PROSPECTIVE NEGOTIATIONS.

There was very little news for the Opposition at Ottawa to make such a mystery of the matters that they intended to bring before the House, because everyone of them has been the subject of frequent discussion both in and out of the Parliament. It is no new thing, for example, to say that Canadians are in favor of reciprocity with the United States; but the difficulty has been and is to bring about such a state of things. It has always been the policy of the Conservative Government to do all that lay in their power to realize a more reasonable condition of things than which exists. But the more the Canadian Government wanted to place relations on a wider reciprocal footing the more the Washington senate and politicians would not do it. If the matter could be decided by Canada alone no great length of time would elapse before the advantages that we possess would be given in exchange for advantages that are the privilege of our neighbors. Only last year a notable attempt was made to bring about a more friendly and profitable state of relationship. But with what result? Simply this, that the U. S. Senate kicked out the treaty which had been arranged for by Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. Chamberlain in conjunction with the Cleveland cabinet. As we all know, "it takes two to make a bargain," and if the United States do not think proper to arrange with us with regard to improved trade relationships, how is it possible for this country to force such an arrangement on them? In the course of his speech on Tuesday night Sir John Macdonald said that he had no official assurances that it was the intention of Mr. Harrison's cabinet to reopen negotiations with a view of re-establishing conditions of a reciprocal character. This is good news for our people; and we are sure that if such a spirit animates the new cabinet at Washington it will be met with in a similar one on our side. Much that has been done by our parliament has been done under the compulsion of self-defence. It would not do for this country to place itself at the feet of the adjoining people simply to be walked over. It was necessary to take a stand at some point, and to say that so long as it was not the policy of the United States to do business with us except upon terms distinctly disadvantageous to our people, so long would it be incumbent on our government to hold on to those conditions which are in the nature of advantages to ourselves, and thus even up with the disabilities which the other side were ready to impose and maintain. But there are none more ready than our own government to let bygones be bygones, and to look at the matters at issue between ourselves and our neighbors in the most liberal and favorable light. That is, no doubt, too, the wish of the country. It has been a matter of regret that the advances that have been so often made from this side should have been met with rebuffs from the other. How much of this has been the result of "political exigencies" it may not be altogether possible to say, but it has been generally understood—indeed, authoritatively affirmed—that had not a Presidential election been on the very verge of being held, the liberal treaty conditions that were sanctioned by our Government, and brought about through the agency of Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. Chamberlain last year, would not have been cast out. A new state of things may lead to renewed overtures, and if this expectation comes to be realized it may be taken as certain that the position will not be permitted to pass by unimproved. The efforts that have been already made on the part of Sir John and his colleagues in the past are the best guarantees of that which they are prepared to do in the future.

An escort arrived at Montreal from Quebec yesterday to take back Eugene Holbitt, who deserted from "B" Battery four months ago, and who was arrested Monday evening.

PARLIAMANT REPORTING.

In reporting the Parliamentary proceedings at Ottawa the Globe leads its readers to suppose that the Opposition members are received on a day to speak with loud applause, and that something like a dead silence is the only welcome awarded to any of the Ministerialists. Thus, in the report of Tuesday's proceedings, it is said of Mr. Laurier that he "rose amidst applause," Mr. Mills was "received with applause," Mr. Edgar "was received with cheers," and so on. Now, anyone who was present could testify that Sir John Macdonald and Hon. Mr. Forster, who alone spoke for the Government, were not unwelcome to their feet. But it is the way the Globe press has of creating a false impression to make it appear that only one set of speakers are accorded favors by the House. It may be excellent parliamentarianism, but it is very indifferent reporting.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT.

Mr. Ferguson, M. P. P. for East Kent, has introduced in the Local Legislature a Bill for the betterment of the country roads on the plan suggested by Judge Woods. The terms of the Bill leave it optional with the electors of a municipality to borrow money for this purpose. In case a majority of land-owners petition the Council for the macadamizing, graveling, planking, or otherwise improving by approved material, and draining any road, street or public way, the Council may cause the necessary examinations and plans to be made, with a statement of the proportion of benefit to be derived therefrom by every road and lot or portion of lot. Thereupon, if the matter be approved, the Council may pass by laws for borrowing on the credit of the municipality the funds necessary for the work, and for issuing debentures to the requisite amount, and payable within fifty years or less from date, with interest at 4 per cent. The improvements in question shall be deemed under the provisions of the Municipal Act, from sec. 569 to sec. 611, both inclusive. It is provided that any Council for local improvements or work under this Act shall be exempted by the Council from any general rate or assessment for the like purpose. The bill has been read a first time. It has the strong approval of Mr. W. R. Meredith.

DESIRABLE AND EARLY IMMIGRATION.

Immigration has already begun to flow into the North-west territories. A number of German immigrants have arrived at Regina, and a great many more will arrive in the next few weeks. The fact is that the Germans that have already settled in this country have done well and made money. Already there are two large German settlements north of Regina. Some twenty miles north-east of Long Lake, which is twenty miles distant from Regina, the German colony of Elsas is located, where they have organized schools and are prosperous as farmers and ranchers. Mr. N. T. Davin tells the Montreal Gazette correspondent at Ottawa, that the plan invariably adopted by all the Germans is to first go to a town, Regina for instance. There they work at any kind of work that comes to hand, the women go out as cooks and servants, the men as carpenters, or bricklayers or wait upon bricklayers, and at the end of a year or two years they will have saved quite a sum of money. Then they go out to the farm, and once there they stick at it, in every instance, without exception, doing well. Their houses surpass those of all other settlers in ingenuity of contrivance for warmth, and in a scrupulous cleanliness which is not surpassed anywhere. If they build and furnish a house, everything that can be made by hand they make themselves, beds, tables, chairs, and the very nails they use in building their houses are made of wood. About twenty miles north-east of Regina, that is some forty miles nearer the colony above alluded to, another colony of Germans is to be found. Their farms, schools and church, already built, are simply wonderful, when one thinks how recently they have gone there. The men themselves are fine specimens of the pioneer, tall, large boned, of good habits, very thrifty and very honorable. They all have families, their wives exemplifying the eulogy of the famous German song "that German women keep the cradle and the platter full." These, amongst others, are the class of settlers flowing into Regina, and Mr. Davin says there is no shed or place for them to go when first arriving. But Hon. Mr. Carling is fully alive to the needs of the situation, and has promised that this defect will be remedied in the near future.

