

The Enormous Demand WHICH HAS BEEN CREATED FOR Kumfort Headache Powders

Since their introduction in 1896 has been built up on Merit and Merit alone. This has caused a number of imitations to appear but they lack the merit of the Genuine. Avoid substitutes, which you know nothing about and which often contain opiates and other dangerous drugs. Demand and insist on KUMFORT Headache Powders and avoid cheap substitutes. Remember there is nothing "just as good," as in that case the article would be good enough to sell on its own Merits.

Kumfort Headache Powders are not an unknown quantity, but are endorsed by physicians who are familiar with the formula.

ST. JOHN BOY ROSE TO BE MILLIONAIRE

Robert D. Evans, Was Killed in Boston Wednesday Last

BOSTON, July 6.—Robert D. Evans, the landlord of President Taft and his next-door neighbor in Beverly and a director in a large number of mining companies, died at the Massachusetts Homoeopathic Hospital tonight of injuries received by being thrown from his horse last Wednesday.

Mr. Evans was 57 years old. He leaves a widow and three children.

BOSTON, July 7.—A phenomenal rise to fortune from comparative poverty to many millions and a commanding position in the financial world is the career of Robert D. Evans, a native of St. John, N. B., who passed away yesterday from the effects of injuries received in a riding accident.

About fifty years ago Mr. Evans came to Boston a poor boy. He left his birthplace at St. John when a lad to seek his fortune. After a varied career he became interested in rubber work and set about to master the details of the industry. With other men who for he was made president of the young Evans became a quick competitor. Within a few years he had organized a firm of his own. When the American Rubber Co. was organized he emerged from the process of organization with a controlling interest. Later he was made president of the United States Rubber Co.

Mr. Evans next turned his attention to mining. He bought up large blocks of the stock in the United States Mining Company. Then followed a bitter contest with a rival faction for the control of the company, ending in Mr. Evans disposing of his interests for an enormous sum. Mr. Evans organized Yuba Consolidated Gold Mines Co., for gold digging in California, and in this property alone he has been realizing an income of nearly a million dollars a year.

Mr. Evans was elected a director of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts in recognition of his experience as an art collector.

MOTHER HAS NO RIGHT TO CHILD, SAYS JUDGE

Even Though She Did Not Agree When Father Gave Son Away

NEW YORK, July 7.—Where a child has been raised by foster parents since infancy and the foster parents love the child and want it to stay with them, they have rights prior to the mother, according to the decision of Judge Morschauer, of Newburgh, in the case of Mrs. Matilda Woolsey, who sought her four-year-old son, Clinton.

The fact that Mrs. Woolsey was not responsible for his surrender to others and did not know until recently that he was living did not move the court in its decision.

When Clinton was born, four years ago, Mrs. Woolsey's mind became temporarily unbalanced. She was sent to a sanitarium and her husband, after giving the boy to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Van Wagner, relatives living near Newburgh, went away with another woman. Mrs. Woolsey recovered later, but was told her boy was dead.

She went to Denver, and there met her husband more than a year ago. He persuaded her to forgive, and they are living together again. It was only a short time ago that she learned where Clinton was. Then she came east after him, but the Van Wagners resisted. They were the only parents the child knew, they said. He had a good home and should not be subjected again to the danger of want.

The judge was sympathetic with Mrs. Woolsey, but he sided with the Van Wagners. When the mother pleaded with him, he said:

"I shall look after the boy now, he was my own. You, Mrs. Woolsey, may visit him at any time, but to his foster parents, I give the right of keeping him as their own." When Mrs. Woolsey, in despair, tried to throw her arms around the child he drew back afraid.

DIGBY, N. S., July 6.—A driving accident with almost fatal results occurred late this afternoon at the foot of town hill, Warwick street. Amos Nichols, a highly respected and prosperous farmer at Deep Brook, was entering town with a load of country produce and was accompanied by his wife and son. In some way his coil became entangled, the trace broke and the highly spirited animal ran away. The carriage was completely demolished and its occupants seriously injured. They have since been removed to their home in Deep Brook. It is thought they will recover.

TWO GOLD STRIKES ON PACIFIC COAST

Within a Day's Travel of Vancouver and Victoria

VICTORIA, B. C., July 7.—By a frank coincidence placer gold discoveries, both of which promise important gold mining camps, have made almost simultaneously within a day's travel, respectively, of British Columbia's two chief cities, Victoria and Vancouver.

Seymour Creek, where J. L. Marriott, an Australian, has made the lucky strike, is indeed but five miles distant from the first provincial city, and already it is staked virtually to its source. Marriott and his seventeen associates have been panning five weeks near Seymour Canyon, the gold running 20 cents to the pan.

