The Land Beyond the Sea. The Land byond the Sea!
When will life's task be o'er?
When shall we reach that soft blue shore,
O'er the dark strait whose billows foam a roar?
When shall we come to thee,
Calm Land beyond the Sea!

The Land beyond the Sea! How close it often seems, When flushed with evening's peaceful gleams. And the wistful heart looks o'er the strait, and dreams! It longs to fly to thee, Calm Land beyond the Sea!

The Land beyond the Sea! Sometimes distinct and near It grows upon the eye and ear, And the gulf narrows to a threadlike mere We seem half-way to thee, Calm Land beyond the Sea!

The Land beyond the Sea! Sometimes across the strait, Like a drawbridge to a castle gate, The slanting sunbeams lie, and seem to wal For us to pass to thee, Calm Land beyond the Sea!

The Land beyond the Sea! Oh how the lapsing years, Mid our not unsubmissive tears, Have born, now singly, now in fleets, bers. biers Of those we love to thee, Calm Land beyond the Sea!

The Land beyond the Sea!
How dark our present home!
By the dull beach and sullen foam
How wearily, how drearily we roam,
With arms outstretched to thee,
Calm Land beyond the Sea! The Land beyond the Sea! When will our toil be done? Slow-doted years! more swiftly run Into the gold of that unsetting sun! Homesick we are for thee, Calm Land beyond the Sea!

The Land beyond the Sea!
Why fadest thou in light?
Why art thou better seen towards night?
Dear Land! look always plain, look alway
bright,
That we may gaze on thee,
Calm Land beyond the Sea!

The Land beyond the Sea! Sweet is thine endless rest, But sweeter far that Father's Breast Upon thy shores eternally possessed; For Jesus reigns o'er thee, Calm Land beyond the Sea! FATHER FABER, D. D.

NEWS FROM IRELAND.

DUBLIN.

September 25th, an ex-policeman named Sevlin, hanged himself in an old outhouse, in Lower Dorset street, Dublin. He was seen walking about at 7 a. m., and was found hanging cold and stiff, at half-past 8 o'clook. He is said to have had a field in Drumcondra on which some building was recently begun, and that the loss of the field had unsettled his mind, thus leading to the act of self-destruction

We had further evidence of the good result of the Sunday Closing Act in Ireland, in the statistical report of the arrests for drunkenness in 1878, which amounted to 107.732 on a death of the statistical report of the arrests for drunkenness in 1878, which amounted to 107,723, or a decrease as compared with 1777 of 3,180. The Act has been in operation for 3 months, when 1878 closed, and to that fact we may fairly ascribe

KILDARE.

On October 1st, an old man named Patrick Malone, who kept a public house in Leinster street, Athy, and who had been ailing for some time past, got out of hed and wistshing it is a bell with the control of bed, and, mistaking, it is thought, the window of his bed-room for the door-way, walked through it and fell into the street, where he was found lifeless a short time after the occurrence. He was 70 years of

The effects of the present agitation on the value of the land was clearly shown at Cork on September 26th, when a farm worth £500, which was put up for sale, had to be withdrawn in consequence of the price offered being altogether insufficient. The farm consisted of 98 acres of good land, situated near Carrigaline, and was held under lease for 68 years from the 25th of March, 1857, at the yearly rent of £44 16s. The farm was all in grass, and had fed from forty to fifty cows, and the whole circumstances of the holding were favorable to an incoming tenant. Though the Building Society were the rent of £44 l6s. The farm was all in grass, and had fed from forty to fifty cows, and the whole creumstances of the holding were favorable to an incoming tenant. Though the Building Society were the vendors no difficulties or unpleasantness arose with the tenant, who was present, and undertook to give up the farm in a month from the date of sale. Notwithstanding all these favorable conditions, the bidding was far below the reserved price put upon the farm. The highest bidding was far below the reserved price put upon the farm. on fire, and then stood by to see that no one attempted to extinguish the flames, until the work was complete, and nothing remained except the blackened walls. The fire was, it is presumed, merely carried out with a view to prevent the tenants reoccupying the house, and left these poor creatures absolutely without shelter. The cries of the children, as well as of the old couple, who had spent close on fifty years within what was now a smoking ruin, were, it is said, heart-rending.

The Charleville Land meeting announced on Sept. 25th, created a great amount of popular interest in the district. The town was decorated for the occasion with garlands of evergreens. Stretching across the main street were streamers bearing such mottoes as "Parnell to the rescue," "Irishmen, unite and conquer." An enormous crowd of people assembled from Kilmallock, Buttevant, Liscarroll—in fact from all the surrounding districts—and from all the surrounding districts—and the greatest possible enthusiasm prevailed. Bands and banners lent an air of animation to the scene, and a large body of horsemen formed a striking feature of the demonstration. The meeting was held in a large field outside the town, and when the chair was taken there could not the platform. Two Government note-takers from London attended, and were provided with tickets for the platform, but when their presence became recog-nized, people in the crowd called out to have them put down, and a very strong feeling was manifested to facilitate their removal, and the two note-takers were escorted by the Rev. Mr. Sheehy, C. C., of Kilmallock, and the Rev. Mr. Kelly, and other gentlemen from the platform, and out of the crowd. There was no police present at the meeting, which throughout was of the most orderly and influential

KERRY.

The people of Listowel were surprised, on Sept. 29th, on seeing a large cavalcade of farmers passing through the town in processional order, and halting in the public square. They were tenants of Mr. A. J. Stoughton, an absentee landlord in North Kerry, and they were noticed to annear at the office of the land agree, Mr. appear at the office of the land agent, Mr. appear at the office of the land agent, Mr. George Sandes, to pay the rents up. The tenants presented a document to the agent, which set forth the grievances under which they sufferered from exorbitant rents, and expressed their determination to pay no more rents than a sum equivalent to Griffith's valuation. The agent who received them can't agent, who received them courteously, told them he could do nothing himself, but advised them to put forward their claims in a memorial to the landlord, which he was sure would receive consideration. The tenants on the property of Colonel Crosbrie were also at the rent office, and as no abatement could be allowed in the gale due they all refused to pay any rent, and returned to their homes breathing denunciations against the present permicious land system.