THE HOME MARKET FOR GRAIN.

We are now growing corn extensively and successfully in many parts of Ontario. Last year the area sown was 223,000 acres, or about two-thirds of an area sown with spring wheat, and the quantity of corn reaped was no less than 17,438,000 bushels, giving an average production of 78 bushels per acre. Four years ago the area sown was only 175,000 acres, and the crop did not exceed 12,000,000 bushels. If the Canadian market is not already adequately supplied with the home article there is no doubt that within a few years the deficiency will be made good. The duty on American coarse grain has done more to promote the production of this in Canada; it has given the farmers a larger home market. The following statement shows the quantity of grain imported from the United States for consumption in the Dominion last year and ten years ago:

Corn, bushels	3,600,432	2,811,757
Oats, bushels	2,071,437	19,655
Rye, bushels	116,228	75,257
Wheat, bushels	1,513,066	12,942
Total	7,101,862	2,418,601

It thus appears that the consumption of American grain in Canada last year was 4,700,000 bushels less than in 1878; in other words, the home market for Canadian grown grain was enlarged to this extent.

CURRENT TOPICS.

The Vancouver assessment roll for 1889 shows an increase in the assessable value of real estate over last year of over 90 per cent. The amount for 1888 was $2,471,345, while for the present year it is $4,690,098. There is no assessment on personal property for municipal taxation, nevertheless the rate of taxation on realty does not exceed one per cent, which provides for the expenses of municipal government and interest and sinking fund of debt. The prospects are that the increase this year will be even larger than last, not from increase in value of unimproved lots, but on account of the immense amount of building going on.

Khartoum still figures in newspaper dispatches, though there really is no Khartoum at the present day. The town was practically wiped out of existence in the days of horror following Gordon's death. The forts are still maintained, but the rest of the town was razed to the ground, and the material used in the most important buildings was taken across the river to build a big mausoleum and mosque over the remains of the late Mahdi. Omdurman, across the river from Khartoum, is now the seat of the Mahdist power, and when we read that Khartoum is alarmed over White Pasha rumors, it simply means that Omdurman is in a panicky state. By destroying Khartoum the Mahdi meant to show the Sudan what would become of any other city which, according to an infidel's ad, attempted to keep the hosts of the Prophet outside its walls.

Lady Eva Quinn, who has killed in the last year five tigers with her own rifle, is an Irishwoman, the daughter of the late Earl of Mayo, and is pretty in the typical Irish way, with rosy cheeks, gray eyes and curling black hair. Her uncle is Lord Connaught, who is Governor of the Madras Presidency, and Captain Quinn, her husband, has until recently been employed as the Governor's private secretary. Lady Eva is a perfect Amazon, and fears nothing on the earth or the waters under the earth. She has the British passion for killing things, and shot at everything that came to hand. On the continent of Europe before sailing to India with the ambition and purpose of killing man-eaters. Her uncle, being Governor of Madras, facilitated her purpose, and she persuaded him to take Captain Quinn as secretary, while she went on the war-path, and, with her aim so keen, she reared the man-eaters at a breath and the tigers in between, and she became the heroine of the Presidency. She was well known up to by the natives and more courted by the residents than the Governor himself, for the killer of tigers is a person of importance in India.

Blenheim News.—During the past summer it is well known that the fishing industry on the north shore of Lake Erie was worked most advantageously. Steamers from Sandusky took all the fish caught direct from the nets, and paid 75 cents per hundred lbs. There is a prospect, however, that after the present profit will come to an end, and that for two reasons. In the first place, the owner of the steamer which took away the fish last year, was over here a short time since, and states that hereafter the United States Government will be allowed to levy a duty of 50 cents per 100 lbs.; this will reduce the price to the fisherman to 25 cents instead of 75 cents. But this is not all. A fleet of boats now run from Cleveland, ostensibly for the purpose of catching fish, but which never enter, they come over into Canadian waters and set gill net, which clean up everything larger than a minnow. This latter work has now developed to a regular business, and it is only a matter of time until there will be no fish to catch on the Canadian side. This is a fair subject for governmental investigation.

The death of James C. Flood at Heidelberg leaves his daughter, Miss Jennie Flood, who was with him at the time of his death, probably the richest woman in the world. She is certainly the richest woman in the United States, being the heir of all his immense wealth. She is said by old Californians to be a modest and sensible young woman, not at all affected by her wealth, but a matter of time until there will be no fish to catch on the Canadian side. This is a fair subject for governmental investigation.

Catarrh to Consumption.

Catarrh in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption. It is therefore singular that those afflicted with this fearful disease should not make it the object of their lives to rid themselves of it. Deceptive remedies concocted by ignorant pretenders to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of the great majority of sufferers in all advertised remedies. They become resigned to a life of misery rather than torture themselves with doubtful palliatives. But this will never do. Catarrh must be met at every stage and combated with all our might.
