The vanity of a woman has upset kingdoms, as well as households, from time immemorial. Give a woman inordinately eagerness for adulation and the plaudits of the crowd, and there are few things to which she will not stoop to achieve her ambitions. The love of a things to which she will not stoop to achieve her ambitions. The love of a faithful husband, home ties, parents, religion, even honor itself, go by the board in the attempt to grasp the bauble of fame. This two-reel Rex drama reveals the length to which vanity will lead a woman.

(Special Ambated Weekley and Consider) "Specil Animated Weekly and Comedies." "The Collingsby Pearls" There is no blinking the fact that marriage does not always "tame" a woman. A giddy, flighty girl usually makes a giddy wife, and it is a wise husband who picks his help-mate among soberer members of the opposite sex. Too many women are not contented to settle down after marriage. Feeling that they should still be tendered little attentions by their gentlemen friends, they all too often carry on innegent flirtations which are misconstrued. This February "Master Key" No. 10 "Star of the Sea" A two-reel Rex drama, features Pauline Bush and Don Chaney in a story of studio life in Italy. Pursued by a jealous model, the young artist finishes his statue of the Virgin, and marries his fishermaid model.
