

Korea agreed to meet again with Canada in the near future to address questions such as the placement of Canadian observers aboard Korean commercial driftnet vessels.

Canada banned driftnetting within its 200-mile zone in 1987. It has played a leading role in focussing international attention on the effects of high seas driftnet fishing.

For further information, media representatives should contact:

Media Relations Office
External Affairs and International Trade Canada

(613) 995-1874

Bonnie Mewdell
Communications
Department of Fisheries and Oceans

(613) 993-7533