The railway station at Hem, on the outskirts of the forest on the road to Maricourt, passed from hand to hand four times yesterday morning. At three o clock in the afternoon the French lost it again, being beaten back by two Saxon Regiments, but at four o'clock a splendid French charge recovered it.

The French are now organizing at the outskirts of Maurepas, Guinchy and Guillemont. The French losses in all this fighting were much less than those of the enemy. One regiment, which led the attack on July 30 and whose advance was the most rapid, lost about 300 men, of whom 75 per cent. were only slightly brut. Paris, August 1—The efforts of the Germens last night were directed mainly against the extreme right wing of the Prench troops operating in the Somme region. From Sunday evening to last night, the Gerwans launched not less than sixmen regular attacks against the lines between the Hem Wood and the Somme.

In the Hem Wood and in the region of the Monacu Farm, the fighting was desperate. On Sunday night, the enemy succeeded by an enormous effort in taking the Hem Wood for the third time, but two hours later the French counter-statacked or Monday morning failed completely, one battalion losing a third of its effectives.
