

culty, sometimes against the will and protest of all the great powers ; but we predict that when the war and its results shall have been calmly reviewed in the light of the near future, the government of Beaconsfield will receive the praise and admiration of the whole world !

THE END.