

to put a good team on the ice, no matter what the material may be.

Messrs. Charlebois and McKenzie, '05, have experienced some difficulty of late in holding their drawing boards down to earth, and hence the Committee on Public Improvements have supplied the necessary connection in the way of spikes.

"Lighthouse" is the appellation that was hurled at Broadfoot, of the First Year, by Hamilton supporters in the Junior O.H.A. game the other night, but although his star was shining, he proved to be rock on which many a promising rush foundered.

The Second Year have organized a debating society, and have elected the following officers:

President—G. J. Manson.

Vice-President—P. C. Coates.

Secretary-Treasurer—W. N. Moorhouse.

The first debate dealt with the importation of foreign labor and proved very interesting. The society meets every two weeks to debate on Engineering problems.

The Engineers defeated "H" Co., Highlanders in the final game in their section on Wednesday last by 34 to 14. The Engineers team was: Baldwin, Alison, Char-lebois, Weldon, Morden, Ross, Chown, Snively and Williams. The features of the game were Alison's pitching and Weldon and Ross' fielding. A game is being arranged with the Ramblers, of Hamilton, to be played in Hamilton on Saturday next. In the second innings, Alison was tripped in running from second to third base, and sprained his wrist—he finished the game, however.

There is a great deal that is sense in the proposal to modify the University yell to preserve the identity of our institution. But while on the subject of yells there is one thing against which School men strenuously protest, and that is the use of the University yell by the Faculty of Arts in games with other Faculties and affiliated institutions. It is always "galling" to have a yell flung against us to which we think ourselves as much entitled as those who are using it. This is an opportune time to arrange the matter. The old "Varsity" yell, preferably slightly modified, could be used as a distinctive yell for Arts and the "Toronto" yell for the University as a whole. We love to hear the University yell, and feel proud to use it ourselves, but we emphatically protest against its exclusive use
