NOTE BY THE JUDGES.—The Judges recommend that in future the coloured fancy flannels be entered separate from white and plain colours.

The custom of renting rams for a year instead of selling them is quite common among English sheep breeders. Recently one gentleman let 120, at an average price not far from $50 gold each. The highest price was about $200 gold. These were Lincoln sheep; at another letting one ram was let for about $250 gold.
