THE CATTLE INDUSTRY

The very fine display of cattle which was on view at the recent exhibition of the M. A. E. A. serves to call attention to some remarks of Dr. C. C. James, of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, made at the Ontario Veterinary College a few days ago, when he drew attention to a very real evil that exists by reason of the grave cattle shortage that prevails in this country at the present time.

The Advocate has on more than one occasion during the last two or three years drawn attention to this matter, and has suggested that some steps be taken to stimulate the cattle breeding industry. What the shortage means must be very apparent to the average householder when it is pointed out that although the past summer has been one of the best for pasturage that the province has known for many years, the price of meat and dairy products has been as high or higher than it was in the same period of 1914. The European war is no explanation for the fact. The plain truth is that there are not nearly enough cattle, and particularly dairy cattle, in this country, and the time is coming when the Government must take some decided steps to remedy the defect, even if it has to go so far as to prohibit the slaughter of female cattle altogether. The Provincial Government takes very good care to prohibit the slaughter of female moose and caribou in order that the supply of big game may be kept up; how much more necessary is it that the slaughter of cows and heifers should be stopped?

Dr. James is able to speak with more authority than most men, and his statement that Canada cannot prosper on wheat alone, is worth considering. The population is increasing among meat eating nations more rapidly than cattle, and notwithstanding all that vegetarians claim, few people really believe that a purely vegetable diet makes for a stronger humanity. British soldiers in the trenches to-day are getting about three times the quantity of flesh meat that most of them usually receive at home; and military experience shows that the soldier, in order that he may be fitted to endure the stress and hardships of warfare, must have a reasonable and sustaining diet of meat. Those who feel that after the care for the health and increase in humanity is provided for, next should come similar measures for the upkeep of the cattle supply, and we got hold of the right idea.

Not long ago, a prominent man in the cattle industry, made the remark that if things were allowed to go on as they are doing at present, beef steak would soon be 50 cents a pound, and hocks $10 a pair. There is only one thing to prevent this, increased production.

The Broken Coin Drew Large House

At the Happy Hour Last Night—Gives Promise of Increasing In Interest

There was an unusually large crowd of people at the Happy Hour last night to see "The Broken Coin," the new serial just started. This new photoplay has been well advertised and judging from the opening chapters it shows every prospect of increasing in interest as each week's installment is shown. Miss Grace Cunard, the leading lady, while not possessed with rare beauty, shows that she has wonderful ability, and her clever acting, in conjunction with Francis Ford, the leading man, will be followed along throughout the entire play by an anxious and interested audience. The first two reels shown last night just let out enough of the plot to catch your interest and make you wish for more, and those, if any, who failed to see it last night, should not miss it to-night.

Miss Mamie Daughney returned Monday night from a visit to Fredrickton.

Landing at Enos Effected by Allies

The Capture of Enos and Strumitza Will Give British and French Two Towns of Strategic Importance

London, Oct. 18.—The reports that the Allies have occupied Strumitza and landed at Enos, which was recently transferred from Turkish to Bulgarian rule, have caused a more optimistic feeling throughout the allied countries.

As to the progress of the Near Eastern campaign, it is known from both Serbian and German accounts that Field Marshal Von Mackensen's army is meeting with greater resistance than was expected, and, although it is probable that the Serbians eventually must fall back on stronger strategic positions in the north, the fact that the Allies are bringing heavy forces against the Bulgarians, and so placing them that the Bulgarians will be compelled to divide their armies, gives hope here that the Germans may be balked in their latest attempt to reach the sea and bring assistance to the Turks.

All along the line the Serbians and their Montenegrin neighbors, who are also being attacked, are offering very stubborn resistance to the both Austro-Germans and Bulgarians and while they have given up a number of towns and positions they have not yet reached the line on which they expect to make their stand.

The Bulgarians, so far as can be learned, have made progress only in the Zlatokopska Valley, near the river Morava, north of the town of Vranja, where they blew up a bridge.

There is no confirmation, however, of the report that they cut the railway in this district, the bridge which they destroyed being a small wooden one near the railway. The Bulgarian force which penetrated the valley is not a large one.

On the other hand, it is pointed out, the capture of Strumitza is of real strategic value, as its occupation permits the defense of the southern end of the railway and compels the Bulgarians to keep a force there.

Enos, too, is of value, although not a good landing place, its occupation threatens Dedegatch, which has a great harbor and is fortified and mined. The civilian population has already left Dedegatch, which is entirely in the hands of the military, under German officers.

The Italians, according to the latest reports, will not send a contingent to the Balkans, but cooperation of their navy in the Aegean, where an allied fleet has already gathered, is looked for.

The point at which the Russians will strike has not yet been disclosed. The expectation is, however, that the Allies have a surprise for the Central Powers, and that steps are being taken to bring Turkey to her knees before assistance can reach her.

It is undoubtedly critical, and may at any moment turn to a catastrophe as great for the Allies as for Serbia.

