Black and Gold Review

"If the response to the Black and Gold Revue is any indication, then the Winter Carnival is going to be a great success." According to Dan McSweeley of the Winter Carnival Committee, more than 100 people have signed up for approximately 17 acts and the Revue should be "at least as good as last year."

The Revue is a talent show with the accent on fun. "There is no real theme as such other than the basic Black and Gold. 2069 is the catchword, however, and according to the grapevine, some of the skits will have a futuristic idea. Variety is the main thing, and there is "everything from fraternity skits to pop groups to folk singing to comedy and song routines." There is even a chorus line planned, with between 12 and 15 beautiful girls. The difference about the Revue this year is that there is some structured plan. Unlike former years, there will be a complete rehearsal to achieve a little continuity and make arrangements with the audio and lighting crews.

The Revue will be held Sunday, February 9 from 7:30 to 11:30 in the McInnes Room of the SUB.

Interview with The Chair lady

by DELLA RISLEY

The Winter Carnival is "going to be great" according to Janet Bird who is what else, Chairman of the Winter Carnival Committee.

The Ball, held first to imbue everyone with the Carnival spirit, will feature two bands who "can give a good adaptation of any contemporary music." The Moustache Club Saturday will be run "along the lines of the Moustache Club in Montreal", with a Cabaret featuring Dixieland music and a Chugging contest (700 cases of beer).

A Soul concert will take place the same night. Soul was chosen to get away from "last year's Acid Rock, where the sound had to be perfected to such a degree that when it is live, it just doesn't work." "One group, the Unifics, are a recent discovery. In a contest at New York's Apollo Theatre they "stole the show completely."

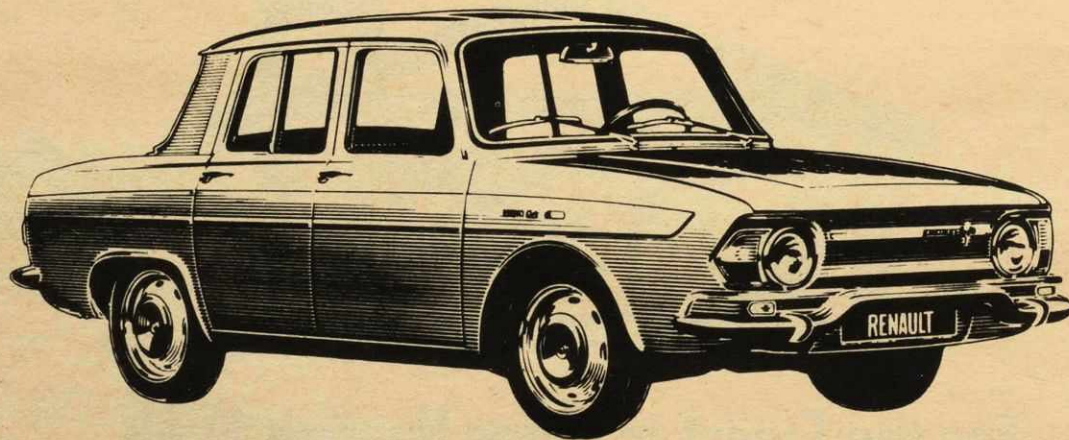

Another expected highlight is the Mixed Pool Tournament. "The idea is to get the girls interested in Snooker." The Chairman has little doubt as to whom the winner will be - Janet Bird.

A New Type of Queen

By DELLA RISLEY

The 1969 Winter Carnival Queen will be more a choice of the students than in former years. Committee Chairman Janet Bird said this is because of a new method of nomination which she instigated this year: "I felt it was time the students had some say in who represented them." Previously, the candidates were nominated by various University Societies, but now any girl who submits a list of 20 supporters can be a candidate for Princess.

Three of this year's Princesses were nominated in this manner. The Queen will represent Dal at Queen of the Universities Winter Carnival at Waterloo next year.