The Vancouver discovery is at Port Renfrew, on the south-western coast, just across the divide from Leechtown. The new finds are on Sombrio River, seemingly a continuation of the same deposits which at Leechtown returned $60,000 in the first month's working. It is claimed there is plenty of gold there as coarse as wheat.

FREDERICTON, July 7.—The local government met this afternoon and the members left on this evening's train for St. John.

WIFE OF VICTIM A ST. JOHN WOMAN

John McAsh, Who Was Stabbed to Death, Married Miss Spellman

Stabbed without provocation by John McAsh, a criminal, John McAsh, aged 30, the husband of a St. John woman, lies dead at his home, 5 Garland street, Boston, the victim of a fatal error.

McAsh, from whom a confession was obtained, was sitting at a window in a house opposite that occupied by McAsh, and was in the company of a woman on Monday night. At almost midnight two men came down Garland street and to settle a dispute fought in an alley adjacent to the McAsh house. The female companion of McAsh shouted at the duo "to terminate the quarrel, when one of them challenged McAsh to fight and swore at him. He went to the street, and in the meantime the men vanished. When McAsh reached the door, McAsh, accompanied by a friend, departed from his apartment. Neither had heard the previous interchange of words and were surprised when McAsh, who concealed a knife in his coat sleeve, ran threateningly toward them. According to McAsh he shouted, "You called me that name, did you?" and before the unfortunate man had opportunity to realize the meaning of McAsh's advances, he was stabbed in the heart.

The man, drawn back, screamed out one cry of agony and toppled to the sidewalk, his friend stooping down over him, while other persons who had been seated on neighboring stoops having gone there following the struggle in the alley, rushed up to view this new trouble.

McAsh started away, but was followed by several young men, and police officers appeared and placed him under arrest. An ambulance was secured and McAsh was rushed to the Boston City Hospital, but was dead before it reached the gates of that institution, and his body was taken to the morgue.

McAsh married Miss Nellie Spellman of St. John, thirteen months ago, and her parents and relatives received the news of the tragic death this morning. Mrs. McAsh has been in Boston for two years.

HER VERSION.

Mr. Highrow — It was Michael, I believe, who observed that "women are the salt of man's life." Miss Koen — Quite true. Young men aren't half so fresh after they get married.

KING MAY HEAR SUFFRAGE PLEA

Women's Freedom League Plans Descent on Buckingham Palace Today

LONDON, July 7.—A deputation from the Women's Freedom League presented itself at the entrance to parliament tonight, and renewed the demand for an audience with Premier Asquith to discuss the suffrage question, claiming the right to such an interview under a statute of Charles II.

The premier again declined to receive the deputation, and the league is now determined to seek an audience with the King at Buckingham Palace on Thursday.

The deputation remained at the door of the House of Commons, and the league has decided to send relays of women, every three hours to relieve those in waiting. A deputation will thus remain in front of the House until Thursday morning unless the Premier consents to receive it.

BUSY DOCTOR

Sometimes Overlooks a Point

The physician is such a busy man that he sometimes overlooks a valuable point to which his attention may be called by an intelligent patient who is a thinker.

"About a year ago my attention was called to Grape-Nuts by one of my patients," says a physician of Cincinnati. "At the time my own health was bad and I was pretty well run down. I saw at once that the theories behind Grape-Nuts were sound and that it was a perfect food."

"So I commenced to use Grape-Nuts with cream twice a day and in a short time I began to improve in every way and I am now much stronger, feel better and weigh more than ever before in my life."

"I know that all of this good is due to Grape-Nuts and I am firmly convinced that the claims made for the food are true."

"I have recommended, and still recommend, Grape-Nuts to a great many of my patients with splendid results, and in some cases the improvement of patients on this fine food has been wonderful."

"As a brain and nerve food, in fact as a general food, Grape-Nuts stands alone."

Look in pigs for a copy of the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville." "There's a Reason."

Now read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

GREAT BRITAIN HAS WONDERFUL AIRSHIP

Night Flyer is a Reality and All Her Own

LONDON, July 6.—The Daily News, which has been one of the chief ridiculers of the mysterious night flying airship which alternately scared and amused England, a couple of weeks ago, now prints a story asserting that it was a real and great vessel which, it says, has been used to hold three ordinary airships in a private park, falling behind in the race for aerial supremacy.

The News says the mysterious vessel is housed in a huge shed, which is big enough to hold three ordinary airships. It is a private park, and is used to hold three ordinary airships. It is a private park, and is used to hold three ordinary airships.

