ST. JOHN OPENS ARMS TO WELCOME VISITORS TO DOMINION EXH

Long List of Private Residences Where Stranger Comfortable Accommodation When Hotels an Houses Are Filled—Hearty Cooperation With Exhibition Management.

That the people of St. John are co- operating heartily with the Dominion ex-	Mrs. McCarthy hibition officials in order that every visitor to the city for the big fair shall have com- fortable accommodations, is strongly evid- enced by the long list of names of private citizens who have agreed to open their	Wrs Finnigan doors to one, two, three or even more as their room permits, during exhibition week.	J. J. Smith
A thorough canvass of the city was	St. Patrick Street.

sociation and in each instance the house-holder was asked as to willingness to provide rooms for visitors should it be necessary. As a result of this canvass and the very hearty cooperation of the people, there is now on file at the exhibition offices a very lengthy register of private homes where strangers in the city during exhibition days may find good resting places after the day of sight seeing.

All this, of course, is in addition to the very fine hotel accommodation and the large number of boarding houses. The large number of boarding houses. Ine exhibition people are greatly pleased at the response to their canvass and feel that no matter how large the influx of visitors may be, all can be provided for comfort-Mrs. Mrs. M. Carroll.

Mrs. W. McCluskey.

The register at the exhibition offices shows the number of the street, name of the family, number of rooms available and the amount of money that will be asked from those who are thus temporarily provided with homes.

arily provided with homes.

The Telegraph this morning publishes the first portion of the list, which as stated is very large, and the balance will appear in two installments, one tomorrow morning and the other on Monday. Only the street and name of the family and the number that can be accommodated are given in this paper, the rest of the information being regarded as private business.
