HE IS NOT SATISFIED WITH OUR STATEMENT

Mr. J. C. Beach of Coldwater, Ont., Says His Published Statement Is Not Strong Enough.

A short time ago the following letter appeared in the columns of The Mail and Empire:

"I desire to inform you what Psychine has done for my wife. Some time ago she became run down, lost flesh and strength rapidly and coughed night and day. Her throat was so sore and inflamed that she could only speak in a whisper. The only nourishment that she took was milk and eggs. The doctor said he could give her medicine to prolong her life, but could not cure her."

"We sent for a sample of Psychine, and it did her so much good that we immediately purchased a further supply from our druggist, Mr. Millard. To-day she is well and strong, and I thank you for restoring to me my faithful wife and helpmate."

"Our friends and neighbors are astonished at Mrs. Beach's recovery, and join with us in wishing you success."

"Yours, etc.,
Coldwater, Ont., J. C. BEACH."

After the above letter appeared Mr. Beach entered a protest as follows:

Dr. T. A. Sloum, Limited:
"I have just seen the advertisement in The Mail and Empire stating what Psychine had done for my wife, Mrs. Beach. But you haven't got my statement. My case is strong enough. You don't claim enough for Psychine. When she started taking Psychine the neighbors and friends said she wouldn't live two weeks. People expected her death would be but a matter of a few days. But, thanks to Psychine, she is now able to do her own housework, and has regained her former weight and strength."

"Yours, etc.,
Coldwater, Ont., J. C. BEACH."

Psychine, pronounced Si-keen, is prescribed by many of the best doctors in their regular practice with great success and is the surest and safest cure known to medical science for coughs, colds, la grippe, bronchitis, catarrh, night sweats, decline and wasting diseases and consumption. YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

FUNERAL OF ANDREW IRVINE

ATTENDED BY ORANGE ORDER

Large Number Follow Remains of Respected Citizen to Prospect Cemetery.

Toronto Junction, March 19.—The funeral services of the late Andrew Irvine, which took place from the family residence, 63 Dundas-street, this afternoon, were attended by an immense gathering of citizens and members of the Orange order from all parts of the county. In the absence of Rev. Mr. Ridgeon, pastor of Victoria Presbyterian Church, the services were conducted by Rev. Mr. McGilvary, Bonar Presbyterian Church; Rev. Mr. Hazelwood, and Chaplain Perry of the Grand Orange Lodge of Canada. Following the proceedings at the home, the remains were taken to Victoria Cemetery, where the funeral oration was delivered by Dr. McGilvary.

The speaker referred briefly to the great service rendered to the church and the town by the deceased and his high esteem in which he was held by his brethren in the order. Rev. Mr. Hazelwood and Chaplain Perry also took part in the services. The funeral procession was then reformed and proceeded to Prospect Park Cemetery, where the remains were interred. Bro. Harry Lovelock reading the burial service on behalf of the Orange order.

The floral offerings were especially numerous and beautiful in design. Among these were: Gages, from the Ranger Club; triangle, Wallace Black Preceptory; ask, Golden Star, L.O.L., No. 800; wreath, deputy county L.O.L., Orange Young Britons; Maltese cross, I.O.F., West Toronto Junction; wreath, bible class Victoria Presbyterian Church; wreath, Toronto Junction Conservative Club; basket flowers, Elizabeth-street public school; wreath, L.O.L. Purple Star, No. 602; May and Mrs. Baird and many others.

The chief mourners were the widow, five sons and seven daughters of the deceased. The pall-bearers were: Bro. W. T. Hackett, R. G. Agnew, Dr. Hopkins, Chief Pittman, T. H. Thompson and F. Sheppard.

The grand lodge officers present were: Bro. W. T. Lee, H. Lovelock and John McKillop.

The late Mr. Irvine was county master of L.O.L. of West York, and the order of procession to-day was in charge of Deputy County Master T. G. Wallace of Woodbridge. Eglington Lodge was represented by Worshipful Master W. J. Douglas, and Coronation Lodge, East Toronto, by W. M. Robert Nimmo. Mrs. Leslie, wife of Joseph Leslie, had a successful operation performed yesterday and is doing well.

Certain rumors have been in the air that an hotel license was to be applied for to be operated on the western side of Toronto Junction, near the corner of Elizabeth and Annette-streets. So far the commissioners have received no official information concerning it, but the local opinion of the vicinity considered the report sufficiently serious to call together a council of war to oppose any license, whether of hotel, or otherwise. Hazelwood had heard of the intention, but stated that no building in the neighborhood would answer the requirements for hotel purposes, but was certain that the most strenuous opposition would be set up against a license, either for shop or hotel, or other public meeting will be held, but in the meantime a deputation will probably wait upon the license commissioners to protest against any licenses for liquor selling purposes being granted.

East Toronto.
East Toronto, March 19.—Irish night was duly celebrated by Acadia Lodge, No. 480, A.F. and A.M., last night. D.D.G.M. Ratcliffe of Rising Sun Lodge, Aurora, and many prominent brethren were present, as were some 30 members of the lodge. The program was headed by Most Worshipful Master Redford. After the regular business had been concluded the lodge adjourned from labor to refreshment, and a goodly program of songs, speeches and toasts and responses followed.

Companion Court Elaine, No. 409, I.O.F., will hold their regular meeting on Wednesday evening.

Deer Park.
Rev. D. C. Hossack delivered an address on "Present Day Problems" at a social entertainment held last night in the Deer Park Presbyterian Church.

