wide from shore to shore, filled with debris of all kinds, the water being above the track for some rods. In some places the tracks are undermined entirely, some of the electric posts being washed out. A piece of electric wire in some way became detached, falling on the fence with the electric fluid. One person was killed and a shock, and after that the sight-seers gave the fence a wide berth.

The Clarendon brothers occupied the pulpit at Brick Street Church on Sunday. The gentlemen arrived late on account of mistaking the road, but they made good use of the time that was at their disposal.

One night last week a little party of Grits met from Woodbank sat down to a delicious oyster supper. The oysters were fine; there was no Grit in the soup; they were paid for by a prophet of the Beck persuasion, who predicted that Mr. Beck would be elected by a majority of one.

It must be admitted that with a grace worthy of a better cause.

Last night the Brick street tea-meeting took place.

Hugh McCurdy Before the Police Court for Non-Support—A Story-teller Finished.

Hugh McCurdy, pale and abashed, stood up in the dock at the police station this morning, took a sheepish look at Magistrate Parke and then sat down again.

"McCurdy," said the magistrate, "I thought you told me you had been drinking altogether since you came from China."

"Oh, dear! I don't know," said Hugh, with a sigh.

"There is a more serious charge against you—non-support of your wife."

McCurdy's condition was such as to render him unfit for trial, and he was remanded for a week. McCurdy has been before the court as a drunk 60 times.

John Murphy, who died about his address and family in Toronto, was sent down for three months.

"After me working hard all winter!" "You should have told me the truth," replied the magistrate.

"A LADY OF QUALITY."

Julia Arthur Warmly Received in London—A Brilliant Production—Enthusiastic Curtain Calls.

Julia Arthur, the brilliant young Canadian actress, was splendidly received by a London audience at the Grand last night, and realized the desire of her heart which had been formed by those who knew her only by reputation. The performance was given with metropolitan completeness, even to scenic detail. The play, "A Lady of Quality," has all the picturesque and has a romantic dash and color that give it a sensational appeal.

Smoothness, finish and color that give it a sensational appeal. The novel suffers somewhat by compression into dramatic form. The strong scenes are elaborated with skill, and the emotional powers find the fullest expression in the most thrilling climax, the murder of Oton, was magnificent in its passionate energy, and not overwrought. The subtle suggestion of latent force was revealed in the less intense passages and she stamped her personality on every act and word. The tribute to the young actress, who was called before the curtain after every act. Her company is well proportioned, every role being in superior hands.

MUSICAL TREAT

And Literary Entertainment at Wellington Street Methodist Church.

A very delightful musical and literary entertainment was given in the Wellington Street Methodist Church last night, before a large audience. It was held under the auspices of the Church Improvement Society, and the proceeds will go to help the society in the work of the church. The choir, under the leadership of Prof. R. Focock, contributed to the programme by rendering two songs, "The Chimes of Normandy" and "Wynken, Blynken and Nod," in their usually effective and stirring manner. Miss Pickard taking Howard, a talented young elocutionist, captivated the audience by her own encoiled. Those who contributed in no less a degree to the success of the evening were: Mrs. A. W. Winnett, solo; "Hush-a-Bye," Miss Cooke; double quartet, eight ladies; solo, Miss Myra Pickard; violin solo, Prof. Focock; Mr. W. H. Hewlett was accompanied. The organ solos were rapturously applauded, as was also the instrumentalists by Miss Annie Downs, to whose taste and ability the success of the entertainment is in a large measure due.
