She was born in Ireland in 1818, and came to this country many years ago. For some time she had been living at Dorchester. The funeral will be held from Dorchester to Crumlin tomorrow.

DIED AFTER SHORT ILLNESS. Mr. William A. Beattie died on Saturday in this city after an illness which had lasted only a few days. He had been working on Tuesday and his death was quite unexpected. He was employed at the Columbia Handle Works, where he was well-liked by his fellow-employes. Mr. Beattie was a native of Highgate, Ont., to which place the remains will be conveyed to-morrow. Besides his mother, several brothers and sisters survive.

ANOTHER FAST C. P. R. RUN. On Wednesday, owing to a delay at Smith's Falls, the C. P. R. train for Toronto made a specially quick run to make up time, and when it reached the Union station had made up 1 hour and 9 minutes of the time lost. Deductstops, the running time shows that the average rate of speed between Smith's Falls and Toronto was 47 miles per hour. This includes the slowdowns necessary to pass through the yards at Toronto and at the larger towns en route. This speed, made with a train of seven heavy coaches, shows the character of the motive rolling stock of the Canadian Pacific. weather is cooler; the market is firmer, in spite of larger offerings of car lots; and also the high state of the roadbed between Montreal and Toronto.

So much interest has been manifested in the engagement at the Grand tonight, that an interview with Mr. Kelcey could not fail to be of interest to the readers of The Advertiser, so a reporter sought Mr. Kelcey at his hotel this morning, and asked him some questions as to his present play, his previous career and his future lans. Mr. Kelcey proved to be quite enthusiastic over the first subject.
"The part of Sherlock Holmes is a unique one, the most extraordinary one, I think, I have ever seen, and one I like as well as any I have ever essayed," said Mr. Kelcey. "While it is a change from my work of later years, I played similar roles during my long stock experience in New York. It is a strong character—this detective whose cocaine habit gives him a most peculiar appearance. The play, while really a melodrama, is remarkable in that it pleases every part of the house the orchestra seats as well as the gallery. An absurd rumor was current in the city yesterday that Herbert had been released. Herbert must remain in jail until released by due process of law and as legal machinery is sometimes stiff in the cogs, it may be weeks or months before Herbert's case is disable that an application will shortly posed of.

the Evidence I Did Not Hear Just Right," He Said.

"Well I'm a little hard of hearing, and maybe there was some of the evidence I didn't hear just right." This is one of the considerations which, it is said, induced Juryman William Ellwood, of Lucan, to fall in with his fellow-jurymen's views after hanging out for the conviction of Gerald Sif-

A NOTED CLERICAL AUTHOR

Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, of Kansas, Is in the City.

Prohibition a Good Thing-Mum on Subject of Carrie Nation.

Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, the To peka, Kansas, clergyman, whose "What Would Jesus Do?" books have gained him a fame which was increased by his week's occupancy of the editorial chair of the Topeka Capital, is in the city today. He came in from Toronto by way of Stratford, and was met at the station by three or four local ministers. Mr. Sheldon proved a man of perhaps 40 years young-not old. He meets one with a hearty handclasp and the curtain go up or down—all is done a "I'm very glad to meet you," in the darkness." sounds as though he meant it. He is whole-hearted, energetic, sincere and cheerful. As he stepped off the train, with his traveling case (his only bag-gage) in his hand, there was only his white tie to proclaim him the cleric. He might more easily have been a genial drummer intent on doing his route and getting out again on the 4:35 ex-

As Mr. Sheldon was half an hour late in arriving, and as the luncheon arranged for him by Dr. Eccles was awaiting him, The Advertiser reporter, who met him, had time for only three or four point-blank questions and answers. "What are you doing in Ontario, Mr. Sheldon?" was the first query. "I'm here at the invitation of my friends here. I went through here on Saturday on my way from Toledo to Toronto, where I spoke at Massey Hall vesterday on invitation of the Canadian Temperance League. I am to read here this afternoon and lecture this evening. Toronto and London are my only stopping-places in Ontario. I go to Lewiston, Me., on Wednesday, and to St. John, N. B., for Sunday

"What can you say as to the efficacy of prohibition in Kansas?" "I need only quote the governor of the state, who says: 'Prohibition at license at its best.' That is fairly con-

"What influence, if any, has Carrie Nation out there?" was the last question. "I never talk about her," said Mr. Sheldon, with a merry laugh, which was shared by his surrounding brethren of the cloth. Evidently Carrie is not taken seriously by Kansas people. Mr. Sheldon entered the waiting carriage, and was driven to Dr. Eccles' residence, where he was entertained at lunch. Among the local pastors invited to meet him were Rev. Dr. Johnston, Rev. W. J. Clark, Rev. Walter Russell, evangelist; Rev. George Bishop and Rev. D. S. Hamilton. Mr. Sheldon read a chapter from his unpublished temperance story, Narrow Gate," at the afternoon meeting. In the evening he will lecture at the First Methodist Church on "Some Ways to Help Make a Better World. The doors will be open at 7 and the proceedings commence at 8. The admission is an offering at the door to be devoted to the Wellington Street Sunday school building fund. The Globe says of Mr. Sheldon's Toronto meetings: "Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, author of 'In His Steps,' was the speaker in Massey Hall yesterday afternoon and evening at the opening of the Canadian Temperance League's ness might have caused him to miss fourteenth annual Gospel temperance campaign. The great auditorium was some evidence which would have modi-fied his opinions, and he feared that he crowded in the afternoon to its utmust capacity, and many were unable to obtain even standing room. The attendance in the evening was not quite so large. At each service Mr. Harold Jarvis sang three times. Rev. Mr. Sheldon delivered a plain, unpretentious address on three themes—'Some things whisky has done, some things prohibition has done, and some things we may do.' Mr. Sheldon's evening discourse was a presentation of nine ways of helping the world to better things." Happiness is the proper goal of human effort, and health is indispensable to it-take Hood's Sarsaparilla.
