London Civic Election.

The municipal elections in London this year were unusually quiet. Mayor Little was re-elected by acclamation, the attempt to procure opposition to him having proved a flat failure. His re-election was a testimony to his personal worth, and to the ability with which he has managed the affairs of the city. The work of Water Commissioners Cowan and Judd also commended itself to the taxpayers, for they, too, were re-elected by acclamation, while Col. Lewis, one of the best friends of the City Hospital, had no opposition as trustee for that excellent civic institution.

In the aldermanic contests, the men who canvassed the hardest, in most cases, won the day. This is always the case when no majority contest takes place. Some good new men have been elected, and some able civic administrators were defeated by small majorities—a fate which also befell one or two of the younger municipal campaigners. In No. 1 ward, Ald. Bremer, who was a faithful alderman, has been replaced by ex-Ald. Charles Taylor. In No. 2 ward, Ald. O'Meara and Powell were re-elected, but Ald. J. W. Jones, who has been an able representative and a level-headed man of business, was defeated by a small majority. While Mr. Jones will be a gainer, many citizens will regret the absence of his able service at the council board this year. His place is taken by Mr. Douglas, who was not successful last year, but who wins through perseverance. In No. 3 ward the old representatives were elected. Mr. John A. Croden, new to public life, but a young Londoner of much energy, failed in election, but as he entered at the eleventh hour he will no doubt be heard from again. In No. 4 ward Mr. Neil Cooper demonstrated what can be done by persistent canvassing and stickativeness. He was defeated last year, but this year he began early, and defeated ex-Ald. Scarrow, taking a place at the head of the poll. Two former representatives, Ald. Armstrong and Ald. Garratt, are his associates. In ward 5, Ald. Nutkins and Ald. Dreaney were re-elected. They have faithfully served the taxpayers, and out of a big field were chosen. Mr. R. W. Bennett, manufacturer, takes the place vacated by Ald. Ardill. In No. 6 ward the taxpayers had but four aldermanic candidates to choose from. Ald. Parnell and Ald. Marshall they re-elected. These gentlemen proved excellent representatives, and their re-election was looked for, though Ald. Marshall's absence from the city on a purchasing tour for his factory was expected to militate against his success, his friends rallied to his support, and secured his election. Ald. J. W. McCallum is not new to public life, and his unseatng, on a technicality, last year, is fresh in the minds of the people. That incident did nothing to hurt his chances this year. Thus the defeat of Ald. Weld was foreshadowed from the first.

We believe that the council of 1896 will join the mayor in endeavoring to work for the best interests of the city. The citizens are keenly alive to the necessity for earnest co-operation on the part of their representatives to keep this city in the van as a desirable place of residence, and in which to do business. This remark applies also to the school trustee board, as constituted for 1896. Let all unite to secure the best results at the least reasonable cost to the taxpayers, and the citizens generally will be satisfied.

GONE UP IN SMOKE.

Guelph Has a $30,000 Fire—Blaze in Toronto.

Guelph, Ont., Jan. 7.—J. D. Williamson & Co.'s well-known drygoods house on the corner of Wyndham and Macdonnell streets, was badly gutted by fire Saturday night. The blaze was discovered about 10:30, and it was 6 o'clock next morning before the fire was gained the mastery. Most of the stock is entirely destroyed, and the balance badly damaged. Damage to the stock is estimated at $30,000; insurance $23,000. The building, owned by the J. D. Williamson estate, is badly injured, but to what extent cannot be stated. It is insured for $90,000.

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 7.—The club house of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, which stood on the water front off the foot of York street, was totally destroyed by fire about 3 o'clock yesterday morning. The loss by the destruction of the building is about $5,000, insurance of $7,000, but in members lose much valuable personal property. The caretaker and his wife, who were asleep upstairs, had a very narrow escape from death.

THE MANITOBA CONTESTS.

Winnipeg, Jan. 7.—Hon. D. Harrison, Conservative ex-Premier of Manitoba, in speaking of the present situation in the Province, said it was one of the greatest pieces of folly for the Conservatives to take any part in the Provincial elections. They should have allowed them to go by default. In after years it will be conceded that it was the only policy open to them in the interests of the country to oppose the coercion of the Province.

LASTING LOVE.

Stratford Herald: If a man loves a girl enough to yearn after her for 62 years it is right and proper that he should marry her. This Christian Marthas Cowan, who was a schoolmate in Germany. When she was 18 years old her parents came to America and brought Marthas with them. From that time until last month Shultz and Miss Cowan knew nothing of each other's whereabouts. Then Shultz came to this country and learned from his friends that his sweetheart of years ago was living in Ohio. He found her in McGuffey, and they were married on Thursday. The bride is 80 years old and the bridegroom two years her senior.

