

Canadians, both individually and collectively, to stop talking about hard times and to get down to real business. And there is no great need to make any radical change by diverting the people from city or town to the land. What we need, and must have, is a return to normal business conditions; in which manufacturer, merchant and farmer, all together, will play their part. And finally, it may be worth while adding that there is need in this country for a greater display of a spirit of co-operation and mutual sympathy among all classes, and less for party and class recrimination and partisanship.

W. W. SWANSON.