The owner and inventor of the mysterious vessel is Dr. M. B. Boyd, who has spent $100,000 in money and eight years' time in experimenting with dirigible balloons. He began the trials of the present vessel on March 9 and made his first voyage on May 9. It was on May 18 that the mysterious flyer was reported from Belfast, and according to Dr. Boyd it was not an imaginary vessel but his airship.

"That night," he says, "we flew across the Irish Channel on a line which is about ninety miles from shore to shore. It was a continuous flight at an average speed of thirty-two miles an hour."

The doctor says he has also made a trip of 300 miles with only one descent. Dr. Boyd describes his dirigible as being oval shaped, divided into three bags, the works being placed between them. It has wings like an aeroplane on each side. There is no suspended car. The ship is only 120 feet long. The motors are of 300 horse-power.

Dr. Boyd has submitted his invention to the War Office, which will send officers to see him fly when certain alterations have been made in the vessel. These include its lengthening to 300 feet and the increasing of the horse-power to 600.

The Daily News describes Dr. Boyd as a man well known in the aeronautical world, especially in France, where he has experimented successfully with aeroplanes. He is the managing director of a firm of motor engineers.

ST. LOUIS, July 7.—Reld Northrup, formerly head of the refrigeration service of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, died suddenly last night at his home. He was a cousin of George Gould and until a few years ago was prominent in Club, social and business circles.

The family refused to discuss his death late last night or explain what caused it. Reld Northrup had been under treatment in various sanitariums returning to his home only recently.

TRY TO "FIRE" THE INSPECTOR

York County Council Meets

SCOTT ACT MATTERS

Inspector Says He Paid $200 Out of His Own Pocket to Get Convictions

FREDERICTON, N. B., July 6.—The county council had an interesting session this afternoon. A by-law was passed placing a license of $3 on foreigners employed at McAdam Junction.

The Scott Act Committee reports that there had been eight convictions since January 1st and amount of fine $12.45. Inspector McParlane was called and stated that during the period he had paid $200 out of his own pocket in order to procure convictions and that in some cases had taken notes in lieu of payment of fines.

Warden Hincley claimed that this was illegal. A motion was made asking for the Inspector's resignation. This was out of order on the ground that McParlane in January had been appointed for the year.

The question of paying the members of the highway board caused considerable discussion. Finally a motion made by Councillor McKean that each be paid $10 was carried by a vote of 15 to 12.

PRESBYTERY ALSO OBJECTS TO THEM

A meeting of the presbytery of St. John was held yesterday in St. Andrew's church. The Rev. L. B. Gibson of St. Stephen was in the chair.

Rev. Dr. Morton, missionary at Trinidad, addressed the meeting on the importance of missionary work and of the generous help which should be given this branch of work. The reverend doctor spoke of his labors in Trinidad, of the obstacles which had to be overcome, and of the eventual success. The idea of the present missionary work was to get as many teachers as possible, with the view that ultimately they would become ministers. The work was advancing ahead of time to uphold it, and a special effort should be made in New Brunswick to help. This could be done, the reverend gentleman said, in a quiet manner by placing the needs before the individual congregations, and they would not stint the work as good and noble.

A motion was made and seconded, thanking Dr. Morton for his address. Rev. Mr. Gibson thanked the doctor.

A report was made by the Rev. Dr. Bell stating that the two candidates for the ministry, Messrs. Powers and Fulton, be received as ministers. But as neither of the gentlemen was present, a motion was made that the power of receiving the candidates be transferred to those courts under whose direction such was called.

Reports of sessions were then read and adopted.

Nomination of an assistant and successor to Dr. Cursey, teacher of Old Testament exegesis at Pine Hill, was next considered. Rev. Dr. Murray of Glassville nominated Rev. Dr. W. H. Smith of Fredericton. The motion was seconded by the Rev. Samuel Ross. The nomination was unanimously carried.

A request from Lorneville was then read, urging the presbytery to secure for them a pastor, as the Rev. C. G. Townsend is about to resign. This matter, on motion, was left in the hands of the home mission committee.

The request of Rev. L. G. Macneil was then brought before the meeting. Mr. Macneil asked to be placed on the retired list. The matter was placed in the hands of the convenor.

A petition was read from Fredericton in which the congregation asked for the continuation of their present code under the new act of the church. After some discussion the meeting voted to send a deputation to the matter at the general assembly.

The report of home missions was read by Rev. Gordon Dickie. It stated that the field was fairly well covered, but there was room for more students. In a few cases a deficit has been shown, but in all but one this deficit was covered. Scott's Mills deficit of $30.45 was ordered paid.

A lively discussion followed. The question of Sunday train running came before the meeting and was discussed. A motion was made whereby the presbytery expressed a strong protest against the service. A copy of the resolution will be sent to Mr. Downie, general superintendent of the Atlantic Division of the C. P. R.

Adjourned.
