"It Gave Me New Lease On Life"

That is What Mrs. Robertson Says After Tanlac Freed Her of Nervous Dyspepsia

"I feel like I have a new lease on life since taking Tanlac, and I'll never stop praising it for what it has done for me," recently said Mrs. C. A. Robertson of 189 Agricola street, Halifax, N. S.

"I had no appetite whatever," said Mrs. Robertson, "and I was in such a nervous run down condition that I could hardly drag myself about the house. My digestion was so poor what little I did manage to eat caused me to suffer with indigestion and bloating and simply made me feel miserable. I had violent headaches and such dizzy spells that at times I just had to sit down or catch hold of something to keep from falling. I was so nervous that the least little noise would upset me, and I couldn't even stand the children playing about the house. I was so restless I could hardly sleep and many nights heard the clock strike every hour, and became so frantic that I just had to get up and walk the floor. Although I tried everything I heard of, nothing did me any good and my condition was becoming almost unbearable.

"Finally I heard so much about Tanlac that I decided to give it a trial, and the way the medicine fixed me up was nothing less than wonderful. I have only taken four bottles now and am enjoying as good health as I ever did in my life. My appetite is just splendid and I can eat anything and everything without being bothered with indigestion. I never have headaches or dizzy spells, my nerves are so calm I can stand any amount of noise and at night's I sleep like a child. Tanlac has built me up until I have gained twelve pounds in weight and now weigh a hundred and eighteen pounds. I believe Tanlac is the best medicine ever made for troubles like I had, and I'm glad of a chance to recommend it."

Tanlac is sold in Newcastle by E. J. Morris, in Redbank by Wm M. Sullivan and in Doaktown by O. Hildebrand.

Is It Wise to Curtail The Lumber Cut

Some reports say that the lumber cut in this province this winter will be very much below the average of recent years. Uncertainty clouds the lumber market at present, and there are by all accounts, large stocks held in the province. Nevertheless the lumber operators who have done very well in recent years should not be unduly alarmed for the future. In the general interest they might carry on, for curtailment of production in any line at this time must cause hardship, and accentuate the spirit of unrest. The days of big profits on lumber may be over, but if the lumber market should not improve, logs can doubtless be sold at a reasonable profit as pulpwood. And the market for lumber will not remain stagnant very long. The people are clamoring for houses; building operations must be undertaken on a large scale. And the increase in railway rates has barred Pacific lumber from the States east of the Mississippi River. That is a big fact. New Brunswick lumber men will do well to consider it—Transcript.

Clothiers Claim Trade Not Dead

There is no cause for the alarm which has been sounded by certain firms interested in the manufacture of clothing, and clothing manufacturers who can "hand over the goods" are enjoying fair business with good prospects for next spring, according to A. A. Sandeman, managing director of the firm of E. A. Small Company Ltd., the manufacturers of Fit-Reform Clothing, who discussed the situation with The Star this morning.

Mr. Sandeman pointed out that, during the period between the selling seasons, manufacturing is naturally not in full swing. At the present time, he stated, the manufacturers of the poorer quality clothes are having a slack time because "the public demands the higher quality of clothing." The reason for the slowness of the market for clothing this fall had been the lateness of the appearance of the cold weather. Now that this is beginning to put in an appearance he assured The Star, the trade is becoming brisk again.

Even with the advance of sales once more and the gradual return of the trade to normal winter and fall conditions, Mr. Sandeman acknowledged that trade is not quite on such a good footing as it has been in the past, at this season. There has been a very slight reduction in the price of woollens from the English and Scotch factories, he stated, but this has not been anything like as much as some wholesalers and importers would have us believe. In his opinion, this drop had not been more than about 5 per cent.

"Of course," he added, "some manufacturers have cut their prices, including our own firm, but ultimately either wages will have to come down or the rate and volume of production must increase.

"At the present moment I cannot do better than quote the statements of a well-known politician, who said, in talking of manufacturing, that there was not enough rope produced in England to hang all the pessimists who exist during a period of depression."

Another supporter of the theory that there is no reason to be alarmed at the existing situation in the clothing trade and that there is fair weather ahead for the trade, was Mr. Lanigan, of the Campbell Manufacturing Company.

Mr. Lanigan stated that he had noted with surprise the statement that "except for small manufacturers employing ten to twelve men, with the exception of two factories, clothing men are doing no business." This is not true, he claimed. His opinion was that trade was merely passing through a natural and to be expected, period of depression from which it would recover.

Oil Not A Poor Man's Game

CANADA has struck oil. It is also true, that it is in the Far North, in the Mackenzie River district, that the Imperial Oil Company has been able to bring in a well of the first magnitude. It is believed by the company's geologists that one of the world's great oil fields has been discovered; though the distance from civilization, the difficulties of transportation and the extreme cold in that part of the world make the problems surrounding the "find" both difficult and complex. Fort Norman, on the Mackenzie River, where the drillers have succeeded in locating the first well, is itself not far south of the Arctic circle, and well upward of a thousand miles north of Edmonton.

The modern method of transporting oil from remote fields is by pipe lines; it would thus be necessary to demonstrate first of all that a sufficient quantity of oil exists to justify the laying of such a line which undertaking would of itself be enormously expensive, running into a great many millions of dollars. And then again, could a pipe line be operated during the months of extreme cold? As for bringing the oil out by water, the Mackenzie and other rivers of this Northland are only open for navigation a few months each year. With these facts in mind it must be realized that to render the oil from the Arctic regions commercially accessible will not only prove enormously expensive, but the problem is one that will require a great deal of study and be handled with extreme care.

It would be well for those asked to put money into oil ventures in the Far North to consider all these things before parting with their dollars; for, of course, the find of the Imperial Oil Company is going to stimulate the organization of companies throughout the country, and it is safe to predict that within a few months an incredible number of such wells will be out selling stock. Indications all point to important oil discoveries over a very large field in the Mackenzie Basin, but getting it out to those who can use it at a price where it can compete with other fields is quite another matter. In any event it is not going to be a poor man's game.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep.
