much into one committee." Although Mississauga has a numerical superiority over the other two municipalities on region council, the voting doesn't reflect it. Councillors-elect Searle, Bud Gregory (Ward 3,) and Harold Kennedy (Ward 1) usually formed the opposition to the other seven members of Mississauga's delegation. That paid off for Searle who beat out Dobkin by 11-10 for one of two seats on the Police commission. Archdekin was appointed to the other seat by a unanimous 21 votes. Councillors-elect agreed to two meetings per month, alternating them between day and evening sessions.

Crash sends 6 to hospital

A three-car collision at Britannia Road and Highway 10 sent six people to hospital with cuts and bruises over the weekend. Police say Ingrid Szyko, 24 was stopped in the passing lane of Highway 10 to turn left onto Britannia Road when her car was struck from behind. It crossed over into the southbound lanes and collided with a car driven by Dongwol Ro, 16 of Oak Street in Toronto. Passengers injured in the Ro vehicle were Peter Ro, 8 and Kungsuk Ro, 27. Injured in the third vehicle involved in the collision were driver Elizabeth Marynuik, 56 of Dmytro Marynuik of Thorold. Mrs. Marynuik is charged with careless driving. FOUR INJURED Four people also went to hospital with cuts and bruises when two cars collided at the intersection of Dixie Road and Burnhamthorpe Road. Police say Paul Spooner and his wife Jarocva were eastbound on Burnhamthorpe when there car was struck by a northbound vehicle on Dixie Road driven by Richard Osborne, 21 of Toronto.

Defendant says police treatment was brutal nesses concerned McDowall's broken glasses. Constable Wallace claimed that they were broken in the accident but none of the four independent witnesses at the scene of the accident recalled McDowall's glasses were broken. Constable Wallace testified he did nothing to McDowall and that it was the accused who constantly heaped on the verbal abuse. He claimed McDowall swore at him and warned him "liars die at a very early age." "McDowall said he would sue and have my job," Wallace testified. "I was not angry—just fed up." Constable Brian Kelly stated that McDowall refused to go into the breathalyzer room and "when I took him by the arm he claimed I assaulted him." "He fell once and I helped him up," Kelly said. On cross examination the constable revealed his breathalyzer report stated that McDowall had been shoved by Wallace into the room but he claimed that that paragraph was only McDowall's version of what happened.

No explanation was given on how the urine sample was eventually obtained although the implication was that McDowall co-operated in the operation.

Analysis of the urine showed that at midnight McDowall's blood contained 170 milligrams of alcohol per 100 millilitres of blood, more than twice the amount required for a conviction.

The trial continues Nov. 8.

Clarkson man faces two assault charges

A 29-year-old Clarkson man has been charged with one common assault and one indecent assault involving young female hitchhikers. Police say that last April an 18-year-old girl was picked up and driven along Creditview Road. The girl alleges that the driver refused to let her out of the car and drove her three miles past where she wanted to go. She jumped out at Creditview and Britannia Road suffering bruises to her hips and legs. A common assault charge was laid in the incident.

In October a 17-year-old girl was picked up at Dixie Road and Dundas Street. She claims she was driven to Oakville and indecently assaulted and then driven back to the Dixie-Bloor area.

Charged with indecent assault and common assault is Derek John Craig, 29 of 2252 Bromsgrove Rd. in Clarkson. He will appear in provincial court Nov. 19.

Councillors-elect want $20,000 yearly salary

Mississauga city councillors will receive total annual salaries of $20,000 for their posts on the new city and Peel Region councils. The mayor will receive $30,000. Councillors-elect voted themselves the $10,000 per annum for their regional council salaries and $10,000 for their city salaries. Mayor-elect Martin Dobkin will receive $10,000 from the region and $20,000 from the city. Existing Town of Mississauga salaries range from the basic $6,000 for councillors to $13,500 basic salary for the mayor.

Three councillors also receive an extra $1,000 for sitting on planning board. Reeve's Salary is $9,000 and the deputy reeve earns $7,500. The present mayor's basic salary is augmented by $1,700 as a member of the police commission, $1,500 for expenses, $480 for mileage and $1,000 for sitting on planning board, for a total of $18,180 per year.

Police still have no clues to murder, disappearance

Mississauga police have had no responses to rewards of $9,000 offered in the Constance Dickey murder and the Neđa Novak disappearance. Superintendent William Teggart vigorously denied a story broadcast on a Toronto radio station this week that a warrant had been issued for the arrest of someone wanted for the Dickey murder. Teggart "unequivocally" denied the story saying there was not "one iota of truth to it."

Miss Dickey was sexually assaulted and strangled sometime in the few days before her body was discovered Sept. 16 near the Erindale collage campus of the University of Toronto. Neda Novak, an 18-year-old Erindale Secondary School student disappeared Thanksgiving weekend. Her family has not hear from her since. Police are still investigating reports that she has been seen but none of these have been substantiated.
