LOOK OVER KING'S PLATE ELIGIBLES

ever the King's plate eligibles, the possible outcome of which will prevail as the most important and oft-repeated query in many conversations of the day from now until May 22, when the sportloving public will assemble in thousands to see the most historic race in Canada once again pass into history.

Conversation with the best versed horsemen reveals no outstanding candidate at the present. The race is still regarded as an open event with the chances favoring three stables, the Seagram entry, the Giddings' eligibles, and the Dyment contribution that have not been asked for a stiff work since their grival at the track. Two other eligibles have incited general admiration, the bay gelding. Bugle March, and the Cornell entry. Glow Worm. Incidentally both these entrants are Davies' castoffs and conceded Better than either of the three that the farm has still named in the event. Bugle March has already worked the distance in very creditable time, 245 1-5, while Glow Worm ran a mile in 144 without little efforts. On Saturday morning the Giddings' pair, Bencher and Primo, negotiated the journey in 2.14 2-5, with the former leading at the end.

Watch Crown of Gold.
Considerable public sentiment appears in favor of the Seagram brown colt.
Crown of Gold, by Galatine, and out of Cruche d'Or. He has had some experience and ran third at Havre de Grace last fall. A beautiful, fair-sized, strongboned colt, he should stand the long route. Gallant Kitty, from the same stable, is likened unto a painting by some great equine artist; so beautiful is she in conformation, but the opinion is that she will not carry colors in the great event as she favors a shorter race. Strength is added to this rumon from the fact she was bred to Ypsilanti and will henceforth be retained as a brood mare. The handsome big mare, Gala Dress, will also bid adieu to the turf this season, since she, too, has been bred to the same horse.

The Seagram horses were not out on Sunday, only for breezing, they having all worked on Saturday, when Crown of candidates to the post is now assured from the fact that Gockeys Rodriguez and Richcreek have been retained, while a third will be procured if the showing of that number warrants such notion, and the public can rest assured that Trainer Bringlee will give more emphatic instructions to the boys not to indulge in that foolish and costly act of racing one another to death, for, judging from his remarks, he has not as yet pardoned the jockeys who rode the Seagram horses last year for their lack of discretion in this respect.

Joe Doane's Gray Filly.

Trainer Joe Doane has added to his already large string the handsome two-year-old gray filly by the King's horse. Anmer, and out of the Davies mare, Grey Nun. She is a handsome and danty-looking little misc, that has an attractive way of going, while her color makes her a very conspicuous individual en the running turf, where broken colors are seldom seen. She was given a smart gallop yesterday.

During the past week the Giddings two-year-old, Heath Belle, has been complimented repeatedly for her good looks and sensational speed. She is about as speedy a youngster as has ever been seen at the local track, and apparently is endowed with the strength and physical make-up to carry it. Her chances for annexing the Coronation Stakes increase at every work.

Trainer John Coleman is highly elated byer the progress of the Thorncliffe 2-year-olds and predicts they will be prominent at the forthcoming meet. Of these Southern Shore and Witch Flower have shown best. Breaking from the barrier Saturday the former in company with Fuse, ran a half in 51, with Southern Shore leading at the finish. In a lonely move Witch Flower worked a half in 50 2-5. Of the platers the good looking mare, Rose Richmond seems the pick. Three-quarters was here-task from the barrier Saturday the former in company with Fuse, ran a half in 51, with Southern Shore leading. The Mysterious Stable were out for fresh air Sunday and the crowd was rather impressed with the work of the Mysterious Lady and Gallant Groom working as follows: quarter in 25, three-eights in 38, five-eights in 1.04, with the colored dame slightly in the fead. Trainer Monaught worked Black Star a half in 52. About the best three-quarters shown so far this spring is by the reliable race mare, Statim, who ran that distance Saturday in 1.16, 25.

Meaning of the word "Semi-ready"

AS a trade mark name "Semi-ready" was applied in 1897 to clothes tailored by the Semi-ready Company. It was a coined word, made up to identify men's clothes made by this Company.

Coupled with the name there was invented a physique system which permitted the unlimited tailoring of higher class woollens and materials without risk to the merchant of having any garments left in stock.

The trade mark name is registered, and under common law cannot be used by any other maker, nor rightly applied to any other clothes than those made in the Semi-ready tailor shops and for which we have the exclusive sale.

If you ask at any other store for "Semiready", and you are shown something not Semi-ready Tailoring of Semi-ready manufacture, you do not get what you ask for, which is unfair to you and

If it hasn't the label in the pocket it isn't

Winners in the Dr. Chase Baseball Contest

Guesses were all the way from 500 to 54,000. Mr. Warwick guessed the exact number and gets the McLeod Bicycle

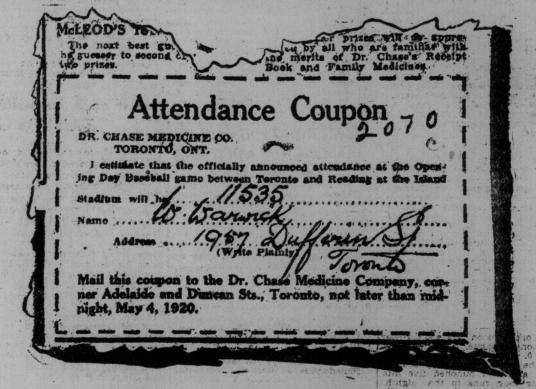

The Dr. Chase Medicine Co. office has been a busy place for a few days, for Coupon Letters came rolling in by the thousands, many outof-town people joining in the Competition.

There were altogether about 7,000 replies received, but only one person guessed the exact attendance. Some people got excited and guessed the winning team instead of the at-

When so many took the trouble to send in coupons, there must have been many others who were interested in the Competition. As a matter of fact, many a conversation on the ferry boats and in the Stadium was in regard to the attendance and who would win in the Dr. Chase Guessing Contest.

Some imagined they would soon be riding around on a brand new McLeod bicycle, while others declared that they would be satisfied if they won Dr. Chase's Receipt Book, or a dozen boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Each coupon was numbered as received, and this information was required in deciding between the fourth and fifth prizes. Mr. Patterson's coupon was the 2,130th, while Mr. Parchim's was numbered 6,137. Coupons mailed May 5th were not counted as one of the rules of the contest was that coupons must be mailed May 4th.
