

CUT CLOTHES TO FIT KINESTHESIA, SAYS PROFESSOR

"Duds Lecture" Leaves The Pupils Gasping For Breath

Boston, Mass., Sept. 1.—Some 30 proprietors, and representatives of department stores are digesting the words of Prof. George, Van. Ness Dearborn of Cambridge, Mass., today and trying to assimilate his theory that to be strong and happy persons should dress according to the "ethno-europhoric ratio."

Prof. Dearborn attempted to explain why salesmen should try to sell clothes to fit the personality of the customer and why the customer should buy that kind of clothes. Apparently the subject was simple, but as Prof. Dearborn said:

"No psychological laboratory has taken up the physiological psychology of clothes thus far save in a questioning manner."

Clear as Mud

When he had finished, one of the class asked, "Professor, what in a general way have you been getting at in this lecture?" And here is the professor's answer:

"That clothes should fit." The professor added that any questions on his discourse would be freely answered. There were no questions.

Prof. Dearborn's theme was built around the announcement that "Clothes are almost a vicious skin." He described the several divisions and subdivisions of one of which was the relation of clothes to bodily action.

"As to freedom of bodily action," remained unchanged was: "Clothes certainly do proclaim the man."

said the professor, "I am in the habit of using a term with which you are all familiar—kinesthesia."

Amazing Conclusions

"Here we have the interesting fact," the professor continued, writing the word on the blackboard, "that each individual has a group of actions which the tailor must fit. The diaphragm, the heart action, and the comfort of one's arteries must be considered by the tailor."

After the lecture the students came to the conclusion that a man "buys shoes for comfort instead of style," and that a woman reverses the formula. Another axiom that

FRANCE PLANS TO CONTROL PRICES

Government Authorized By Parliament To Requisition Goods For Civil Life

FIX PRICE OF SHOES

First Reform Measure inaugurated Will Be "National Footwear"

Paris, Sept. 1.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Before adjourning for summer vacation last week, parliament passed a law on requisitioning which allows the government to requisition, or take over at a fixed price, any commodities necessary to civil life, just as it has always had power to requisition anything for the army.

The new law will allow several measures intended to alleviate the dearth of living to be put into immediate effect as all necessary preliminaries have been arranged for weeks, in readiness for the moment that this law would give the authorities power to act.

The first measure will be to inaugurate "National Footwear." This does not mean that everybody is to buy and wear the same boots, but that good boots will be available to the people at a fair price. The price of boots and shoes soared since the war to such a height that only well-to-do people can buy them. The cost of footwear, other than of leather, even of wooden shoes, has of course greatly advanced owing to the greater demand from those who are now unable to buy leather boots.

"National Footwear" will, of course, be standardized. The Ministry of Commerce, in collaboration with the Army Commissariat, will requisition the necessary leather and the boots will be made for civilians in exactly the same way as they are already made for the army. The prices will be stamped on them so that no one need pay more than the official rate. Men's boots will be sold at $5.50 at pre-war exchange; women's at $4.50; boys and girls at $3.50, and children's at a price not yet fixed, between $3.00 and $3.20. These prices allow a fair profit to the intermediary between maker and buyer.

The Army Commissariat has undertaken to supply 500,000 pairs of boots a month from the present time and to double that output very soon. As the average demand for "National Footwear" is estimated to be 2,000,000 pairs a month, it will be some time before the supply can satisfy it. The output, therefore, at first will be reserved for the working classes and will be sold through their co-operative societies.

The next measure, already under way, will be the creation of a "National Cloth," for which stocks of

Hurrah! How's This

Cincinnati authority says corns dry up and lift out with fingers.

Hospital records show that every time you cut a corn you invite lock jaw or blood poison, which is needless, says a Cincinnati authority, who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called freestone can be obtained at little cost from the drug store but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus. You simply apply a few drops of freestone on a tender, aching corn and soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out root and all, without pain.

This drug is sticky but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.
