

finished at corners with pannelled pedestals and carved vases.

The frontage of the main building towards King street is about 88 feet, and the kitchen wing extends 100 feet more, making a total of 188 feet. This wing is two stories in height, treated in a plainer but somewhat similar manner.

Covering the main entrance, which is under the tower facing Simcoe street, is a large, handsome carriage porch, supported on clusters of Corinthian columns resting on cut-stone pedestals. From the capitals of columns spring arches supporting entablature with enriched balustrade, furnishing at angles with pannelled pedestals and carved vases. The verandah on the south front is treated in a peculiar manner. The main doorway is deeply recessed with massive cut-stone arch and jambs, and broad cut-stone steps, and leads into the vestibule, 12 feet square, which is separated by an elaborate screen, filled in with stained and embossed glass, from an inner vestibule or loggia of the same dimensions. This again is separated from the main hall by an enriched arch, springing from fluted Corinthian columns, with richly carved caps. The inside of the building is finished in the most elaborate style, with every modern convenience. The grounds have been much altered and improved, and approaches of Nicholson pavement put to the entrances. Total cost of the building $102,000.
