Victoria Mills and $54,114.76 for the rest of the section. The total estimate covered the completion of the 62 miles of road after what had been done up to August 1. His evidence was largely technical.

The session was adjourned at five o'clock. The enquiry will be resumed this morning at ten o'clock.

Postpone Convention

The Board of Trade has been advised that owing to the unsettled condition of affairs throughout the country, it has been decided to postpone the eleventh annual convention of the associated boards of trade of western Canada, that was to have been held at Port William, Ont., on September 8th, 9th and 10th, for at least one month.
