On Friday and Saturday last Justice Cawley held court in the town hall to determine the ownership of certain household articles which the plaintiff claimed had been abstracted from an unoccupied dwelling on the Charleston road, where they had been stored.

Mr. W. A. Lewis and Mr. Fowler assisted in the investigation. The evidence as to ownership was in respect to some articles obscure and regarding others very contradictory. The magistrate reserved judgment, pending further enquiry into the whole case.

The Reporter hunting party started on their annual trip to the red deer country this week. This year they will be located in the "Highlands of Ontario," about thirty miles south of Bay Lake, Lake Nipissing, and two hundred miles north of Toronto. The party is composed of B. Loverin, Athens; B. W. Loverin, Greenbush; E. A. Geiger, and J. G. Stacey, Brockville; and Rev. F. Chisholm, Pakenham. The cuisine is in charge of Mr. George Scott, of Athens.

When the idea of removing fences from the front of dwellings was first adopted in Athens, the objection was declared the innovation to be together unsuited to a country village, though admitting that it looked well in towns. Nevertheless, the practice has been followed, and the objection is now as much to be noted in all parts of the village. The latest to pass away were those in front of the high school and residence of Mr. D. Fisher.

There are still many fences in the village, and it is a character that there removal would be a distinct advantage to the properties they enclose, but we refrain from specifying. The movement is progressing, urged on by the fact that the beauty, we believe it will continue until the whole village is converted into a park, the kitchen gardens alone being enclosed.

The anniversary of St. Paul's Presbyterian church on Sabbath last and the concert on Monday evening proved in all respects the most successful yet held. The sermons on Sabbath by Rev. James Grant, M. P., of Prescott, were ably delivered and highly esteemed by the congregation. The choral music, as usual at this church, was of a high character.

The concert on Monday evening was under the direction of Prof. Wells of Brockville, assisted by Mr. J. Walter McCrea, elocutionist and dramatic reader, and Mr. W. S. Jones of Brockville, who acted as accompanist. The programme presented was strictly high-class and thoroughly delighted the large audience assembled. Mr. McCrea spoke at an acoustic disadvantage from standing on nearly a level with his audience, but his rendering of the several difficult selections placed on the program stamped him as an elocutionist of more than ordinary ability. His encores were of a very humorous character and gave general satisfaction. Prof. Wells is not altogether a stranger to Athenians, many possessing a pleasant recollection of his former visits; consequently, his subject was given a warm reception, which his subsequent vocal contributions fully justified. Prof. Wells made a decidedly favorable impression, winning the esteem of all within the sound of his voice, and his name on a program in Athens will always prove a strong attraction. Mr. W. S. Jones is evidently a finished pianist, as he played the many difficult accompaniments in a manner that the audience considered absolutely faultless, and was at all times thoroughly in harmony with the singer. The anthems by the choir were favorably received, and they were rendered Mrs. J. L. Gallagher and Miss Marie Reynolds sang very sweetly in solo and in a duet. Brief, pointed speeches of an encouraging character were delivered by Rev. A. Kennedy and Mr. James Cumming of Lyn.

The pastor, Rev. J. J. Cameron, and his energetic congregation are to be congratulated upon the marked success of their services commemorating the annual anniversary of their church.

THE POST-OFFICE.

Editor Report.

DEAR SIR.—Along with the change of administration at Ottawa, have come a number of changes in several local offices which are within the legitimate limits of the Government patronage. And one of the greatest features of this matter is the resignation and good nature made by Mr. Sheleton Bullis, who has relieved of his official duties. We may naturally suppose this action based on the supposition that revolution is sure to succeed revolution, and as a compliment in the spirit in which it will come in his own order. The great Conservative party have certainly paid themselves, as well as the people of the Dominion on both sides of the political line, a high compliment in the spirit in which they have accepted these changes, so free from rancor or bitterness. We repeat, it is a diploma for the highest degree of civilization.

There is, however, a change of post-masters in the village of Athens in contemplation. And in the country the last two or three days we have heard in this connection very favorable mention made for Mr. Sheleton Bullis, a reliable, responsible, and in every respect a suitable person to take charge of that office. Mr. Bullis was long a successful farmer, before going to Athens, where he has three hundred or three hundred and fifty acres in the country receiving mail matter from this office, and we feel certain, from our own knowledge, that no more judicious person could be found to receive approval from the letter-receiving committee in the country.

When petitions are circulated in matters of this kind, and the people are not consulted, there is more than one applicant in the field, they are not bound to the petition, but are free to make a choice. We know that petitions are not to be made, but are free to make a choice. We know that petitions are not to be made, but are free to make a choice. We know that petitions are not to be made, but are free to make a choice.

Mr. Chas. Barber leaves Athens shortly for Mishawaka, Indiana, where he will spend the winter with his son, Dr. A. E. Barber.

We learn, with regret, that Miss Mabel Fowler is seriously ill at the home of her aunt in Peterboro. Mrs. Fowler left last Wednesday to attend to her bed.

Rev. S. B. Burns, the popular young pastor of the Presbyterian church at Westport, has received a unanimous call from the church at Stirling.

James Crapp of Delta sentenced to a term in the Central Prison by Judge McDonald for indecent assault, received the first instalment of his thirty lashes on Friday last.

A change of venue has been granted in the township of Bastard vs. John Brown case. The hearing will take place at Brockville, likely at the fall sittings.

Dr. C. M. B. Cornell, of Brockville, is in Athens today, and in company with Dr. S. Cornell is treating several patients at his hospital in the residence of Mr. George Nash.

Mrs. Richardson, wife of Mr. Wm. Richardson, counties clerk, died at her home in Brockville on Thursday last. Deceased was a daughter of Mr. John Bracken of the township of Leeds, and was born and lived for many years near Seeley's Bay.

The prices paid in Athens for produce, either in cash or trade, will be found to compare very favorably with the market elsewhere. It is not to be wondered at, as the market is so large and the business centres. It has recently cost several farmers considerable to discover this fact, and we state it now for the benefit of our readers.

Rev. W. W. Gies delivered a very earnest and eloquent sermon to a large congregation in the Methodist church on Sabbath evening last. The sermon was delivered in a most impressive manner, and the absence of any similes and apt illustrations served to help all to a proper conception of the truths he declared.

Mr. Harry Johnson, for many years a popular actor in the Armistead House and Cedar Park, has accepted a situation in the Bradley House, Prescott. Cedar Park was never more popular than when Mr. Johnson's management, and he will no doubt make many friends in his new location.

The list of missionaries leaving England this autumn in connection with the Anglican church missionary society, is as follows:—Rev. J. H. G. Stacey, Brockville; Rev. J. H. G. Stacey, Brockville; Rev. J. H. G. Stacey, Brockville.

Why Because

Do people buy Hood's Sarsaparilla in preference to any other, in fact almost to the exclusion of all others?

They know from actual use that Hood's is the best, i. e., it cures when others fail. The medicinal properties of Hood's Sarsaparilla is still made under the personal supervision of the educated pharmacist who originated it.

The question of liver health is justly considered in favor of Hood's as the question of comparative value.

Another thing: Every advertisement of Hood's Sarsaparilla is true, is honest.
