We Need Young Men

There is no business in the world that has greater openings for young men than the life insurance business. The Manufacturers Life Insurance Company, one of the strongest and best companies in Canada, has a number of good openings at the present time for the right class of men. Why not give this business a trial during your summer months? If you find it satisfactory, it would be very easy then to make a permanent contract. Even when you come back to college next fall, you might still go on making money during your college course.
