into a pair of ancient moccasins. He'd come from high school back home just as we had. We had fun with that fellow... he was ambitious, too. He went away for a while and now that he's back he doesn't wear a pork-pie any more. UNIVERSITY OF B. C.
The University of British Columbia ratio of men to women was never less than two to one during the war, and this year the ratio is up to five to one.

The UBC co-ed responded in the typical manner when questioned on the subject.

"Looks like men are here to stay." "It's a grand idea but rather confusing at times."
