

Would you accept a job from a perfect stranger?

You'd be foolish if you did. But if you think you might be interested in banking as a career, it makes sense for you and the Commerce to get together and discuss it.

We try to make our interviews friendly, frank and productive. Giving you what you need to make up your mind about us and vice versa.

It works, and we've been getting a lot of good people that way. If you'd like to talk with us, you can arrange it through the Student Placement Office on campus. Or write to the Personnel Manager, CIBC, at the regional location most convenient to you: 5171 George St., Halifax; 1155 Dorchester Blvd. W., Montreal; Commerce Court, Toronto; 375 Main St., Winnipeg; 1867 Hamilton St., Regina; 309-8th Ave. SW, Calgary; 640 W. Hastings St., Vancouver.

ANNOUNCING the first ever EXCALIBUR CONTEST

In co-operation with Capitol-EMI Records of Canada, Excalibur is going to have an honest to goodness contest. First prize consists of the winner's choice of any twelve recent releases on any of the labels distributed by Capitol, (EMI, Arista, Chrysalis, or Capitol) not including "greatest hits" albums. Second prize is six of the same, and third prize is two of them.

Although "recent" means you can't ask for Pink Floyd or old Beatles stuff, it still allows a fairly flexible choice, covering almost every corner of pop music - from the Bay City Rollers to Patty Smith, from Sylvia Tyson to Wings - and you'd be surprised how good some "unknown" bands can be. Final decision of what's considered recent and what's not rests with Kris over at Capitol.

Here's how the whole thing works: Excalibur will be printing a photograph of somewhere at York starting today, for the next five weeks. To enter, identify the building of any two photos, and send it, along with your name, address, and telephone number, to

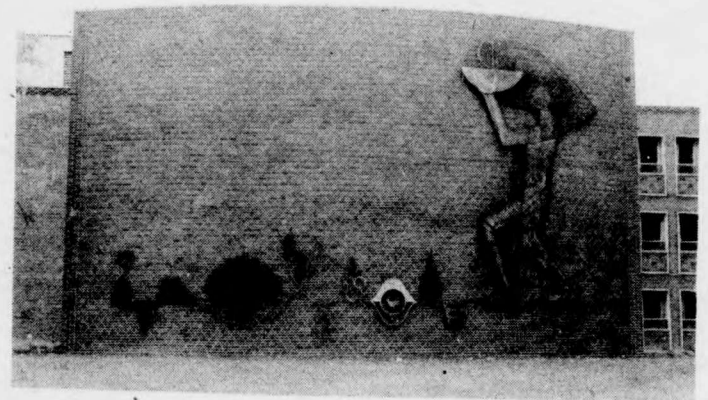

Excalibur Contest,
Room 111 Central Square,
York University,
Downsview, Ont., M3J 1P3

If you mail the entry on campus, you can leave out the last two lines of the address, and you don't need a stamp.

A drawing will be held at the Excalibur staff meeting on Thursday, March 3, at 3 p.m. All entries received until that time will be eligible. The first three correct entries chosen will be declared winners, and will be notified as soon as possible. The winners will be announced in the March 10 Excalibur.

P.S. Staff members of Excalibur are not eligible.
