D.C.P., Ltd., of 16, Islington Row, Birmingham, are the owners of all patents on which this new colour photography is based. They have generously allowed them to be used, free of all charge, for the production of this unique collection of portraits, and for the re-production in the various volumes briefly outlined above of which they are the publishers.

Opinions and Extracts

Of the project as a whole, Sir Arthur Street, K.C.B., K.B.E., C.M.G., C.I.E., M.C., says, "A fine scheme of real historic value, bold and imaginative, involving much toil and skill to bring it to fruition. It will be well worthy of the Royal Air Forces, and I can give it no higher praise than that."

On the eve of his departure for the U.S.A., Lord Tedder sent the following message:—

"I wish this scheme all success in bringing future support to the R.A.F. Association and the Royal Air Force Benevolent Fund."
