Pennsylvania Authority Says That IN THE MUSICAL MELANGE for Small Expenditure Great Good Would Result

A. Kelly Evans' resolution, opposing provinces alienating large tracts of public land for private game preserves by leasing to syndicates, was voted down at yesterday's session of the North American Fish and Game Protective Association, Hon. C. R. Devlin, minister of colonization, mines and tisheries for Quebec, defended the policy of his government in leasing territories to clubs for fishing and hunting purposes. Quebec had strict game laws, and they were enforced, he said. So far as the clubs were concerned, the most that was given them was a lease of ten years' duration. He believed in provincial autonomy and would take no advice from people outside of his own province.

mr. Townsend of Philadelphia and Mr. Richards, another United States member, also spoke against the resolution, in reply to which Mr. Evans declared that these gentlemen were interested in these private game clubs.

A paper on "Wild Life" was read by Cy Warman, in which he scored Roosevelt for the character of his sporting achievements.

Cy Warman, in which he scored Roosevelt for the character of his sporting achievements.

E. W. Meehan, commissioner of fisheries for Pennsylvania, reported on the conservation of the non-nest-building fish of the great lakes. The cost of gathering these fish and their hatching on an extensive scale was comparatively small. Pennsylvania, for example, hatched over 250,000,000 white fish, lake herring, yellow perch and blue pike annually at less than $5000. The supply of these species was increasing, and he recommended that Canada and the United States give the fishermen a free hand and abolish the close season. All that was required was to see to it that a sufficient number of hatcheries were provided to develop all ripe eggs taken from fish caught in the nets. The months of July and August might however, be made "close."

The following officers were elected: President A. C. Meehan, Philadelphia; secretary-treasurer, E. T. D. Chambers, Quebec; vice-presidents, Hon. L. R. Carlton, Augusta, Me; F. S. Hodges, Boston; Henry Russell, Detroit; Hon, C. H. Grimmer, St. Stephen; A. Kelly Evans, Toronto; Dr. J. T. Finnie, Montreal; F. G. Butterfield, Derby Line, Vt.; S. A. McGrath, Franklin; Dr. George E. Porter, Bridgeport, Conn. Next year's meeting will be in Philadelphia.
