

6. The sides will facilitate the exchange of lecturers and speakers. The programmes of such exchanges and the themes of lectures and talks will be agreed upon by the corresponding inviting organizations.

7. The sides will encourage the exchange of information on historic sites and objects on the methods of their popularization, protection and restoration.

8. The sides will encourage and promote exchanges and visits, not stipulated in other clauses of theatre stage-directors, architects, experts in various fields of the law and other persons involved in cultural and professional activities for familiarization in their areas of interest and to take part in meetings and symposia.

The terms will be worked out in advance by interested organizations on a mutually acceptable basis.

9. The sides will promote the development of exchanges and cooperations between the national commissions for UNESCO of both countries.