A STEAMER ASHORE.

London, Jan. 7.—The British steamer Monomy (Capt. Duck), from New York Dec. 22, for Leith, is reported ashore off Warwick Head.

CHARGED WITH BEING A SPY.

Johannesburg, Jan. 7.—Mr. Letty, the correspondent of the Reuter's Telegram Company here, has been imprisoned upon suspicion of being a spy in the interests of the British Chartered Company.

TERRIBLE RAILWAY DISASTER.

Durban, Natal, Jan. 7.—The mail train from Johannesburg has arrived here crowded with passengers.

The train was overturned on Dec. 30 and several coaches were smashed, 28 persons being killed and 23 dangerously wounded.

CHIEFS FOR THE BOERS.

Dublin, Jan. 7.—There was a largely attended meeting of Irish Nationalists yesterday at Wexford. Mr. John Redmond addressed the meeting and referred to the British invasion of the Transvaal which brought forth loud and continued cheering for the Boers.

IT ISN'T TRUE.

Berlin, Jan. 7.—A semi-official denial was issued this morning of the statement from Cape Town that Dr. W. J. Leyds, the Secretary of State for the Transvaal, with the German colonization company with the intention of introducing 5,000 German military soldiers into the Transvaal.

HALF A LOAF EACH.

London, Jan. 7.—Telegraphing under date of Jan. 5 a correspondent at Constantinople says: A detachment of troops has arrived at Aintab since the massacre at Birlidjik. The Government, the correspondent says, distributes daily at Aintab, 55 miles north of Diarbekir, half a loaf of bread to each of the starving inhabitants.

GERMANS DON'T WANT IT.

Berlin, Jan. 7.—The Deutsche bank group, which proposed to take part of the new American loan, on learning that the loan issue called for by Secretary Carlisle would be a home loan, for which 108 would be offered in the United States, have announced that they consider it impossible for the German banks to take any part of it. They assert that there is no market in Germany for a 4 per cent coin loan at 108.

THE MOZAMBIQUE REBELLION.

London, Jan. 7.—A dispatch from Lisbon in regard to the Mozambique (east coast of Africa) rebellion, says: Gungunhamu and his son Guidide have been imprisoned by the Brave Captain Mousens. They have already reached Lorenzo Marquez, and they will be conveyed at once to Lisbon. The strongest enthusiasm prevails in Lisbon. This practically marks the end of the rebellion, which has been in progress in Mozambique for over a year. Gungunhamu and his son are African chiefs, who have caused the Portuguese Colony a great deal of trouble for the past year or two, and the Government has spared no pains or expense to catch them.

CONCILIATION WILL WIN.

London, Jan. 7.—Commenting upon the effect produced by its dispatches from Washington against the Venezuelan dispute, the Chronicle says: We are aware of the magnitude of our commissioner's task and the difficulties which beset him, but we lay down two general propositions, both testifying to the soundness of his case. The first is to accept a situation where it is impossible for any self-respecting statesman to govern the British Empire with honor. War with America is to be ruled out of the category of things which can even be considered. The second proposition is to avoid the danger of either party shutting the door. The Government which makes the first practical advance toward conciliation will win the earliest honors in the controversy.

THE TIDE TURNING.

London, Jan. 7.—The American commissioner of the Daily Chronicle cables to that paper from Washington as follows: The tide of opinion regarding England's aims to me to be distinctly in favor of the best American opinion is earnestly desirous of a friendly and dignified settlement. Today I had a conversation on this subject with Senator Gray (Del.), an intimate and devoted friend of Mr. Cleveland, and a prominent member of the foreign relations committee. Senator Gray said: "I do not think the President made or intended to make a threat towards the British Government in his message, but he did mean to express in the strongest way possible his own feeling, and what I believe to be the feeling of all the people of this country, regarding the supposed British refusal of arbitration in the Venezuelan matter, except with reference to an arbitrary line made by the British Government itself. I know there is sincere regret and dismay among all right-minded people here that a more conciliatory disposition was not accepted by Lord Salisbury in regard to the general principle of arbitration. If the British Government should show a kindly disposition towards this principle I believe it would be greatly welcomed by the people of this country. So far from there being a loss of prestige to the British Government in this course, it would make me more hopeful that the great principle of arbitration will find expression in a convention between the two countries covering all questions that might arise."