"I believe," said Mr. Hossack, "that nearly all the problems of life are closely related. In the early periods of human existence on the earth, conditions were hard, and all down through the ages, all the great problems of life related to the soil. Whether educational, commercial, political or in matters of transportation.

"Transportation is one of the greatest problems of the present time, and if analyzed and traced to its source it is the soil. The great wars of history have been for the possession of the soil to the exclusion of the vanquished. People now are beginning to ask as they did in the days of King John 'when barons held their sway' if they surely have not some rights to the soil which is in the exclusive possession of the few. They are also beginning to realize that the great public utilities that are so profitable to corporations should be as much so to themselves if they could but operate them. And why can they not? Why should they not control the great natural water power producing forces and employ them to their own benefit? Or the street and other railways which in this age have become indispensable to comfort and business."

One great objection was that commercial enterprise would be eliminated and ambition destroyed with the result that we would retrograde thru no incentive to progress. Was it like a man with master mind and native energy caused a continent to be spanned by bands of steel and thus opened up development, civilization and new fields of industry, would ask into slothful inaction because the commercial monopoly was placed beyond his power?

The greatest deeds of the world had been achieved with the incentive of a goal related with gold.

Another objection was that it would

Doctors would lose a lot of business if men all had the good sense to wear raincoats in damp weather.

We have rubber coats—McIntoshes—that are absolutely waterproof. We have other lighter ones—Cravenettes—that are showerproof. The latter make very satisfactory spring overcoats too.

increase the public debt. If this were true there should be no private debt or liability on sound principle.

Another objection: if operated by the people there would be more like-ness than with private management. Did it not seem reasonable that in a multitude of counsel there would be wisdom? And that a collective body would not be prone to make the questionable investments common to individuals? Would the people be more foolish than the individual?

It was objected that it savors of socialism. It was stated the public utilities to revert to the people there would be no one in whom they could trust, to honestly operate them. Mr. Hossack strongly opposed this view. He believed the government of the future should so legislate that all public utilities, all industries in the interests of the people, all developments which make for common welfare would be resumed or purchased at an equitable value the very thing which the people of the people declared for possession.

EASY EXPORT OF CURRENT POLICY OF AYLESWORTH

Declines to Interfere With Companies Disposing of Niagara Power as They Wish.

Ottawa, March 19.—(Special.)—On the motion for the third reading of Mr. Aylesworth's bill, to regulate the export of electric power, Dr. Sproule asked that this stage be postponed until tomorrow, when W. F. Maclean (South York) would move the amendment, of which he had given notice.

Mr. Aylesworth was not aware that any notice had been given.

Dr. Sproule quoted the notice from Hansard, but the prime minister declined to postpone.

The house, therefore, proceeded with the bill and Mr. Borden offered an amendment, vesting the licensing power in the railway board, instead of the governor-in-council. He favored enlarging and changing its name. It should be strengthened and reorganized as the "public utilities commission."

Mr. Aylesworth thought the railroad board already had too much to do. The amendment was lost on division.

Dr. Sproule presented the amendment, of which notice had been given by W. F. Maclean, requiring the power companies to provide the same facilities in the way of transmission lines for the people of Canada as they furnish to the people of the United States.

Mr. Aylesworth objected to the amendment as unreasonably interfering with the export of Niagara power. He anticipated the objection, saying that the company could supply all the needs of Canada. Then why interfere with the other company's right to export its power to the United States? It seemed a waste of time.

Dr. Sproule was unable to see how there could be any Canadian customers if no transmission lines were built in Canada. The Maclean amendment was lost on division.

Mr. Lancaster (Lincoln) proposed an amendment forbidding any export of power from Canada and above the amount retained in Canada, and also requiring a surplus of 25,000 horsepower to be kept in Canada. This limitation would make effectively a complete ban on the power companies at Niagara Falls and the Province of Ontario.

Mr. Aylesworth would not accept the amendment.

Mr. Cockshutt believed that 200,000 horsepower could soon be consumed in Ontario. He anticipated the objection of the present steam railways. Power could be produced at Niagara Falls for $2 per horsepower.

Mr. Smith (Wentworth) made a strong speech in support of the amendment.

The bill was then read a third time and passed.

Labor Disputes Bill.
Upon the motion for the third reading of Mr. Lester's labor disputes bill, R. L. Borden pointed out that the railways' labor disputes bill was sufficient in his opinion for preventing and settling strikes upon railways.

The railway employees in the main were opposed to having saddled upon them the bill. At any rate, they demanded, and they had a right to be heard. They had never been before any committee, nor had they been afforded any opportunity to present their position.

He moved that the bill be not read a third time, but be referred to a special committee with instructions to grant a hearing to all classes affected by the bill.

Mr. Lemieux opposed this. It was the duty of the state not to permit a strike upon any great railway system until after there had been a most thorough investigation. He understood that the railway coal strike in the west was imminent, and it was therefore important to pass the bill as soon as possible.

Mr. Boursas thought that this legislation was largely experimental. It would soon have to be amended, and he would therefore vote against the Borden amendment.

He also protested against the measure being brought on members of parliament by the railway brotherhoods. He thought that the bill had been largely emasculated by the minister for political reasons.

He preferred a permanent tribunal or a number of them to be appointed after getting a report from every dispute. The board was not made up properly. Many a labor difficulty arises from friction between union and non-union men. In such a case who would designate the arbitrator to be appointed on behalf of the employees, the union or the non-union men?

More Trouble Coming.
