Increase in the Demand for Better Literature-Librarian Blackwell Visits the Schools.

The popularity of the free library continues to boom. It has now 5,063 patrons, an increase of 1,447 during the year; and new cards are being issued every day. Fiction maintains its lead in the affection of the multitude, but a most gratifying increase has taken place in the demand for other and better classes of reading, such as biography, history, science, travels and last 5,007 volumes of adult fiction were their business, and return the same as an alderman in 1894, representing handed out, compared with 4,084 volumes in October, 1896. Last month 1,742 volumes of juvenile fiction went out, compared with 1,268 in 1896. In month was 1,520, compared with 1,054 in 1896—an increase of 50 per cent. Magazines increased from 1,040 to 1,268 in the same period. The librarian, Mr. R. J. Blackwell, yesterday finished a tour of all the city schools—Collegiate, public and separate. He left a library catalogue in every room, and addressed the scholars in the higher forms, outlining the advantages of the library to the young and directing them to the most desirable class of books. These visits have greatly stimulated the interest of the school children in the library, and the teachers promise to co-operate with Mr. Blackwell in cultivating among their pupils a taste for healthful juven-

FOOTBALL. AN INTERESTING CONTEST. series of the Ontario Rugby Football Union between London and Varsity II. will be played at Toronto on Saturday afternoon, when Mr. J. M. Mowat will be referee. The time and place for the game was decided by the executive of the R. O. F. U. at Toronto last Unfortunately so little time is left before the game it is impossible for the boys here to make proper arrangements for an excursion to Toronto, for there is no doubt they would be accompanied by a large crowd of enthusiastic lovers of the game. How-ever, return tickets may be obtained through the secretary, Mr. Walter B. Laidlaw, for a fare and a third.

The boys are not over-confident, but think they have a fair chance of winning. The team has been recently strengthened by the addition of J. Mc-Rae, who arrived here from Chicago last week. McRae played on the championship team of Queen's University, a few years ago. Although the back division has been greatly weakened by the loss of Frank Reid at center half, it will be strong, consisting of Hobbs, McRae and Ransford, with the possibility of Gibson playing center and Hobbs going on the outside wing. A loss will be felt in the absence of D. Mills, who is laid up with appendicitis. It has not yet been decided who will replace him. There is a possibility of Fred Barron playing on the half-back line for Varsity. The Londons will leave for To-

The London team is reported to be very strong, but, from present indications and gleaning from the two teams, they do not seem to stand in such favor as Varsity. In fact, Varsity ought to have a sure win. Regarding the Varsity team, there is no doubt that it is playing as clean and pretty football at every point as team in any series. Divine, the old Ottawa College full-back, says Varsity II. is playing the most scientific game in Ontario today. Fraser, a clerk in the wholesale house of Fraser & McMillan, attended the baseball match at Tecumseh Park, between the Londons and the Detroit Athletic Club team. When the game was ended the crowd rejoiced over the home team's victory, which was 24 to 6, and left the grounds en masse. A portion of them boarded a street car, and among them was Mr. George Fraser. When crossing the bridge at the foot of Dundas street, Mr. Fraser was, by some means, pushed towards the edge of the platform, and came in contact with one of the iron stays of the bridge. He was thus forced off the car and fell to the earth below, a distance of about 30 feet. His escape from death stone abutment, and struck the river shore about six inches from two large boulders.