The Chronicle, commenting editorially on the foregoing, says: If there ever was a situation which called more imperatively for advice to meet a contention which seems to us to offer no kind of menace to our interests or honor, we call for expressions of opinion on this matter. Surely Lord Salisbury, surely Mr. Chamberlain will see the wisdom and necessity of finding a diplomatic equivalent for the American desire for arbitration. If diplomacy has no such expedient left to it, then we are indeed governed by forces that fight against peace, mutual forbearance and all the good and promising relations of mankind.

Dissolution Impending.

The Cabinet Crisis at Ottawa Still Exists.

A General Election Will Almost Certainly Soon Come.

Premier Bowell's Bitter Resentment of His Treatment by Montague & Co.

Ottawa, Jan. 17.—At the hour of writing the crisis continues, and there is great excitement in Parliamentary circles. Premier Bowell is very wrath at the manner in which he has been treated by his colleagues. His opinion of Messrs. Foster, Montague, Haggart, Tupper, Dickey, Ives and Wood was expressed today, when the Premier said: "You may say that it is the record." He has been endeavoring to get men to take their places, and I am told has even negotiated with Clarke Wallace to come back.

The Premier summoned a meeting of Council for 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and it lasted till 7. The following members attended: Sir Adolphe Caron, Mr. Oulmet, Mr. Costigan, Sir Frank Smith, Mr. Daly and Senator Ferguson, seven with the Premier. The strikers number seven, so that the split is perfect. The trouble arises from the fact that the seven on outside weigh more than the seven on the inside. It should be noted that as the resignations of the seven members have been accepted, if any one of them comes back they must go for re-election. As they will not return under the new Premier would mean an immediate dissolution.

The strikers really want to get a dissolution, so as to let them fight a general election unpigged. Whichever way the situation is viewed dissolution is the only solution of the snarl into which the business of the leaders have brought them. They went about the country saying they were united upon a good leader in a policy upon which they were in perfect accord. They now show themselves to have acted the part of hypocrites before the electors of Canada. Mr. Foster's assurance that he would give the lie to his act of treachery towards his chief. He is the real leader of the movement, and he is not engaged in malcontents, and he is not engaged in the business of wrecking in order that the rich cargo should fall to Sir Charles Tupper. Mr. Foster has been the real leader of the rebels against the cabinet policy in the House. His room has been the meeting place for the kickers. It was there they met when Mr. Clarke was introduced. His room has been the meeting place for the kickers. It was there they met when Mr. Clarke was introduced. His room has been the meeting place for the kickers. It was there they met when Mr. Clarke was introduced.

It is understood that an adjournment for two weeks will be moved today in the House. Two days might reasonably be given, but two weeks is an outrageous proposition, and the Liberals will oppose a long adjournment. A memorable debate is expected. One statement is made on the authority of Premier Bowell, namely, that he will take care that Messrs. Haggart and Montague do not get back into any Cabinet. Mr. Laurier and Sir Richard Cartwright arrived yesterday, and held a conference at the Russell House last evening.

From what can be learned, it appears that the Ministerial adherents of Sir Mackenzie Bowell, as well as the disaffected members of the Cabinet, are equally confident that they will not come out second best. The Premier, however, will make a strong effort to pull through.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto Mail-Empire, telegraphing last night, says: "The political situation tonight is one of extraordinary complication. To all outward appearances the Government is in two camps, between which a complete reconciliation is absolutely impossible, while a partial restoration of harmony on the old basis is, to say the least, at the present juncture, extremely doubtful. There are three elements at work. First, seven Ministers, who are exercising the functions of Government; secondly, friends declare possess the ability of the Government; and, thirdly, the Opposition, under the leadership of Mr. Laurier.

KANSAS FIRE-SWEPT.

Terrific Prairie Conflagration—Loss of Life May Be Appalling.

Wichita, Kan., Jan. 7.—Two counties in Western Kansas were covered by fire last night. About 9 o'clock fire was seen in the fire, observable simultaneously at Pueblo, Col., and Wichita, a distance apart of 500 miles. The position is that there are two immense prairie fires in Kansas, a distance of about 150 miles apart. The Eagle reports from ten stations which indicate the largest fire to be in Kiowa county, and that it is of vast proportions. Haviland is the nearest station to the fire that can be reached, and the agent there says the nearest fringe of blaze is probably fifteen miles away, but so powerful that a newspaper can be read by its light in the streets of the town. At St. John, Stafford county, the people are panicking, as the fire is sweeping in their direction before a strong wind. Many of the farms have been abandoned for years, and the fire is feeding on the rank grass, sunflowers and
