A TWO-MINUTE PACE. Hartford, Conn., Aug. 30 .- The big event of the circuit meeting at Charter Oak Park to-day was the first two-minute pace ever scheduled. There were five starters, John R. Gentry drawing out after the contest, in which there was a misunderstanding as to whether the event was a six and the starter of the contest of the former in their first inning to day were all out for a total of 140 runs. The Lancashire players in their first in-minute the contest of Oak Park to-day was the first twowhether the event was a 2 in 3 or a 3 in 5. It was a 3 in 5, and Gentry drew his horse, the management protesting and leaving the matter in the hands of the judges, who will decide after taking evidence. Anaconda, the favorite, led until the stretch in the first heat, when Joe Patchen came in, and under the whip and a hard push took the mile in 2.041/4. The second heat was Patchen's in 2.03%, equalling the track record made in 1897 by Star Pointer in an exhibition race with Gentry. After the first heat Joe Patchen sold 3 to 1, with Bogash 4 to 3 that he would get inside of the money. The unfinished race of Tuesday, the 2.13 trot, was won by Peter

THE EIG OFFICER MUST STAND HIS TRIAL

Oa a Charge of Assaulting and Wounding Robert Devine - Howie's Preliminary Examination Before the Police Magistrate-Witnesses Say There Was No Disorder at the Corner of William Street and Central Avenue on Saturday Evening Last, to Justify the Police in Using Their Batons on the Crowd.

Policeman Thomas Howie had his preliminary examination at the police court yesterday morning on the charge assaulting and wounding Robert Devine during the disturbance at the corner of Central avenue and William street on Saturday evening last. After the examination of five witnesses, Magistrate Parke committed Howie to stand his trial at the December sessions and fixed bail at $200-the accused in $100 and one surety. Chief Williams, in $100.

In the effort to disperse a crowd of several hundred persons who had gathered around a derailed car, it is alleged that Howie pulled his baton, with several other officers, and used

Devine, who is a laborer and resides the car stood, and found that it was held. fort was made to pull the car on the track with another trolley, but the draw-bar broke, and the spectators laughed. A third car came up with three policemen on board and about the same time four policemen arrived on their bicycles. The seven officers had a short consultation, after which they drew their batons and charged numbered a hundred people, and it was very orderly. "Why did the police draw their batons?" asked the Crown Attorney. "I don't know," answered the wit-

"Did any of the officers say anything to the crowd?" "Some of them told the crowd to go laway." "And did the crowd move?"

"They turned to go away." (Howie) might have given some warning, and the policeman replied that he being cross-examined by Mr On Love, counsel for Howie, Devine would not say that there were not five or six hundred people on the scene. He would swear there was no disorder, except when the bar broke Then the crowd laughed. "And jeered and hooted," said Mr.

Love. "Some of them did." There were three or four lady passengers on the derailed car, and they left, Devine supposed, because the car could not move further. No stones were thrown at the car. "And if those ladies swear they left the car because stones were thrown at it, what would you say?" "I would say there were no stones thrown." that stones were not thrown between the time the car was derailed and the ime he reached it. Neither would he swear windows were not broken by stones. Devine arrived a few minutes Mrs. Stuart, whose maiden name was before the first policeman. "And did you hear the crowd say, Steal the draw-bar?" "No. sit.'

did you hear some persons say that there were four marks?"

Devine heard no such remark passed. The policemen did not repeatedly ask the crowd to disperse before the batons were drawn, nor did they fra try to push the crowd back with their hands.

Mr. Love asked Devine how many times he had been in the police court, but Devine did not feel inclined to answer the question. He would not say why he was brought before the Magistrate.

Dr. Jarvis, who attended Devine on Sunday, described the injury on the head as more of a bruise than a cut. There was a certain amount of concussion of the brain, but the witness did not consider it serious. The bruise was about an inch long and less than half an inch in width. The scalp may have been cut for half an inch or more. The skull was not injured.

William J. Thompson, of 502 Philip street, was the next witness. He is a son of Mrs. Thompson, of William street, and worked on Saturday afternoon with Devine. When crossing the C. P. R. track, with Devine, he saw the street car leave the rails, but he remained at the corner of William street and Central avenue, while Devine went over to the car. Thompson saw the policemen draw their batons but he did not hear the officers give A. C. Jeffries weighed 200 pounds, and his opponent was 35 pounds lighter. Jeffries' manager has received a despatch from Tom O'Rourke, offering him a go with Gus Rublen at the Lenox Athletic Club, of New York, within three months. further disorder. FIRE ON BRICK STREET.

Chas, Baker's Barn and Contents and Stacks Destroyed by Fire.

Shortly before noon yesterday a fire Devine turned towards the sidewalk, was discovered in the centre of the when he was struck on the head by barn on the premises of Mr. Charles Howie. Devine told Howie that he Baker, nurseryman, Brick street, and notwithstanding the efforts of neighbors and others the barn with its contents was burned to the ground. No. 3 Fire Company attended, and by welldirected efforts succeeded in saving the residence and its contents. Long lines of hose were laid from the nearest hydrant on Ridout street south, and very effective work was done by the members of the brigade. A cow and a bull, a large number of implements and the season's crops were destroyed, as well as several stacks of straw and hay. It is not known how the fire originated, but it was first seen in the centre of the barn. The loss will be heavy.

**The death occurred the other evening of one of Ingersoll's oldest and most highly esteemed residents, in the person of Mrs. Anne Stuart, relict Devine would not swear positively of the late Peter Stuart, at the ripe age of 70 years. Deceased has been in failing health since the death of her husband, some months ago, and the end was not unexpected. The late Anne Grey, was a native of the parish of Engie, Bamffshire, Scotland, and came to this country with her husband in 1854, the year following "When the four policemen came up, their marriage. prospective little one.

"Some months before my baby came I found myself in rapidly failing health," writes Mrs. W. J. Kidder, of Hill Dale Farm (Enosburg Center), Enosburg, Vt., in a grateful letter to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. "I suffered dreadfully from bloating and urinary difficulty. I was growing perceptibly weaker every day and suffered much sharp pain at times. I felt that something must be done. I sought your advice and received a prompt reply. I followed your directions and took twelve bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

and also followed your instructions. I began to improve im mediately, my health became excellent, and I could do all my own work (we live on a good sized farm). I walked and rode all I could, and enjoyed it. I had a short.

There never has been a remedy in the history of medicine that has done what this marvelous "Favorite Prescription" has accomplished for weak, ailing women. It's an insult to your intelligence for a dealer to attempt to palm off upon you a substitute for this world-famed medicine. You know what you want. It's his business to meet that want. When he urges some substitute he's thinking of the larger profit he'll make—not of your welfare.

If a dealer urges a substitute for Carling's Porter, telling you it is "as good as" Carling's, isn't that proof positive that he admits that Carling's is the standard.

It costs YOU no more.
