

COLONIAL TROOPS

Reviewed By His Majesty King Edward VII.

The Canadian Coronation Contingent Was Disguised in a Variety of Uniforms—The King's Address of Welcome and Thanks.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Col. Turner and the Canadian contingent, though few compared with the Australasians, showed up well individually at the King's review, today, but the variety of their uniforms rather destroyed the effect. Especially the questioner was asked: "Where are the Canadians?" even when they were passing.

The troops were marched single file past the King, who was seated under a canopy, with the Queen and the children of the Prince of Wales. The King returned each man's salute smilingly. The little Princess were delighted. The Prince of Wales handed each man a coronation medal, shaking hands with Colonel Turner.

The King spoke words of warmest welcome, and there was tremendous cheering. Canadian lungs were splendidly in evidence.

The troops next marched by in fours, the King, Lord Kitchener and Lord Roberts standing in front of the canopy.

Queen Alexandra afterwards left the canopy and moved among the guests, shaking hands with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Lady Laurier, Sir Frederick Borden and Lady Borden, and other Canadians present.

King Edward looked somewhat fatigued and limped slightly. Everyone will be glad to learn that he will get away for a holiday in the Highlands after the naval review.

(Associated Press.) LONDON, Aug. 12.—Two thousand colonial troops here to attend the coronation, including the Canadian contingent, were reviewed by King Edward this afternoon on the grounds of Buckingham Palace. The Prince of Wales on behalf of his majesty, distributed the coronation medals to those entitled to them. The King inspected the troops from the terrace where he was accompanied by Queen Alexandra, Prince and Princess Henry of Prussia and other royal personages, Earl Roberts, the commander-in-chief, General Lord Kitchener, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chamberlain, several colonial premiers, and King Lewanika of Barotseland, all of whom showed keen interest in the picturesque body of men arrayed in vari-colored uniforms as they marched past in single file.

The King personally fastened the Victoria Cross on the breast of Sergeant Lawrence, the first man in line, after which he retired to the shade of an awning and left the distribution of medals to the Prince of Wales. When all had received their medals, the troops advanced and presented arms, while the massed bands played the national anthem.

The King stepped forward and delivered an animated address, which was greeted with cheers and waving of hats by the troops. The King said: "It has afforded me great pleasure to see you here today and to have the opportunity of expressing my high appreciation of your patriotism and the way you distinguish yourself in South Africa. The services you have rendered the mother country will never be forgotten by me, and they will, I am sure, command my firmest thanks over the union of our distant colonies with the other parts of my great empire. Your stay in England has been longer than originally intended, owing to my illness, but I hope you have enjoyed it and derived pleasure from visits to various parts of the land of your ancestors. God bless you all. I wish you a safe and pleasant return to your own countries."

TRURO ACCEPTS I. C. R. OFFER. TRURO, N. S., Aug. 12.—At a meeting of the town council this evening the question of the supply of water to the I. C. R. department was thrashed out and about settled. The council voted four to one in favor of accepting the I. C. R.'s offer of $1,200 per year for five years.

Impromptu Coronation Day Celebration Out of Town.

The Tragic Death of John Cable—J. L. Stewart a Confirmed Odd Fellow—The McNaughton Memorial.

CHATHAM, Aug. 12.—Coronation day was observed in a half-hearted manner in this locality owing to a feeling that Saturday was "a poor day for a holiday," whereas if the town officials had a week previous announced the day to be celebrated everyone would have made preparation. Nearly all kept open for part of the day, whilst some kept open all day.

Excursions down river "by wind and steam" were the main features of the celebration. The St. George conveyed a merry party of Snowball Co. employees, the Alexandra was loaded to near her limit with a pleasure seeking gathering, whilst a party in a schooner set sail the previous night on a cod-fishing excursion, which pastime was also indulged in by several other crafts off Escuminae light. Keeper McLennan of the lighthouse welcomed all those who visited his lonely retreat and displayed all the available bunting in honor of the day, beside which some of the transients of the Point had erected a beautiful arch of evergreens, which are greatly admired by the youth and beauty of Morning Cove and the factories, who made a holiday visitation.

Some of the vessels lying off the Point on Friday evening were somewhat mystified by certain unusual sounds, which were located near the light, and upon launching a boat to make investigation it was found that what was taken for a new fog alarm or steam siren was nothing less than the strains of the Cook of the North, which was being rendered by Harry McLennan on the bangs. The fishermen returned to their vessel, no longer wondering why their catch of fish was not in evidence that night, but before leaving made very careful inquiry how long the pipe intended remaining.

Rev. Mr. Wilkinson held a very pleasing celebration of the day at Bay Du Vin and the display of bunting, flags and evergreens was singularly effective. All along on both sides of the river were to be observed a great number of less display as befitting the royal occasion.

