"NONPAREIL"
Billiard Hall!
SHARKEY'S BUILDING,
OPP. OFFICERS' BARRACKS, QUEEN ST., FREDERICTON, N. B.
T. E. FOSTER, Proprietor THIS HALL has been newly fitted up and handsomely furnished, and for room, light, ventilation and neatness, compares most favorably with any Billiard Hall in the Dominion. The Billiard and Pool Tables are pronounced by players to be superior to any now in use in this Province.
They are the BRILLIANT NOVELTY, size 44 x 9 feet.
The main object in the construction of the Billiard Novelty, and the one most noticeable, is that it embodies all the more salient or most important features that have rendered popular all the other styles of tables of the J. M. Brunswick & Balke Co.'s make. The Billiard Novelty has all the advantages and good points, including the respective features claimed by the "Nonpareil" and "Exposition," "Novelty," "Acme" and "Amaranth" Tables. The Billiard Novelty is a happy combination of all those celebrated tables, and has rapidly taken the foremost place in the estimation of all players of Billiard and Pool Tables. The Novelty is finished and handsomely inlaid in many different colors, made up from California Laurel, East Asia, French Walnut, Bird's Eye Maple, Mahogany, Rose Wood, Zebra Wood and Ebony, and is supplied with the finest of Vermont slate bed, Simons cloth, and a first-class outfit of everything necessary.
A call is respectfully solicited from lovers of the game.
Boys under sixteen not allowed in the Hall.
Temperance drinks of all kinds, Cigars, etc.

GERMAN SHOOTING FESTIVAL.
Every Part of the Empire Represented at the Schutzenfest in Leipzig.
LONDON, July 24.—The great German shooting festival which has just been concluded at Leipzig is admitted on all sides to have been the most imposing event of the kind in modern times. All the arrangements were on a colossal scale, far exceeding those of any previous Schutzenfest and even dwarfing the great prize meeting for British riflemen now in progress at Wimbledon. The number of visitors almost equalled the permanent population of Leipzig, being estimated at 100,000, and the appearance of the ancient and picturesque Saxon city rivalled that seen at its famous fairs when every street and court yard is turned into a bazaar.
The marksmen, assembled from every portion of the German Empire, and, including many Austrian sharpshooters, numbered no less than 10,000, and an unexcelled degree of proficiency was shown in the various contests. One of the most striking features of the festival was a gorgeous procession in which the various epochs of German military history were shown with great accuracy of costume and scenic details in the several tableaux.
On the last day of the meeting there was a great banquet, in which 3,000 guests participated. There was a great number of patriotic toasts, but the one which provoked the most enthusiasm was "To the Germans in Austria, who will sooner or later stand shoulder to shoulder with their brethren in the Fatherland against Schavonic aggression." This sentiment was frantically applauded, and round after round of cheers were given for the foreshadowed Austro-Germanic alliance.

Slave Days in Maine.
In a communication to the Portland Transcript, Mr. S. P. Mayberry of Cape Elizabeth says, speaking of slavery in Maine in the latter part of the last century, that it was of the milder type. He says further: "The slaves had nearly the same privileges that the hired man had. The Cushings, Simontons and Jordans of this town owned slaves. When their masters were absent, a capable one was left in charge, and, under his direction, the outside work carried on. Ezekiel Cushing had a slave drowned while out a fishing. My ancestor, William Mayberry, had a man and wife, who had several children, and roamed the woods, gunning and fishing. The males slave's name was Lannon; he drove teams to Falmouth with ship lumber, and the produce of the farm, which he disposed of at his own pleasure. In the revolutionary war, he was servant of Capt. Richard Mayberry. In this state only the more tortured held slaves, while in Massachusetts proper those that could make a dollar either by work or sale. In my collection of papers, I have the affidavit of one in Massachusetts being whipped so severely that it died."

Old Time Railroad.
Several of the early settlers along the the Mohawk valley, says the Albany Journal, are still living, and a number occupy homesteads in which their families and their children's families have been proper those that could make a dollar
Massachusetts being whipped so severely

An Episcopal Palace.
(Hamilton Spectator.)
Eight thousand dollars have already been subscribed outside of Hamilton towards the erection of an episcopal residence for Bishop Carberry, and it is expected that five or six thousand dollars more will be subscribed in Hamilton. The site has not yet been selected. It will be either near St. Mary's cathedral or on the corner of Main street and East avenue, on the square now occupied by St. Patrick's church. Bishop Carberry will not allow the work to be commenced until money sufficient to carry it to completion is in the bank, so that it will be at least a year before the building is begun.
The bishops intends having a library for the clergy of the diocese attached to the building.

