The time for gift-giving and gift-good chorus, "The Royal Pair Are Off getting is on us again. How eagerly To-day." The time for gift-giving and gift-getting is on us again. How eagerly we all look look forward to it, young and old alike! Heaven help the poor wretches, be they rich or poor, who feel no inward exultation as the holiday season approaches! The poor in this ease are to be the more pitied because there is a remedy within reach of the rich—Go and Give. Christmas would lose its charm if it were all getting and no giving. Realizing that this season is commemorative of God's greatest gift to man, the different fathers of the church of Christ have always made it a season of almegiving. Lengend has it that to Luther belongs the honor of the first Christmas Tree. He is said to have been returning home through the German woods late one Christmas Eve from some church service. Walking along with his hands behind him, gazing up into the starlight heavens and meditating on God's goodness to man, all at once he seemed to realize the great beauty of the night that was to usher in another anniversary of the birth of Christ. The vivid green of the evergreens showing their light and dark shades according as the light from the heavens fell upon them, the innumerable tiny stare, those "forget-me-nots of the angels," of the birth of Christ. The vivid green of the evergreens showing their light and dark shades according as the light from the heavens fell upon them, the innumerable tiny stare, those "forget-me-nots of the angels," twinkling among the branches, the vast deep blue dome of the heavens above seemed, in their awe-inspiring and marvellous beauty, to the holy man, as a message of love sent from Heaven's throme. ing his kiss to awaken from a 100,year slumber. Luther could not forget that night. The next day was Christmas and he had invited every one of the village children to come in the morning for such small gifts as he was able to bestow. He was so full of the beauty of the night before that he thought to try and give the little children some idea of it and awaken in them the same feelings of love to God for His love to them. He procured an evergreen tree and put tiny candles among the branches to represent the stars. That the children might the better remember his talk to them he associated it in their minds with their gifts by hanging the gifts on the branches of the tree. gifts by hanging the gifts on the branches of the tree.

Catarrah is a Germ Disease

Science, armed with the microscope, has established it a fact, and this conclusion renders obsolete the practice of treating Asthma, Catarrh and Bronchitis by stomach drugging, sprays, snuffs, &c. Such treatments are an utter failure because they cannot penetrate the delicate air cells of the lungs, or permeate the air passages of the nose and bronchial tubes where the germs of Catarrh have their stronghold. Catarrhozone is the only certain remedy. It is inhaled by the mouth and after spreading through all the respiratory organs is exhaled through the mostrils. Castarrhozone kills the germs, heals the inflamed tissues, clears the head and throat in two minutes, and cures in a few hours. Nothing is so effective, pleasant and simple as Catarrhozone.
