GROCERIES.—Beyond holiday business there GROCERIES.—Beyond holiday business there has been no movement this week, but the seasonable demand has been an exceedingly much as they could do. As far as the whole-this week to taking stock. Sugars have been noticeably dull: in dried fruits there has been noticeably dull; in dried fruits there has been fair request, and tea has been selling steadily. But beyond those few special lines, practically nothing has been wanted.

HARDWARE.— Though there has not been much doing in iron and hardware, there has been a fair movement in "holiday supplies," and as silver plated were lamps and the finer such as fair movement in "holiday supplies, and as silver plated ware, lamps and the finer grades of cutlery. Generally, however, trade dull in the British markets. Prices in Toronto was do not anticipate much are unchanged. We do not anticipate much will be doing for a week or two.

HIDES, SKINS, ETC.—But little business has been done during this week. An ample supply sold at prices that have been well maintained; per lb. No calfskins have been on the market been only a moderate supply of sheepskine, has been small and prices are merely nominal. There has selling at one dollar; the supply of dry skins 80c. each.