TWO BIG EATERS.
Druggist Stevenson and his German Friend Surprise Mr. Dooner.

Two well-dressed, gentlemanly-looking men entered Dooner's hotel yesterday and said they would like some dinner.
One of the men was about five feet six inches in height, and weighed probably 150 pounds. He said that his name was Stevenson and that he was a druggist, doing business at Bridgeport, Conn. The other man was evidently a German. He was a tall, healthy-looking fellow, slightly inclined to adiposity, but by no means what could be called a fat man.

"I wish," said Mr. Stevenson to Mr.
Dooner, "that you would see personally about the serving of our meal. We had a hearty breakfast six hours ago, but are very hungry now. Send me," he continued very calmly, "five pounds of cold roast beef, rare; let it be all solid meat, without bone or fat. Give me a double order of peas, a double order of corn, a double order of potatoes, and a double order of macaroni."

"All right said Mr. Dooner, smilingly, who thought his guest was joking; "but will you not have something to wash that meal down with?"

"Yes," replied the Bridgeport druggist, "it would be well. Let me have two bottles of Bass's ale, and while you are giving the order send me another double order of whatever vegetables there are in the house."

Mr. Stevenson sank back in his chair, and his friend spoke. "Send me," said the German gentleman, "two large sirloin steaks and duplicate the vegetables ordered by my friend. Instead of Bass's ale give me Young's."

"Are you really serious?" asked the hotel proprietor.
"Never was more serious in my life," said Mr. Stevenson. "Please hurry up the order."

Mr. Dooner went to the kitchen and nearly took the chief's breath away when he told what was wanted. Both orders were promptly supplied, however, and in thirty-five minutes after being placed on the table there was not a vestige left to tell the tale. Mr. Stevenson very cheerfully paid seventy-five cents a pound for his rare beef, which had to be very carefully cut from four joints, and regular rates for the rest of his meal and that of his friend. This was at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. At 7 in the evening the extraordinary eaters returned and devoured a hearty supper. "When turkeys are in season," said Mr. Stevenson, "I frequently eat a fifteen-pound gobbler at one meal."

A FLANK MOVEMENT.
New Phase in the War Between Manitoba and Canadian Pacific.
St. Paul, Minn., July 24, 1884.—The war between the Manitoba road, and the Canadian Pacific has taken a new phase in the establishment of a steamboat line from the international border to Winnipeg, to connect with the Manitoba road.
The two roads have been close friends, and were built by the same men, but changes in the past year have devolved hostility. The Canadian Pacific, by its line of steamers connecting with the eastern terminus at Port Arthur, has practically stripped the Manitoba of its heretofore enormous passenger traffic in the transportation of Canadian and European emigrants to Manitoba. The exertions of the Canadian Pacific and the inability of the two roads to harmonize, has produced great indignation among Winnipeg merchants, and led to the demand for a connecting line of steamers.
The first boat of the new line left St. Vincent on the border, bound for Winnipeg, on Tuesday night. She carried a fair load, and the projectors are sanguine of success in the new movement.

Eight Miles of Frogs.
(San Jose (Cal.) Herald.) Tom Barry yesterday morning took a ride to Almaden, and when just past the Sycamore Grove Exchange he saw something that made his eyes open in wonder-ment, and for a long time he could not credit his senses, for the road was perfectly lined with frogs, averaging the size of a large cherry. He supposed that they would only last a little while, but for eight miles he saw nothing but frogs, and to make sure he was not dreaming, got out of his wagon, caught a whole box full and brought them to town to prove the credibility of his story. He says that the 2 are millions upon millions of them, and where they all came from no one can tell.

An International Camp.
(Buffalo Telegraph.)
About 100 acres of land in the vicinity of Niagara Falls have been secured by an association of Methodist ministers and laymen of both sides of the border, upon which to establish an international camp ground. It fronts on the river, is well wooded with chestnut, oak, maple, and evergreen trees, and the Michigan Central takes passengers directly to the grounds.
It is intended to hold the first annual camp-meeting in August.