At Chatham the town bands discoursed melody and harmony during the day and the display of fireworks concluded the public function.

The tragic death of John Cable cast a gloom over the settlement of Upper Napton, where the young man died. He was coming to Chatham on Sunday to church, in company with his cousin, both being on bicycles, and when some distance south of the Searle road his wheel caught in a rut in the cart track, resulting in wheel rider being precipitated with violence on the wooden covering of a cuivert. Poor Cable was rendered unconscious and was conveyed as tenderly as possible to the home of his father, where he lingered until Thursday, when death ended his suffering. He was an industrious young man, a general favorite, and his death is greatly deplored by the people of town and country.

Editor Stewart of the World has just returned from a visit to the scenes of his youth on the Upper St. John, near Woodstock, and has many entertaining yarns of his adventures in the "wild and woolly west" of New Brunswick about the year 1810. The genial J. L. has disappeared again on a pilgrimage to P. B. I., but then he is an odd fellow, and it appears as if he intended remaining odd. Miss Stewart and Miss Mott of St. John have gone on the Chatham trip. Mrs. A. P. Henderson of Boston, who has made quite a visit to her friends here, is about returning to Boston.

The McNaughton memorial erected last week on Haymarket square near the World office. It is an iron structure, with drinking place for men and horses and dogs, which includes a pillar for the memory of H. Gordon McNaughton, who fell a victim to fever whilst serving his country in South Africa in the Constabulary.

REV. H. H. COSMAN, Superintendent of Seamen's Mission Will Return to Pastoral Work.

Rev. H. H. Cosman, who has tendered his resignation as superintendent of the Seamen's Mission, chiefly because his health will no longer stand the strain, has done splendid work during the time he has filled the position. His duties, as manager and missionary combined have really been too great for one man, and it is probable that ere long there will be one to manage the home and one to the missionary work. Rev. Mr. Cosman has in contemplation a return to pastoral work in Nova Scotia, where he spent some eight years, before coming to the Seamen's Mission. While here he has won the respect of the sailors and the esteem of all the citizens by his zeal and energy for the mission. The institution has grown in public confidence under his management, and if now he departs he will take with him the good wishes of the citizens.

CHATHAM'S MEMORIAL FOUNDATION.

The fund which the Chatham Community started a short time ago for the purpose of erecting a public memorial to Strooper McNaughton, who lost his life at Heidelberg last December, whilst serving in the South African constabulary, met with such popular favor that enough money was subscribed to erect a handsome drinking fountain. The memorial was set up in Haymarket square, Chatham, last week. It is an iron structure, surmounted by a electric light, is provided with drinking cups and also with a long and painful illness, which he bore with patience and fortitude. Deceased was a most estimable lady, and had "nearly" herself to a very large circle, extending far beyond that of her immediate family. She was a daughter of Robert Hancock of Belfast, Ireland, from which place she came some fifty years ago, to take charge of the millinery department of John and William Magee's dry goods store, then situated at the northeast corner of Prince William and Princess streets, St. John, with which firm she spent the first years of her residence in this province. After her marriage she continued to have her home in the city, until Mr. Fairweather gave up the Park Hotel, which he had successfully operated for many years, and returned to his farm on the Passes Road, half a mile above Hampton Station, where they have lived ever since, until death intervened. Besting in the stricken husband there are left to mourn their bereavement three sons and four daughters. Fred and John, who live New York, and George, for many years a departmental clerk at Ottawa; Mrs. E. A. Flewelling of Ferry Point, Kings Co., Mrs. John R. Crawford of Lakeside, Mrs. Ed. Harrington of New York, and Miss Fannie, who resides at home. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed at the present writing. The sympathy of the whole community is extended to the sorrowing family.

Last Wednesday one Alfred D. Murray of Penobscot was committed to goal here by Stipendiary Magistrate R. Earle for 38 days, to satisfy a claim of C. S. Gorgin, for goods sold and delivered. On Saturday R. Le-Bout Treadwell, K. C., secured a writ of habeas corpus directed to the sheriff to bring the prisoner before Judge Wedderburn, in chambers, at the Court House, on Tuesday, August 12th, and show cause why he should not be set at liberty. The ground taken is that the magistrate exceeded his jurisdiction, his power to commit extending to sixty days only.