LIMERICK.

On Sept. 25th, a land meeting, attended by some twelve thousand people, was held at Abbeyfeale. The meeting was one of the largest yet held in Limerick county on the Land Question, and the proceedings throughout were of the most orderly character. The principal thorough-fare in the town was spanned with arches bearing the words, "Welcome to the banks of the Feale." Bands attended from Listowel and Castleisland, in addition to the Abbeyfeale brass band. Several of the country contingents were green and blue scarfs, and some of them carried banners with such mottoes as the follow-ing: "Rally round Parnell;" "God save Ireland," &c. In front of the platform was a large green banner fringed with orange, on which was "Parnell, our leader," no land-jobbers; no land-jobbers or sycophant bailiffs; the people must be saved." The Rev. Wm. Casey, C. C., Abbeyfeale, was moved to the chair.

An eviction has just taken place in Dingle, which excited more than ordinary pity for the sufferers. An aged couple, named Patrick Kennedy and his wife, with their son and daughter-in-law and seven children (eleven in family), occupied a house and farm on a townland called Maunmagrawn, near Dingle, and for which Mr. Samuel J. #### WATERFORD.

Within the past ten years there has not been in Waterford such an abundant harvest as that which has just been safely harvest as that which has just been safely gathered in. With the exception of a few days, the months of August and September were exceptionally fine, so that ample opportunities presented themselves for saving a most bounteous harvest. Oats is a very heavy crop—in most instances from 25 to 40 per cent. heavier than last year, and in some cases almost double as good as it was this time twelvemonth.

DONEGAL.

DONEGAL.

A Land League meeting was held at Ballybrack chapel, near Moville, on Sept. 26th, for the purpose of protesting against the present system of landlordism and to establish a branch of the League in the district. About three hundred persons attended. The principal speaker was M. P. Crampsey, Carndonagh, who spoke at some length on the objects of the meeting, and concluded by calling on those present to join in forming a branch of the League. The proceedings soon after terminated. Mr. Crampsey stated that another large meeting would soon be held in the neigh borhood, which would be attended by some of the Irish Parliamentary energetic borhood, which would be attended by some of the Irish Parliamentary energetic party, including Mr. Parnell and others.
Sheveban, near Marlin, a hamlet on the sea coast of Innishowen, has beed the scene of a murder which has, perhaps, no parallel in the county in regard to some of its details. A peasant named Patrick Farren on returning to his home on Sept. 29th, found a neighbor named Patrick Doherty in company with his wife. So inflamed was he by jealousy that he murdered Doherty and nearly killed his wife. He beat them both with an iron crook. The man gave himself up to the crook. The man gave himself up to the police, and has been committed to prison.

GALWAY.

Alarge and influential indignation meeting was held at Athenry on September 1st, to condemn the conduct of the Loughrea Town Commissioners for calling for an extra military force "to protect the lives and property" of that peaceable district. Their effigies were carried outside the town and burned to ashes, amidst the cheers of a vast multitude. The temperance band paraded the town several times at the head of a large procession, playing national airs. Alarge and influential indignation meetal airs.

LEITRIM.

At the village of Drumlion, about two miles from Carrick-on-Shannon, on Sept. 27th, Patrick Higgans, a small farmer, who kept a bull, entered his shed to tie him. The animal became furious, and turned upon him, goring his face and crushing his body severely. The man succeeded in reaching the door, but there fell. He was carried into the house insensible, and lived but an hour. The sensible, and lived but an hour. The deceased leaves a widow and seven child-ren, none of whom is able to earn a liveli-

Diseases of the Throat and Langs.

In diseases of the pul-Indiscases of the pul-monary organs a safe and reliable remedy is invaluable. AVER'S CHERNY PETORAL is such a remedy, and no other soeminently mer-its the confidence of the public. It is a sci-cutific combination of chemically united, of such power as to insure the greatest possible efficiency and uniform-pector parties of the greatest possible efficiency and uniformity of results. It strikes at the foundation of all pulmonary diseases, affording prompt relief and rapid cures, and is adapted to patients of any age or either sex. Being very palatable, the youngest children take it readily. In ordinary Coughs, Colds, Sore Taroat, Broneaitis, Influenza, Clergyman's Sore Throat, Asthma, Croup, and Catarrh, the effects of Aven's Chemity Pecrokat are magical, and multitudes are annually preserved from serious illness by its roral are magical, and multiudes are annually preserved from serious illness by its timely and faithful use. It should be kept at hand in every household for the protection it affords in sudden attacks. In Whooping-cough and Consumption there is no other remedy so efficacious, toothing, and helpful.

Low prices are inducements to try some of the many mixtures, or syrups, made of cheap and ineffective ingredients, now offered, which, as they contain no cutative qualities, can afford only temporary relief, and are sure to deceive and disappoint the patient. Diseases of the threat and lings demand active and effective treatment; and it is dangerous experimenting with taknown and cheap medicines, from the great hability that these diseases may, white so trifled with, become deeply seated or incurable. Use Aver's Chikhay Pretronal, and you may confidently expect the best results. It is a standard medical preparation, of known and acknowledged curative power, and is as cheap as its careful preparation and fine treations will allow. ingredients will allow. Eminent physicians, knowing its composition, prescribe it in their practice. The test of half a century has proven its absolute certainty to cure all pulmonary complaints nor already beyond the reach of human aid.
