THE VATICAN THUNDERS AGAINST FEMININE FASHIONS Official Organ of the Church Declares Popular Styles of Dress Excite the Passions and Lower the Moral Tone -Women Should Exercise Greater Modesty

NEW YORK, July 8.—A Paris dispatch to the Times says that the issue of the Observatore Romano, the organ of the Vatican, which reached Paris last night, contains a scathing denunciation of the tendencies of the feminine fashions of today. Taking as its text the petition against the immoral press forwarded by the Catholic ladies to the minister of the interior and signed by several thousand Italian women, the Observatore says: "We hope the competent authorities will apply the law against these new Aesopian stables. At the same time we cannot but deplore another danger to good morals which comes to us from other countries, and against which we men might well unite. We refer to the fashions worn in the streets by women of all ages and by young girls. "Those who profess with ardent Catholic faith and morals should not be indulgent toward women who walk about the streets wearing immodest garments. All the present day fashions are designed to excite the passions, to lead the mind to the forbidden, to be the reflections of the bountiful of the streets, and therefore fruitful in moral and well-being. "Cleanse these unholly wardrobes, rid them of their dresses which make the wearer's guarding angels weep, let your wives and daughters make their own clothes rather than wear dresses which grieve the holy spirit and the father of truth."

COMMITTED SUICIDE WHILE CRAZY FROM LIQUOR James Murphy, of Newcastle, Jumped Out of Hotel Window and Drowned Himself in the River

NEWCASTLE, July 8.—A man suspected to be James Murphy, a native of Newcastle, and later a resident of Doaktown, for some time working in Maine, returned home this week. He was drinking heavily and came to the Harris House here, Wednesday night. He took delirium tremens and yesterday when he became violent the proprietor sent for a policeman. The man quieted down and Dr. Desmond was sent for. The doctor went out to get the police to send a man to stay with the sick man. Murphy became violent again and asked Proprietor Harris for a knife. While Harris went away to lock the up-stairs window, ran to the ferry wharf about one o'clock this morning, and drowned himself. The body was found nearby about 2.30. The body was identified by the deceased's half-brother, William Gould, of Nelson. Murphy was about twenty-five. He left a gold watch and one hundred and seventeen dollars cash with Harris. An inquest will be held.

NEXT YEAR'S CONFERENCE WILL HAVE A BUSY TIME

Many Important Subjects Suggested for the Pan-American Congress at Buenos Ayres.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—International regulation of aerial navigation and wireless telegraphy will receive prominent consideration at the fourth Pan-American conference, to be held at Buenos Ayres, Argentina, July next, if the tentative programme prepared for that occasion is approved finally. The committee on programme which has just made public its report to the governing board of the international bureau of the American republics considered the rapid advancement along these lines in the last few years justified these subjects being placed in the programme for discussion. "The questions of uniformity in census and commercial statistics, of uniformity in customs regulations and consular documents of sanitary police and quarantine, of the establishment of greater stability in commercial relations and of a more uniform monetary standard, foreign immigration, naturalization, neutrality in case of civil war, and uniformity of regulations for protection against anarchists are other subjects mentioned. Much attention will doubtless be given to the proposed Pan-American railway now being considered by noted New York financiers."

WESTON IS HUSTLING.

GISCO, Calif., July 9.—Edward Payson Weston arrived here shortly after midnight after a walk of 43 miles. After resting until 7 a. m. he left through the snow sheds toward the Sacramento Valley. Weston was feeling in the best of spirits and announced that he expected to reach Sacramento Saturday afternoon and San Francisco the following Tuesday.

SENATE FINISHES THE TARIFF BILL

Passed at a Session Which Lasted Till Midnight Congressmen are Assembled Today to Have the Last Word on This Much Discussed Measure.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The scene of the great battle over the tariff bill shifts now from the Senate to the House of Representatives. The members of the house, rallying to the call of the whip, flocked from all directions to Washington yesterday and today, and the outlook this morning was that when the house convened at noon there would be a full attendance on both sides to witness the bill over which the Senate wrestled yesterday until nearly midnight.

The final vote in the Senate passing the bill by a vote of 55 to 34 was announced at 11.15 p. m. after a weary day of protracted debate which was almost devoid of animation, until within a few minutes before the close, when there arose a sharp controversy over the party standing of the insurgent republican senators, several of them hotly resenting being voted out of the party by Senator Aldrich, who disclaimed any such intention.

The house had arranged yesterday to be in session at noon today in the hope that the bill could be received from the Senate by that time and then was prospect of a full attendance in anticipation of its arrival. It early came to be understood, however, that the measure probably would not be received during the day because of the laborious task upon the Senatorial clerical force in the enrollment for the other body.

