“The cry to the Liberals is raised for a selfish purpose by two owners of the Telegraph who have got more money out of the treasury than anyone else in this part of the country ever obtained.” “These,” he added, “are like the three tailors of Tooley St., who called themselves ‘the people of England.’” “The assailants of the Government were the element driven out of power a year ago, but still cherishing the idea that they had some right to rule.”—Hon. J. D. Hazen at Fairville, Thursday night.

MRS. M'DONALD HAD CLOSE CALL FROM DEATH

The drinking of poisonous washing fluid instead of beer was the unhappy mistake made by the wife of Mr. John R. McDonald, a city employe, living at 127 1/2 Erin street. Mrs. McDonald was washing at Mrs. Bowles' store on the corner of Erin and Hanover streets, when feeling rather "dry" as she explains, she took "just a little sip" out of one of two bottles standing on a table nearby. Unfortunately, however, it was the wrong bottle, and was filled with a homemade washing fluid composed of numerous strong acids. Soon Mrs. McDonald was in great agony. After having conveyed her to her home a few doors away the neighbors summoned Dr. S. H. McDonald, who administered remedies. Mrs. McDonald suffered intensely all day yesterday however, being afflicted with cramps and "burning inside." When seen by The Standard in the afternoon Mrs. McDonald said she felt better and would probably be around in a few days.

SLICK FAKIR BEGS FROM SOCIETIES

A man named Jones is going the rounds claiming to be in hard circumstances and belonging to the Knights of Pythias, Oddfellows and Masons. He was given a night's lodging at the Ferris hotel, in downtown, Saturday night by the Chancellor Commander of St. John Lodge, No. 30, K. of P., and said that he belonged to a lodge in British Columbia. On looking him up it was found out that there was no such lodge by the name he had given. He had made arrangements to meet the Oddfellows and Masons, but as far as heard from he did not succeed. He disappeared Sunday and has not been heard from since. All members of these orders have been cautioned to give this fakir in charge if he approaches them for funds.

INTERESTING CONTEST IS COMPLETED

An interesting contest which has been conducted for two months past by the Bible class of the Douglas Avenue Christian Church, was completed a day or two ago. Two sections had been organized from the class, each of which vied with each other in a canvass for new members. A keenly contested canvass has resulted in a win for the reds, who brought seven more members into the class than their opponents were able to secure. In all, ninety new names were added to the rolls of the class. For their inability to win from their rivals the blues must pay a forfeit in the shape of an outing at which the reds will be their guests. This will take place on Saturday afternoon. Motor boats will take the members of the two sections and their lady friends to Boar's Head, where Rev. J. C. B. Appel's residence will be visited, and a picnic will be held. The boats will leave the Public Wharf, Indiantown, at 2:30 o'clock.

DROPPED DEAD AT HIS HOME LAST NIGHT

Michael Driscoll, freight checker in the freight sheds at the Intercolonial Railway Depot, died suddenly at his home, 52 Smythe street, shortly after six o'clock last evening. The deceased had been in poor health for several years and died although it came with awful suddenness was not entirely unexpected. Heart disease is said to have been the cause. Had Worked Yesterday. The deceased had worked all day at his usual occupation at the I. R. C. depot and at the close of the day's work registered his time and left for his home. There he was taking off his shoes, one having been taken off, when he fell over and expired soon after. The late Michael Driscoll, in his capacity as freight checker, came in contact with many persons in the city and his large circle of acquaintances will be shocked to learn of his sudden death. The deceased was about fifty years of age and had been in the employ of the Intercolonial for some years.

THE WOOD WAS VALUED AT ABOUT $3,500

Preparations were made yesterday to wreck the schooner C. B. Wood which ran ashore Monday morning on Partridge Island. Her sails, which are new, and some of the running gear and other movable parts were brought up in a scow yesterday morning. The C. B. Wood went ashore at high water, and when the tide goes out it leaves her high and dry. The schooner was valued at about $3,500 and was uninsured. She will probably be blown up after she is wrecked.

HORSE RAN AWAY; CARRIAGE DESTROYED

There was a lively runaway in the North End last night. The horse with carriage attached bolted in Fairville and ran across the Suspension Bridge and along Douglas Avenue and Main street to Mill street. The frightened animal turned into Mill street with a pair of shafts and one wheel the sole remnants of the vehicle, attached to him. A collision with a telephone pole on Main street had smashed the carriage to pieces. The horse galloped across the railway tracks and up the hill to the head of Mill street. At the corner of Union street a young man named Thomas McCann caught the horse which was pretty well tired out after its long run. It is understood the horse belonged to William J. McIntyre.
