Chief Villain at Large.

The only regret that will be generally entertained about the Liberator prosecution is that the chief offender has so far escaped the punishment he deserves. It is right and proper to mete out punishment to Mylius, the London agent of the Liberator, for he took part in circulating the numbers containing a report of the alleged marriage in Malta between the King and an Admiral's daughter. Mylius is but a subordinate in the matter. The chief offender is James, the American lawyer, who has long been utilizing his wealth and talent to circulate the most infamous lies about both King George, his father, King Edward, and his grandfather, Prince Albert. The gravamen of the offense is that it is but one offense in a sustained campaign, and that the untruth of the Malta marriage charge having been authoritatively contradicted through press and pulp, yet in face of this flat contradiction, and in spite of its falsehood, it was circulated again by the notorious James in his organ the Liberator. James had a secure asylum in Paris, where the English police could not arrest him. Mylius, however, the agent for the circulation of the journal in England was arrested and the prosecution commenced, and the falsehood of the charge against the King proved by conclusive evidence in court. The marriage register of Malta was produced. The Admiral in command at Malta, his sons and daughter gave evidence which proved that the slander was absolutely without truth.

Every avenue of investigation was thrown open, and the only course that was not pursued was the calling of the King himself. His Majesty was anxious to give evidence himself, but the law officers of the Crown advised him that the course he wished to pursue was unconstitutional. English authorities do not countenance the presence of a king in Courts of Justice. They are jealous of the honour of the administration of justice and fear that the impartiality of courts might be impugned by the bodily presence, spoken word, or expressed wish of a king. His Majesty, therefore, was precluded from offering testimony and no testimony from the King was offered in the trial. But after the jury had found the prisoner guilty of a false and malicious slander and the Chief Justice had sentenced him, the Attorney General did the best that could be done under the circumstances, by reading in court a letter from the King categorically denying the Malta story and specifically stating that the only marriage ceremony he had been through was that he went through in his marriage with Queen Mary.

At the Theatre.

In the presentation of "The Runaways" in the T. A. Hall last night the large audience present was given a play which was heartily enjoyed. It was one of those comic plays which are both interesting and amusing, and the Harkness company, to their best advantage in staging it. The members of the troupe were in good form, and Messrs. Harry English, Maurice Franklin, H. Prince, Paul Webster, F. LaDuke and W. B. Wood all gave fine renditions of their respective roles. The ladies of the combine also did excellently, Miss Oser being specially effective in her portrayal of the runaway daughter, Misses Hastings, Mohr and Palmer gave acceptable representations of the characters assigned them. The reputation of the performance to-night should draw a crowded house.

Winard's Linctum Cures Colds, Etc.

Yesterday's Contest.

In the contest for the Greiner Cup, which took place yesterday, the finish between the Reds and Whites resulted in a score of 14 for the former and 11 for the latter. The Whites are now 3 points ahead in the contest and must play off with the Greens for the final result. The Whites and Greens in the Inter-Division, contested for the Buchanan Cup, a large number playing on both sides. The total score of the Whites was 106 and that of the Greens 79. The Whites therefore winning by 27 points. The Reds and Blues are playing to-day and the winners play off with the Whites, this deciding which division wins the trophy. The trophy is a valuable one and much interest is being taken in the contest.

McMurdo's Store News

THURSDAY, Feb. 2, 1911.

Cream of Lites is in great demand these days, a fact about which there need be no surprise, seeing that it has proven itself during the last few winters the most potent preparation on the local market to remove chaps, roughness, spraying, and soreness from the hands, face and lips. Naturally, therefore, during a winter when there is an exceptional number of people troubled with the above annoying conditions, those who have in the past used it are buying it, and telling their friends about it. If your hands or face need an emollient, healing cream, try a bottle. 25c. at both stores.

Another Octogenarian.

Another of our worthy citizens has reached the octogenarian limit, for on Sunday last the much respected and deservedly esteemed Captain John Green reached the 80th milestone of his life. Though not a native, Captain Green has been for over half a century connected with the trade and commerce of Newfoundland, at first as captain then master and owner of the good brig "Saxon," he was a trusted shipmaster, a man of unbounded integrity, quick in thought and action. "Straight as a whip" though "hard as nails," a man with whom to do business was always a delight and pleasure, in short a pattern worthy to follow. He was the founder of the Newfoundland Screw Steam Tug Company—of which for many years he was manager—and to whose ability and energy was due in a very great measure, the success of the Coy. In all his doings ostentation finds no footing. We heartily congratulate Captain John and hope that yet many years of rest and health may be his to enjoy in the Evening of Life.

Almost Choked to Death

Mr. Rogers, of Gault Bros., who has been in town the past month taking orders for his firm at Montreal, came near passing in his checks last night. He was spending an hour at the house of a friend, and when in the act of eating some home-made candy a piece slipped down his throat and stuck half way. Those present saw his struggles and noticed that he was turning black in the face. They struck him on the back, and not succeeding in relieving him, poured a glass of water into his throat. This melted the candy sufficiently to allow of its slipping down. He was completely exhausted and would not hold out half a minute longer.

Personal Notes.

Mrs. E. R. Bowring and Mrs. (Dr.) Rendell, who had been visiting England and the United States, returned here by the Florizel.

Mr. Dougald Munn, of Hr. Grace, left here yesterday by the schr. Nelie for Lunenburg and will go the round trip in the ship on a holiday.

