Catarrh. on account of its prevalence in its country, is attracting a good deal of tention, more especially now when there is greebability of a visit from cholera, for where itself is a muco-purulent discharge, such itself is a muco-purulent discharge forms a nidus very inviting the lagging sufferers from catarrh at a greatiles along sufferers from catarrh at a greatiles along sufferers from catarrh at a greatiles are installed in the event of a cholera visitation.

Catarrh is a contagious disease. It is a muco-purulent discharge, caused by the pressure of a vegetable parasite in the lining membrane of the nose. These parasites represented the eurstoine is more virulent. They spread ap the nostrile and down the fauces or back of the throat, causing ulceration of the throat, if they are death proposed in the eurstoine is the order of numerical and death.

The reason that catarrh has become so prevalent a disease is entirely due to the fact that it has not been understood. Physicians have been unanimous in treating it as a simple inflammation of the membrane and have signally failed to produce cures, but microscepts who appreciate the fact that it is by way of its secondary effects a most deadly one, will be field to bear that it way way of its secondary effects a most deadly one, will be field to bear that as wonderfully successful frestment has been formulated, whereby the most aggreavated cases of catarrh have been permanently cured in from one to three permanently cured in from one to the content of the con

Hat Improvement.

—The great drawback to the silk and pullfour hat is their weight and hardness to the head, giving the liatter trouble to sell besides being uncomfortable to the wearer. The trouble has been to make a tight hat and have it stand and keep its skape. This has been accomplished by Smith, the hatter. By carefully selecting his materials and by use of the patent steel wire for the brims he has built a silk hat fitting as easy as a soft hat, and after a trial of six months there is not a man haying weare one but that gives it the preference and praises the maker for introducing what has long been wanting.

"Is he? Good! I'm glad of that."
"What interest have you in it?"
"Well, you see, I've been afraid he would invent some confounded electric contrivance by which a woman could tell just how long her husband had carried her letters in his pocket or some feolish thing of that sort. But, of course, if he's going to be married.—"

I stepped into my room one day
And saw some children there at play,
I sought my little girl, and found her;
With half a dezen youngsters round her;
And, from the way she slapped the rule,
the hatthey ware "nlaying school."

A murnur through the schoolroom ran,
A smile pervaded every feature,
"He must be a committeeman!"
They loud exclaimed—"he kissed
