“Business as Usual”
Such is the slogan adopted by many of the English business Houses.
Many branches of commerce are being continued without an appreciable interruption and exports to Canada and other countries are being kept up.
For instance: Lovers of Scotland's foremost brand of whisky ROYAL ARMS need have no fear of a shortage in the supply as the distillers are sparing no effort to continue “Business as Usual” and that means Canada's supply will be kept up.

GUNBOAT AND LEVINSKY TO FIRE OPENING GUNS OF FALL SEASON

Some idea of how boxing is going to prosper this season will be gained when Gunboat Smith and Battling Levinsky come together on Oct. 8, says Fred Keats of the New York Evening Sun. This match is the first of any importance since last spring, and for that reason should attract a big attendance.
If such proves to be the case other bigger and better matches are sure to follow. On the other hand, should the bout fail to draw well it will discourage local promoters from attempting to stage more costly attractions.
The bout will also serve to test the public's regard for Gunboat now that he has returned from England minus the white heavyweight championship, which he left in the keeping of Georges Carpentier. Since that affair Smith's real ability is more of a mystery than ever. Apparently Smith, for all his terrific swings, is helpless before a speedy boxer with a clever defence. As defensive work happens to be Levinsky's long suit, the matter should be cleared up satisfactorily this time.
Certainly, if Gunboat cannot put a stop to Levinsky, he may as well drop all pretensions to the leading honors. Levinsky has shown repeatedly that he is not unbeatible by the better class of middleweights. Yet in many respects he resembles Carpentier, and if his superficial cleverness proves too much on Gunboat Carpentier's victory will no longer be regarded as the result of an accident, even by those who are now disposed to take that view of the recent battle in London.
On this account Smith cannot afford to lose even a close decision if he expects to maintain prestige. If Levinsky wins, Gunboat's refusal to go through with the Young Apsara match will look blacker than ever. Even now it is difficult to see why Smith turned down $5,000 for a job that apparently was not worth more than $35.
On the other hand, if Smith beats down Levinsky's defence he will have done something none of the other big fellows have been able to accomplish. In that case Smith will regain his lost standing, for although Battling Barney is a rather uninteresting person in the ring, it cannot be denied that he knows how to protect himself. At any rate he is not at all likely to fall a victim to a chance swiftness and if Smith is successful it can no longer be said that he has built up a reputation on no more capital than a hay-making right.
Johnny Dundee's match with Willie Beecher, scheduled for Los Angeles on Sept. 29, may be the means of bringing him to the fore as a contender for the lightweight title. Lightweight material is decidedly scarce in California just now, although there is a big demand for bouts in that division. As a card Joe Rivers is played out. Ritchie's price is too high and Charley White failed to make much of any impression in his battle with Joe Azevedo recently. Therefore if Dundee can do something sensational against Beecher he is likely to be given the first chance to meet Freddie Welsh for the championship.
However, Dundee will have to show something in the way of a real punch before he will be taken up by Californians. Beecher proved in his bout with Rivers that he is immune to an ordinary amount of punishment. On form Dundee should have no trouble earning a decision on the point basis, but Californians care little for that style of milling.

FAST RACING AT MOOSEPATH ON SATURDAY
Saturday afternoon's racing at Moosepath proved very interesting and exciting from a horse race point of view, they probably being the best held this season under the auspices of the Park Matinee Driving Club. Three classes were started with a fair crowd in attendance. Two classes were the feature for the day both being mixed trot and pace, but to meet the wishes of a number of owners it was decided to start the trotters alone thereby making a third class for the afternoon's sport.
The free-for-all proved very exciting, the railbirds getting a severe bump in their guessing contest and the favorites going down to defeat. The mare Nelida R. who has won first twice in the Class A fixture graduated Saturday into the big smoke inn the free-for-all with King behind her was driven a winner in three straight heats. The fastest average time for the three heats yet hung out. Harry Short's black stallion Ozen D. and John Glynn's Etta Mack were picked for the contenders in this class, both having landed the event in fast time on previous occasions.
Nelida R. won the first heat in 1:11 with Ozen D. second and Etta third, the horses being well together all the way.
The second heat was won in 1:11.4 after a hard fought race all through the stretches to the wire, Etta Mack going under in second position, and Ozen D. third.
In the third and final heat Nelida R. went the distance in 1:10.4, Ozen D. taking second with Etta Mack third.
The second event was also won in straight heats by Shamrock with Tom Haynes new importation Fern Boy second. This proved a very exciting race until the last of the third heat when Fern Boy broke his hoppers allowing Shamrock an easy tramp home.
The trotting class was another surprise for the followers of the track. Nelida R. was the favorite, but the West Side stallion tramped home a winner in three straight heats. Iowa Parole second and Nan Patterson third in the summary.