Regulus-Golden Arow Fund.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Since your last acknowledgment I have received the following additional amounts towards the Regulus-Golden Arow Fund, viz:

Peter Neville, sale of agricultural exhibits ..... $2.00
Rd. Neville, do do ..... 80
Alvin Williams, do do ..... 4.24
Wm. Halfyard, do do ..... 40
H. Hiscok, do do ..... 60
Henry R. Cook, do do ..... 2.05

These amounts closes a collection that has been most liberally subscribed to by all classes of the community both in St. John's and some of the outports. The magnificent contribution of our business people of St. John's is but another instance of their well known charity and generosity in all cases that commend themselves to their consideration. The splendid response from the officers and crews of the different steamships and of the different agricultural exhibitors, these with a generous response from many of the outports, notably Placentia, Bell Island, Botwood, Petty Harbour, and Maddox Cove, St. Vincent, Peter's River, Flat Islands, Burin, Trinity, Milltown, Hr. Grace and many others, together with a liberal donation from H. M. Government, made up a grand total of $7159.64. This amount is now in the Government Savings Bank at the disposal of the Committee appointed to disburse the same, viz:—Canon Dunfield, Chairman; Mons. Roche, Rev. J. K. Curtis, Father McNamara and Mr. A. A. Parsons, Secretary; some temporary relief has been afforded, and the Committee in a few days will have perfected a scheme for such permanent distribution of these funds as the circumstances of each individual case will warrant.

The Premier, Sir Edward Morris, Mr. M. J. Kennedy and myself, desire to thank the press for their many courtesies and great assistance, in bringing this work to such a gratifying issue; I beg, to remain,

Yours faithfully,

JOHN R. BENNETT,

Died of Typhus.

James Armstrong, who was ill of typhus fever at Witless Bay, died of the disease at 12.30 p.m. Tuesday and was buried that afternoon. Dr. Brehm, who went out there Tuesday, returned yesterday and says that Armstrong had no connection with the people afflicted with the disease in St. John's, and it is not definitely known how the man contracted the malady. The house in which he lived for years alone was in a very insanitary state and its condition might have bred the disease there. He was 60 years of age, and his house as well as that of Cahill's, his brother-in-law, where he died, is being disinfected and fumigated to-day, all the necessaries to do this having been sent forward this morning. Rev. Dean Roach administered the last Sacraments to the man before he died. Four persons now reside in Cahill's house and the hope is entertained that none of these will develop the disease. Amongst the number is Mrs. Johnson, who went forward to nurse Armstrong. Cahill's and Armstrong's houses are quarantined and the policeman of the place is guarding them to see that none of the people enter them. Mrs. Woodine, of Cudihy Street, is very ill at the Hospital, but all the other patients, including Nurse Ellis, are doing well.

Wild Teachers' Association.

ST. JOHN'S BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the N.T.A. St. John's Branch, was held in the Synod Hall yesterday at 4.30 p.m., and was well attended. The Secretary and the Treasurer presented their reports showing good results in connection with the lectures and discussions of the year on training, pensions, etc., the constitution of the branches distributed, the N. T. A. Journal support and the manual training exhibit. Votes of thanks were extended the retiring officers for their efforts. Mr. R. R. Wood conducted the election of officers with very great credit to the order, and the result was as follows: President, Mr. R. R. Wood; Secretary, Mr. P. G. Butler; Vice-Presidents, Rev. P. J. Cuthane and Mr. S. P. Whiteway; Treasurer, Mr. J. Garriock; Executive, Misses E. Stirling, L. Short, D. Hawkins; Staff-Dept. Cave, Messrs. A. House, E. Burser and Rev. P. K. Kennedy.

Entertained Employees and Friends.

Mr. Frelich, the Manager of the Clothing Factory at Henry Street, entertained over 100 of his employees and friends in the factory last night, and a very enjoyable time was spent by all present. The building was handsomely decorated and dancing began at 8.30 and did not cease until 4 o'clock this morning. An excellent programme of dance music was rendered by a competent musician and at midnight a sumptuous supper was partaken of and thoroughly enjoyed. Complimentary speeches were made by several and songs were rendered by a number of good vocalists. Mr. Frelich's health was proposed and all voted him a "jolly good fellow," an appellation which he well deserves.

Opposing the Rod Tax

People who recently arrived from Sydney, say that all the Newfoundlanders there—and they are many—oppose the rod tax of $10 levied in this country. Most of these people work at Sydney during the summer and in the hot weather many of them take a run over in the Bruce to fish in the ponds and streams while enjoying a short holiday. They are not permanent residents of Sydney, as they return home in the Sydney in the fall months, and they consider that this rod tax should not apply to them while even to Newfoundlanders permanently residing in the Sydney there should be a modification in the fee. Some of them intend shortly to approach the Government on the matter with a view of having the law amended in their favour if possible. They say they are citizens of Newfoundland and that they are being treated unfairly in this connection.

IMPERIAL PREFERENCE.

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, Feb. 2.

Reciprocity forms a weapon for the Unionists for pushing forward an Imperial Preference Propaganda. Wyndham, speaking at Dover, said the proposed treaty is a set back but not a death blow. Imperial Preference may be frustrated by public men but public opinion is indicating a frank acceptance of the gospel of preference.

Landlord Should Be Responsible.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Mr. Editor.—Allow me space in your valuable paper to express my approval of the Councils action in allowing one of the contemplated amendments to the Municipal Act to be made public. Landlord and tenant can express their opinion on it. I would say, Mr. Editor, that a supply of pure, clean water is as essential and as necessary as the light and air that comes through the windows and one of the principal recommendations to any house fit to live in. It cannot be placed on the same footing with artificial lighting or heating, for in those the tenant can make his choice from the primitive seal oil lamp to electric light.

I contend that it is the landlord's house, and as such he should be directly responsible to the Council for its taxes. The tenant in turn is responsible to him. It is so in the Provinces and Upper Canada. When you pay your rent there you pay all house taxes. I remain,

Yours respectfully,
TENANT.
