QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Miscellaneous.*MIXING FOOD FOR PIGS.

In feeding pigs pulped turnips and meal, which is the best way, mixed or separate, and whether turnips or meal first? D. H. T.

Wellington Co.

Ans.—Soaking meal or grain increases its value for pig feeding. It would be better not only to feed meal and pulped turnips mixed, but to mix them some hours ahead. Add also to the mixture, when made, what milk or other liquid you intend to give. Keep where it will not freeze.

REMOVING FARM CHATTELS.

1. I purchased a farm, which I am to take possession of on March first. The seller has removed a large quantity of straw from the place. It was not mentioned in the agreement. Has he a right to do this? If not, what course should I take? Can he take other things included with the farm on a verbal agreement before witness? FAIR PLAY. Ont.

Ans.—1. Yes, unless there be a well-established custom or usage of the locality to the contrary.

2. It depends upon the nature and value of the articles. We cannot say without further information as to the facts just what the vendor's legal rights are.

Veterinary.FATALITY IN COW-RINGWORM

1. Cow, apparently in first-class health, took a drink of water out of a trough on Friday, then walked away towards the barn, fell, gasped for breath a few times, and died. I opened her and found lungs healthy, heart full of blood, some clotted. The heart looked healthy, but felt quite soft. Large quantities of water escaped from the mouth while I was skinning her.

2. Heifer is itchy, and patches of hair have fallen off neck and back. B. T.

Ans.—1. It would have required a post-mortem by a veterinarian to determine accurately the cause of death. I am of the opinion the heart was diseased and this caused sudden collapse. In all cases of death without bleeding, the heart, especially its right side, is full of blood. The water that escaped was what she had drunk escaping from the stomach. It is possible the large quantity of cold water taken on a cold day had some action upon the heart, but in a healthy cow would not cause trouble of this nature. Whatever the immediate cause of death was, nothing could have been done.

2. She has ringworm. Isolate her; soften the scales with sweet oil, remove them, and then apply tincture of iodine once daily as long as necessary. V.

"Talk happiness; the world is sad enough

Without your woes. No path is wholly rough;

Look for the places that are smooth and clear;

And speak of these to rest the weary ear

Of earth, so hurt by the continuous strain

Of human discontent and grief and pain."

"The King honored an Aberdeenshire farmer at the late Smithfield Show. He shook hands with Mr. Duthie, of Collynie, and conversed with him longer than with any other person at the show. Meanwhile the Prince of Wales, Prince Christian and the members of Council stood a few paces off, and many spectators behind the barriers, as well as the gentlemen within, looked on with great interest, some of them—no doubt—wondering who was the man whom the King thus honored. It is understood that His Majesty spoke to the famous Shorthorn breeder concerning the show, and congratulated him on the character of Northern cattle. This was the first time Mr. Duthie had ever spoken with the Sovereign. At the close of the interview the King, whose manner was very kind, again shook hands with him, and subsequently friends gathered round Mr. Duthie to honor the man whom the King had honored."
