A Couple of Prohibitionists Who Are Fond of Draught Ale. The Hamilton Spectator recounts the fol-lowing amusing incident that occurred in Lovering's Club Chambers restaurant in that city on Tuesday last: "Two distinguished and venerable-looking Methodist divines were lunching to-"Two distinguished and venerable-looking Methodist divines were lunching together at one of the tables when in came two young women and two young men wearing proudly on their breasts the badge of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor. As they passed the reverend gentlemen one of them stooped and held out his hand, saying: 'Why, how are you, Dr. —?' The reverend doctor seemed somewhat taken aback by the rencontre, and after hastily shaking the profitored hand he got up and walked rapidly towards the door leading to the culinary sanctum. Before he reached it, however, the proprietor came hurrying out with a salver bearing two well-beaded glasses of draught ale. The reverend doctor interposed his goodly girth of person in the way and murmured a few hurried words, which resulted in the grinning response, 'Very well, sir,' and the two glasses of ale disappeared back through the door from which they emerged. The divine resumed his seat with a vastly relieved expression on his countenance, while a dozen young rascals who had witnessed the incident humped their shoulders over their plates and gurgled with laughter. The reverend doctor is a prominent Scott Act advocate in a neighboring city, and is attending the Methodist Board of Missions here."

These amounts will wipe out the sum set apart for the work.

As new and larger wharves will be required next summer it has been suggested that a bylaw be submitted to the people at the next election to authorize another lot of debentures to complete the work.