"The courage and tenacity of the Serbians, but it cannot accomplish miracles, holding as she does a front of nearly 1,000 kilometers against an enemy prepared to make any sacrifice in order to join hands with his Bulgarian ally and open a route to Constantinople.

"Once this object is achieved, the Turkish army will be re-supplied with ammunition, and the whole enterprise jeopardized by Germany."

London, Oct. 16.—Obstinate fighting between Bulgarians and Serbians continued today in the vicinity of the Greek frontier, where the former made an attack on Wednesday, according to a despatch from Nish.

The message said the Serbians had recaptured the Pisana and Bonkva positions, which the Bulgarians took Tuesday.

An Athens despatch states that fifty thousand Bulgarians attacked the Serbians on October 14, in the Valadovo region, close to the Greek frontier, and that desperate fighting is now proceeding.

London, Oct. 16.—A despatch from Nish to the London Daily Telegraph says: "It is idle to deny the seriousness of the situation created by the Austro-German offensive on the Danube."

Many Bulgars Deserting Army
Army Officers with Leaving Toward Russia are Also Being Retired

Milan, (via Paris) Oct. 16.—The Bulgarian Government has been obliged to resort to stern measures of repression as the result of unrest among the people, says a despatch to the Secolo from Sofia, by way of Bucharest. Many officers of pro-Russian sentiments have been retired from the army, and it is asserted that reprisals are beginning against subjects of the quadruple entente nations.

General Villa Reported Killed
Mexican Leader Said to Have Been Shot by Disaffected Troops

El Paso, Oct. 16.—A report that General Francisco Villa, leader of the northern faction in Mexico has been killed was brought to El Paso early today by a Mexican who just arrived from Casas Grandes.

According to the story Villa was shot in a fight, when disaffected broke out in the Villa army last yesterday. Another report brought by an American passenger said that on Friday Villa was being tried by a court martial and that the trial was still in progress when he left Casas Grandes.

French Hold Gains Made in Lorraine

Violent Attacks by the German Foe Repulsed with Heavy Loss to Enemy

Paris, Oct. 16.—French forces have repulsed several counter attacks in the Lorraine district against the trenches occupied by them yesterday, according to the official statement issued by the French War Office today. The text of the communication follows:

"We repulsed last night in Lorraine several counter attacks against the trenches which we occupied yesterday to the north of Reillon. In the course of the engagement we took 100 prisoners."

"In the Vosges the enemy undertook shortly after midnight an attack in force between the Linde and the Schatzmannelle. This was preceded by a severe bombardment, and accompanied by a curtain of fire directed against our second lines and communicating trenches. This attack was completely repulsed by us."

"There has been nothing to report from the remainder of the front since the issuing of the communication of last night."

Str Up German Troops
Paris, Oct. 16.—A divisional order marked "strictly secret," addressed to German officers and signed "Ditfurth" has been issued recently that the infantry limits its action simply to defensive firing, but does little, so as not to provoke a reply from the enemy. When the latter bombards the German positions, the infantry calls for artillery support and maintains great satisfaction when the enemy attack ceases.

Such conduct is especially condemned as tending to kill the spirit of offensive among the German troops, and to confuse the enemy of his superiority. This comparative inactivity has certainly been put to profit in strengthening the positions, but this applies also to the enemy.

Urged to Greater Effort
All efforts should be made with a view to being able to take an early offensive, which will be all the more difficult the longer it is delayed, inasmuch as the enemy would be found more strongly entrenched and morally stronger. Commanders of brigades and regiments are urged to make a great effort to keep up offensive activity to the highest pitch all along the front. Instead of being subject to the will of the enemy, "we must impose our will upon him," and the troops must utilize to the full, day and night, all their resources, and all their energy in order to destroy the enemy.

The artillery can only intervene in proportion to the quantity of munitions at its disposal, and the infantry will very often have to work alone.

Kitchener Needs Yet More Men
New York, Oct. 16.—A cable to the New York Times from London, dated Saturday, says: "The Birmingham Post has received the following from Lord Kitchener to the people of Birmingham, with reference to the recruiting campaign in that city: 'I need more men and still more. If the armies now in the field and armies which will in their turn be sent abroad, are to be kept at the perils of the front, I appeal earnestly to all men who are able-bodied, and can be spared to respond to the call, unless they are satisfied to allow the many lives given by their gallant fellowmen to have been given in vain. I can only do my duty by the country if you do yours by me. Men, we must have more men at once.'"

ENGLAND DECLARES WAR ON BULGARIA
London, Oct. 16.—Great Britain has declared war on Bulgaria. The British Foreign Office announces that in view of the fact that Bulgaria has announced she is at war with Serbia, and is an ally of the Central Powers, His Majesty's government has informed the Bulgarian government, through the Swedish minister at London, who is in charge of Bulgarian interests, that a state of war exists between Great Britain and Bulgaria, as from 10 p. m.