TELL ABOUT A LIVELY TIME IN THE CURREY HOUSEHOLD

MANY MIRACULOUS CURES AT ST. ANNE DE BEAUPRE First Train Returning From Shrine Reaches Moncton With Seven Who Have Received Benefit.

MONCTON, N. B., July 9.—With seven cures among the passengers the first pilgrim excursion train from St. Anne De Beaupre arrived at Moncton at 10.30 this morning. The train was in charge of Father Mombourquette, Archat, C. B., and J. H. Corcoran, Moncton. Seven who have been cured returned home on this train. Greta White, of Sydney Mines, has been deaf and partially blind for fourteen years, and now her affliction is completely cured. Sadie Gillis, of Antigonish, went to St. Anne De Beaupre on crutches and returned without them. Annie McGilivray, of Antigonish, who has been lame for 24 years, almost since the day of her birth, is now able to walk as well as anyone. Margaret Chisholm, of Antigonish, has for the past eleven years been suffering from paralysis and rheumatism and is now fully recovered.

Mrs. Frank Lesere, Sackville, has been cured of lameness from which she has been suffering for one year, and Mrs. A. Haines, of Blackville, was completely cured of dropsy and rheumatism. Louise Phelan, Chatham, has for eighteen years been suffering from a sore foot and is now cured. Mrs. McCarthy, Moncton, went away with crutches and at Lewis station last evening walked the whole length of the platform. The pilgrims were cross-examined by Mr. Skinner. He said to Mrs. Currey when she addressed him: "You ought to be so happy. You two are foolish to get this war."

Mr. Flood said he knew the Currey children and always considered them properly cared for and well dressed. The witness was cross-examined by Mr. Skinner. He said to Mrs. Currey when she addressed him: "You ought to be so happy. You two are foolish to get this war."

Arthur Munde, next called, said he remembered the morning of July 15th, 1906. Early that morning, about one o'clock, he left his place of business and when opposite the Currey residence he heard a woman screaming and a man talking very loudly. He went into an alley next the residence and saw an open window. He heard the woman say two or three times, "Let me go." The witness went in. Currey was in the hall at the head of the stairs, she beside him. The reason he went in was because a boy came out, crying: "Mister! Come in, father is killing mother!" Mrs. Currey was in hysterics. The witness asked Currey if he had struck her and he denied it. Currey told the witness about the writ being served. There was only another man in the yard and he went in the house with him. There were a great many people looking from the surrounding windows. The witness swore positively that he had made no cross-examination to be there.

A band concert was given in City Hall Park in the forenoon and in the afternoon there were trotting races at the track of the Burlington Driving Club.

HEAVY TRAVEL TODAY

There was a heavy traffic by rail and steamboat this morning. The Union Depot was the scene of more than ordinary activity. The outgoing and incoming trains were taxed to their utmost capacity. Additional cars were provided to accommodate the large number of travellers.

The Calvin Austin arrived from Boston about 9 o'clock bringing 568 passengers. The majority went out on the noon train.

Saturday and Monday will also be heavy days, as large numbers will reach the city to attend the Orangeville celebration.

Among the passengers on the Calvin Austin today was Frederick M. Berryman, of San Francisco. It is over forty years since Mr. Berryman left St. John. Berryman, formerly leaving St. John he was in the hardware business with W. A. Adams, father of Arthur Adams. At San Francisco he is engaged in the wholesale coal business.

Joseph Foley was arrested this morning on the charge of assaulting two men in Sayre's mill. He will be tried this afternoon.

Several St. John Men Who Were Present on One Exciting Occasion Describe What They Saw and Heard—Child Had Asked Them to Come In

FREDERICTON, N. B., July 8.—The Currey divorce case was continued this morning. After the evidence of George E. Vincent, Alfred Peatman, Elias Currey and Alice Eversen, taken at the former hearing, had been read, John Flood, of St. John, was called and examined by Mr. Hamington. He said that he lived about one hundred yards from the Currey residence. He was passing the latter house one Sunday in August, 1907, when he heard a woman screaming. He looked up and saw a woman in a window and a man in a night shirt take hold of her and pull her back and close the window. A boy was standing at the door crying out. The witness entered the house and saw Mrs. Currey, coming down the stairs with a little girl by her side. Mrs. Currey, who was up stairs, shouted down: "Don't believe a damn word she says."

Mrs. Flood said: "This man has been abusing me all the time." The boy at the door cried to the witness, "Wolnister, come in, my father is killing my mother!"

Mr. Flood said he knew the Currey children and always considered them properly cared for and well dressed. The witness was cross-examined by Mr. Skinner. He said to Mrs. Currey when she addressed him: "You ought to be so happy. You two are foolish to get this war."

Arthur Munde, next called, said he remembered the morning of July 15th, 1906. Early that morning, about one o'clock, he left his place of business and when opposite the Currey residence he heard a woman screaming and a man talking very loudly.
