

MORE WAGES FOR FIREMEN

Fire and Light Committee Recommends an All Round Increase of Salaries.

ESTIMATES FOR 1903 PASSED

Chief Asked for More Than the Committee Was Inclined to Give for Increases.

If the City Council will accept the recommendation of the Fire and Light Committee, the firemen will receive an increase of wages all round. The desirability of the change was discussed at length yesterday afternoon, and although the increase are not as large as the chief recommended they will doubtless be appreciated by the men.

The chief made an earnest appeal for an increase of the wages for the firemen, and he said if what he asked was granted by the Council it would settle the wage question in the fire brigade for the next ten or fifteen years.

Ald. Fleming criticised the chief at length, and concluded that firemen should be paid enough wages to live on comfortably—that should be as liberal an amount as the Council thought it could be made.

Ald. Fleming agreed that $500 was not too much for a man with a family. The average of men entering the force is 24 years, and the man would be 27 before he got $800. When Chief Thompson was 27 he had a wife and six children. This was a convincing argument for more wages.

The change recommended by the committee are as follows:

Old scale.	New scale.
First year	$420 $450
Second year	525 550
Third year	630 655
Fourth year	735 760
Fifth year	840 865
Sixth year	945 970
Chief	2100 2500
Deputy chief	1365 1500
District chiefs	1155 1250
Assistant chiefs	840 1000
Telegraph Supt.	1050 1100
Telegraph Asst.	735 750
Foreman	630 650
Storekeeper	420 450

A new departure which was decided upon by the committee was the suggestion of the chief is the appointment from the men of the brigade of twenty-one assistant foremen at a salary of $800.

These increases will make a considerable addition to the estimates of the department of some $15,000. A summary of the estimates submitted, not providing for salary increases, gives a total of $214,816 needed for the fire department, compared with last year's expenditure of $110,000.

OPINION HAS CHANGED.

Senator Grows That Colonies Are Worth Something.

London, Feb. 4.—(Telegram cable)—Lord Onslow delivered an address at a British Empire League meeting in Edinburgh. He said that representatives of the colonies, who had been in this country had recognized that the disposition of our national forces, as seemed best, could only be settled from the heart of the empire. London, after consultation and consideration with representatives of the colonies, Lord Onslow referred to Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain in the very highest terms as the first statesman who had comprehended the confidence of the Empire.

The remainder of Bu Hamara's followers are reported to have been captured.

Awarded $10 for Stealer.

In the Assize Court yesterday afternoon, the jury in the slender case of Susan Doyle, a 17-year-old girl, against Mrs. Margaret Beahm, wife of the proprietor of the Red Star Restaurant on Jarvis-street, where the plaintiff was employed as a waitress, awarded her $10 damages. In charging the jury, Judge McMahon said that on an English construction of a statute the amount of damages should be verdict for the plaintiff, could not exceed $10. The foreman of the jury asked, if they would not be free to make the award higher, and was told no. Miss Doyle asked for $200.

HER HUSBAND WAS A DRUNKARD

A Lady Who Cures Her Husband of His Drinking Habits Writes of Her Struggle to Save Her Home.

A PATHETIC LETTER.

"I had for a long time been thinking of trying the Sarsaparilla Prescription treatment on my husband for his drinking habits, but I was afraid he would discover that I was giving him medicine, and the thought unnerved me. I hesitated for nearly a week, but one day when he came home very much intoxicated and his wife's salary nearly all spent, I threw off all fear and determined to make an effort to save our home from ruin. I saw coming at all hazards, I sent for your Sarsaparilla Prescription, and put in his coffee as directed next morning and watched and prayed for the result. At noon I gave him more and also supper. He never suspected a thing, and I then boldly kept on giving it regularly, as I had discovered something that every nerve in my my body tingled with hope and happiness, and I could see a bright future spread out before me. I was a happy, happy home, a share in the good things of life, an attentive loving husband, comfort, and everything else dear to a woman's heart; for my husband had told me that whiskey was his stuff and he was taking a dislike to it. It was only on the 10th day, before I had given him the full course he had dropped drinking altogether, but I kept giving him the medicine till it was gone, and then sent for another lot, to have on hand if he should relapse, as he had done from promises before. He never has relapsed, and in this letter to tell you how thankful I am. I honestly believe it will cure the worst cases."

The Claims of B.C.

Scott today and made application for better terms for British Columbia. They argued that a larger subsidy should be given owing to the cost of constructing public works and railways in British Columbia as compared with the other provinces, and because of the fact that British Columbia pays more into the Federal exchequer in the form of excise and customs duties than do other parts of Canada.

THE CASE OF ADAM CASE.

It is Practically Concluded and Judgment Will Be Reserved.

Before Mr. Justice Britton yesterday, Barrister A. Mills moved for a writ of mandamus to compel Magistrate Denison to impose a penalty of $400 and one year's imprisonment on Adam Case, convicted of perjury during the referendum vote, and for other offences. The Commissioner of the Court, Mr. Justice, Vincent O'Neill, George Armstrong and Bernard Tye—all convicted on similar charges and fined $50 each. The Commissioner's objection to the lightness of this sentence, their reading of the act before the magistrate had no option but to enforce the penalty of a year's imprisonment. An appeal to the Attorney-General bringing no result, they took the initiative themselves, and today's motion is the result. Mr. Mills is asking to have Judge Britton himself pronounce the sentence, a recent statute having had, Mr. Mills says, the effect of giving the judge this power. In default of this he asks for a writ of mandamus to compel Magistrate Denison to do so. Mr. Justice, K.C., and Mr. Cameron, K.C., who appear for Case, deny the jurisdiction of the court to hear the case at all, on the grounds that this being a criminal matter, can only be disposed of before a Divisional Court of three judges. They also argue that the original warrant, which was issued before the referendum, was irregular, and that Case must, therefore, be released. In the event of Case's release on this charge he could be brought before the judge to be appointed by the Governor to try the charges of the Stamp Act. The case is in the hands of the Crown Attorney Dewar.

AT THE THEATRES.

Princess-Francis Wilson in "The Toreador." Grand Julian and Walter's "Imperial Minstrels."

One of the most noteworthy events of the present theatrical season will be the engagement of the distinguished English actress, Mrs. Patrick Campbell, at the Princess Theatre, beginning next Monday night. Mrs. Campbell made an extraordinary hit in this city last season, and her present visit will be all the more welcome from the fact that during her engagement she will present a new play, besides appearing in other roles in which she has won distinction. The most important of the new productions will be the presentation of Herman Suderman's great play, "Die Lebe das Leben," translated into English by Mrs. Campbell and given the title in English, "The Joy of Living." This play will be repeated on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights. For the Wednesday matinee she will appear in her great role of Faustine in "The Second Language." The production of "The Joy of Living" will be one of the most notable dramatic literary events in recent years. The play won an extraordinary success, being given over 100 performances at the Deutsches Theatre, a very remarkable record in Germany. The cast is a very fine one, headed by Mrs. Campbell, supported by Frederick Kerr and her London company. Sales of seats commence this morning.

There was an old-time who saw Francis Wilson in "The Toreador" at the Princess last night, and he became a bit reminiscent with his money in his pocket. "I would give Francis Wilson $1000," he said, "if he will give me just once a year the fall which he used to give in 'The Toreador'." He was not alone. A number of years ago, long before he became the success in "Ermione" and a star. As I remember it, he used to give away a pocket handkerchief a great deal, and when the time came for the fall, he would give it to the fall which he used to give in "The Toreador." He was not alone.
