

IF THE FARMER SHOULD REBEL?

Written for The Ontario by
Chas. M. Rice, Lawyer, Denver, Colorado.

The man who originates most of the Canadian and American wealth and resources, the one next to the soil, has as much right to assert himself as the city man who is dependent upon the other. And if the farmer, like a "poor blind Samson" should use his strength on the pillars of the temple, the rest of us would know that something was happening.

Not an organized strike, perhaps, but what is far more dangerous, the infiltration of community methods, of city schemes into the thought of the farmer, is what is happening. The farmer is not satisfied. He sees wherever he turns, combinations entered into which are inimical to his interests—jobbies at the Capitol, combinations at home, a great warman between him and the consumer. Trade unionism on the one hand, and middlemen on the other are organized to exploit a third party. Corporations of great wealth are in union for self-interest. He cannot be blamed if he turns and grasps sometimes at economic nostrums. The national and international upturn has not left him in the old rut.

Decreasing foodstuffs is a national danger due to the great unrest that has reached the agriculturist and his labor.

The "Manufacturers' Record" has taken cognizance of the situation affecting this nation's food supply from the farmer's standpoint, and what is said is equally applicable to conditions in Canada. It is time that public men and the press gave some thought to the farm situation and to what it is leading. We must not continue the habit of blaming everything upon the farmer. He resents it and he knows his strength better now than he did half a dozen years ago. The news of the day is proving this; we find him laying down the law to certain Western corporations instead of approaching with hat in hand asking permission to be allowed to live off the largesse of the manufacturer. This is how the national weekly alluded to puts the matter:

"Statements, so called, newspapers, and men who ought to have been the leaders of thought, have decried the advance in the price of what the farm produces, and yet have constantly sought to drive home the idea that the farmer must increase his product. "Union labor has struggled for many years to reduce the hours of work, and has even preached the lessening of the output per hour and general inefficiency, on the mistaken theory that there was only a certain amount of work to be done in the world and the less one did the more men would be needed. And yet these very men who, having reduced their hours of labor to eight per day, and who are fighting for still further reductions, protest incessantly against the high cost of foodstuffs."

"If the farmers and the farm laborers of the country followed the teachings of union labor for two or three years there would be a food famine which would shake the world and stagger all civilization."

"If the farmers of this country for instance, should decide that the more they cut down the amount produced the greater would be their profit, which is the theory of union labor, it would be but a few years before starvation would threaten the life of the country."

"The farmer, whether he be the owner, the hired laborer or the tenant, must work from daybreak to dark."

"An eight-hour day would bring bankruptcy within a few years to every farming community in the country, unless by the reduction of the output the price was so enormously inflated that only the farmer himself was benefited financially, while the country was bankrupted in the matter of foodstuffs."

"It is not a far stretch of imagination under the teachings of the hour to look forward to a time when farmers and hired laborers on the farm will refuse to work for any greater length of time than union laborers. Should that time ever come, the very existence of this nation would be at stake."

To avoid the threatened catastrophe, the farm must be placed in an equality, or as near as possible, with city conditions. The farmer must have the conveniences and some of the luxuries of city life. If not, the migration to cities will continue. The farmer must be protected by law from public opinion against extortion from organized capital, organized middlemen, and labor. He is reaching the point in organization himself where he can be extremely dangerous.

A Gentle Laxative For the Children

Mother—The surest way of keeping your little ones well and happy; whether it is the new-born babe or the growing child is to keep their bowels regular and their stomach sweet. Nine-tenths of all childhood ailments are the result of clogged bowels and sour stomach. The most necessary and the best medicine for little ones is a gentle laxative—something that will relieve constipation; sweeten the stomach and promote rest and natural sleep. Such a medicine is Baby's Own Tablets. They are a gentle but efficient laxative; are absolutely guaranteed free from opiates or other injurious drugs and may be given to the youngest infant with perfect safety. They banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and give the baby that health and happiness which all children should have. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Quite a goodly number attended the services on Sunday conducted by our pastor, after which the following address was read by Mrs. T. Coulter:

Dear Mr. McMullen,—The spring is coming with its myriad forms of new life, and in keeping with it you have lately tried to inspire new spiritual life into the members of this congregation. We do not mean that you have not always endeavored to lift us to a higher plane, but this has been a supreme effort and we appreciate it because you have not seen the results you would like, do not despair for "God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform," and who can tell of the good seed sown to burst into life at some future day. We believe the proof of love is faithfulness and service, so surely we feel we can claim a large share of your love. Many times we have not been as faithful as we should have been, but have always found you at your post. We would not have you think you cannot claim a large share of our love, and ask you to judge leniently as a parent with an erring child. We think such service as yours should not pass unrequited; so we hope this rag as it keeps your body warm, may find a warmth in your heart for your Gilead friends.

May God's blessing rest on you, and your wife and family and may the "well done, good and faithful servant" be your sentence when the Great Judge calls you to your reward.

Signed on behalf of your friends of this charge.

Thos. Coulter.

A SPRING TONIC AIDS EFFICIENCY

Lay Foundation of Good Health Now by Building Your Blood and Strengthening Your Nerves.

The good old fashion of taking a tonic in the springtime, like most of the customs of our grandparents, is based upon sound common sense and good medical practice. Winter is always a trying time, for those who are not in rugged physical health. Many men, women and children go through the winter on reserve strength they have stored up during the sunny, summer months, and grow increasingly pale and languid as the spring days approach. A tonic for the blood and nerves at this time will do much for such people, by putting color in the cheeks and banishing that tired feeling that worries thousands of people at this season of the year.

It is impossible to be energetic if your blood is thin and weak, or if your nerves are frayed and shattered. You cannot compete with others if you do not get refreshing sleep at night, or if your appetite is poor or you are losing weight. You need a tonic at this time to add to your efficiency now, as well as to save you from suffering later on. And in all the realm of medicine, there is no safer or better tonic than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills tone and enrich the blood, which circulates through every portion of the body, strengthening, jaded nerves and run down organs, and bringing a feeling of new strength and energy to weak, easily tired, despondent men, women and children.

Mrs. J. N. McNeil, Glace Bay, N.S., says: "For years past my home has never been without Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I have good reason to praise them highly. Following an attack of la grippe, I was left in a badly run down condition. I could scarcely go about the house. I was taking medicine, but it was not helping me, and a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I used them for a time with the most beneficial results. My appetite improved, my strength returned and I was soon able to do all my housework. I now use the pills every spring and find them a splendid strength bringing tonic. I have recommended the pills to other friends who have used them with good results."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic, not a stimulant. They build up the blood, and through their use not only the disastrous effects of influenza but also troubles due to poor blood, such as anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion and the generally worn-out feeling that affects so many people, disappear. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
