University of Saint Francis Xavier's College.

THE ARTS COURSE St. Francis Xavier's College has for many years enjoyed the reputation of being equalled by very few colleges in America, and surpassed by none, for the excellence of the training which it imparts in Pure Mathematics and the Ancient Classics.

THE COURSES IN ENGINEERING. St. Francis Xavier's College has recently increased its usefulness by adding to its curriculum courses in Civil, Electrical, Mechanical, and Mining Engineering. Young men desirous of making a thorough practical course in Engineering can do so here at about one-half the cost of a similar training in most engineering schools.

THE BUILDINGS are large, provided with all the equipment necessary for carrying on the scholastic work in a satisfactory manner, and furnished with every thing requisite for securing the health and comfort of resident students.