The Rev. W. W. Lodge returned from his visit to Chatham on Friday, and occupied his pulpit in the Methodist church at both services yesterday. Thomas H. Carvell, whose health is now quite restored, after his spring and summer recruiting on his farm, which overlooks the Hampton marshes, has received a generous, spontaneous and gratifying offer from the Stamping and Enamel Ware Company of Pittsburgh, Penn., to resume his former position with them. He has accepted and will leave on Wednesday, C. P. E. train, to take up his duties, at least for the cool season. Should his health prove insufficient for the strain, he will return to his old home, where his daughter, Mrs. M. J. Ryan, will remain in charge of her aunt and uncle, Mrs. and John Lloyd. Dr. J. J. Ryan and his brother, Geo.

FREE BOOK ON STOMACH TROUBLES.

The reason Dr. Sproule's book is plain is because he understands his subject thoroughly. It is his specialty. The book is the result of eighteen years of experience and of nearly 38,000 successfully treated cases. His method of treatment is the only one suitable for long-standing and stubborn troubles of the stomach, or digestive apparatus. In his book this famous specialist and great hearted philanthropist gives you the benefit of all his years of toil and research. He realizes how much dreadful suffering of mind as well as body are caused by these ailments. In his book he shows how in time the disease grows more and more painful and spreads until it affects the liver and bowels also, weakens the blood and poisons and irritates the nerves. He describes the dreadful gnawing regularities of the bowels, the nausea, the increasing weakness, the irritable, exhausted feelings, mental depression, pain and palpitation of the heart; any one or all of which are likely to appear as the result of neglected or wrongly treated diseases of the stomach.

He explains so any one can understand why ordinary treatments also are often followed by failure, and how simple and easy is the right method. If you or any friend of yours are suffering from Disease of the Stomach, Dr. Sproule Will Send You This Book Free.

This book was written for you. It is fully illustrated at great expense, so that you cannot fail to understand. Nothing has been spared to make this book a real help to discouraged humanity. Dr. Sproule's deep love and thorough sympathy with you who suffer have made him gladly give up not only money and his spare minutes during the day, but places his much needed rest at night. For years he has had this book in mind, planning how he could most clearly teach the people of this great continent the truths that so much needed to know and which no one else could tell them. And now he offers you this book with the earnest wish that it may be the means of bringing help and encouragement to many among his poor, down-hearted, almost hopeless fellow beings.

If you have any trouble with your digestion, any pains, bloating, belching, or variable appetite, don't neglect yourself. Send for this book. It will explain your trouble and prove the means of leading you back to PERFECT HEALTH.

Death of Mrs. Humbert Fairweather—A Most Estimable Lady—General News.

HAMPTON, Kings Co., Aug. 11.—Mrs. Humbert Fairweather entered into rest this morning at 4 o'clock, after a long and painful illness, which she bore with patience and fortitude. Deceased was a most estimable lady, and had "nearly" herself to a very large circle, extending far beyond that of her immediate family. She was a daughter of Robert Hancock of Belfast, Ireland, from which place she came some fifty years ago, to take charge of the millinery department of John and William Magee's dry goods store, then situated at the northeast corner of Prince William and Princess streets, St. John, with which firm she spent the first years of her residence in this province. B. Ryan, arrived from Paris, via New York, on Saturday, and rejoined the family circle at their beautiful home at Lakeside.

Mr. Cosper, of Manchester, Robertson & Allison's establishment, who has been camping for ten days at St. Martins, returned to the city today. Miss P. J. Buckman, who has been spending a few weeks here with her sister, Mrs. John March, went to St. John on Saturday, and after visiting relatives there, will extend her trip to Penfield and Beaver Harbor, Charlotte county.

Alderman Hamm looked up his old friends here last Friday, and was congratulated on his youthful and vigorous appearance.

Mr. and Mrs. Odier W. Slipp of the west side of St. John, spent Sunday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. McLeod. The banns of marriage between Miss Alice Wedderburn, daughter of Judge Wedderburn, and the Rev. H. Irvine Lynds, rector of St. George, Charlotte county, were published in the Anglican church here yesterday. The wedding is said to be fixed for Thursday next, August 14th, at 8.30 p. m., in the parish church at Lakeside.

LOOKING SERIOUS.

Troops to Watch Strip Claimed by Canada.

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 9.—Skagway advices are to the effect that the government has started the work of establishing the largest military post in Alaska, at Haines' Mission, contiguous to the disputed Alaskan territory. Russ, an engineer, accompanied by a detail of soldiers, has gone to Haines to survey the military reservation there, preliminary to the location of buildings for a new army post.

The reservation is being enlarged to embrace six square miles, with the apparent object of providing facilities for a large number of soldiers of each branch of the service. Barracks are to be built to accommodate 600 men. Captain Summerall, in command of the company stationed at Skagway, will join the party in the field at Haines and have general charge of the work. Residents of Alaska interpret this action as meaning that President Roosevelt and his advisers purpose to take a firm stand in protecting United States interests in the strip of territory of which Canada has been trying to secure possession.
