visit to the farm of my brother, he, with his two men, were cultivating a crop of pota-tees when a thunder shower suddenly arose, and to escape getting wet the three hid behind a large granite rock near a green maple tree, myself standing under an umbrella quite close to the others. As the shower was drawing to a close the lightning seemed to be so near as to call forth some remark, and then sad-denly I experienced a sensation or know-ledge of something happening, followed forth some remain, y I experienced a sensation or many e of something happening, followed complete obliviousness. After a period probably five or ten minutes, as nearly can be sacertained, light and returning asciousness prompted me to look around asci consciousness prompted me to look around at my companions. They were lying close together, evidently dead. On a closer examination the syelids twitched slightly, as well as the muscles of the arms and lega. I realized at once that the cause of the disaster was a lightning stroke, and set about trying to resuscitate them with such means as I had at my disposal, and was soon rewarded by knowing that one, at least, was alowly, though surely, gaining. The other two, though they gained slightly at first, seemed the second time to sink, the face becoming pale, the lips and eyelids blue, but, and the companies of the companies of the control of the circulation again started afresh and recovery was gradual from that time onward. I myself must have been altogether insensible for at least from five to ten minutes. One of the others was a full hour before he regained partial consciousness or could stand without support. The other two were fully three-quarters of an hour before they could use their limbs or understand what had happened, and all three ware far from being natural for some hours after they received the stroke. In none of the cases was there any pain or discomfort experienced until consciousness returned to them. The two most hur felt a sickening of the stomach, which ended in womitine. experienced until consciousness returned to them. The two most hurt felt a sickening of the stomach, which ended in vomiting about an hour after the accident. The third about an hour after the accident. The third experienced a partial paralysis of one leg, which was burned and blistered, and the only feeling I had was if I had received a blow on the side of the head. The pupils of the eyes were strongly contracted and their in the contracted and their interest interest in the contracted and their interest in the contracted and their interest in the contracted and their interest interest in the contracted and their interest interest in the contracted and the contracted and their interest interest interest interest interest in the contracted and the eyes were strongly contracted and see rapid and weak in all the cases.

SHOT DOWN IN COURT.

A Fifteen-year-old Lad Slays the Betraye A Fifteen-year-old Led Slays the Betrayer of His Sister.

A New York despatch says: The greatest excitement known in many years was occasioned yesterday in part one of the Court of General Sessions, when Max Clerget was deliberately murdered by Edward Davins, a brother of 15-year old Sarah Davins, whom Clerget had assaulted. Judge Martine was on the bench when Clerget, who is 18 years old and a Frenchman by birth, was arraigned to plead to the charge of oriminal assault committed on June 18, an Sarah Davins. The charge had been made by an officer of Gerry's Society. Clerget pleaded guilty, and was on his way back to the prisoners pen, when Edward Davins, the 15-year-old brother of the girl, stood up in his seat in the rear-get the court your and fired a shot from a 33 calibre revolver, which struck Clerget in the body. Clerget fell and died instantly, the shot having passed through his heart. On the way to the coroner's office the police said Davins stated the dead man had ruined his dister and he shot him.

Timid Female—I say has advertisement for a wife in your paper this morning.

Editor—Too late—The advertiser got her six hours ago, took a bridal trip in a handoar, and is now suing for a divorce.

Watch our 10-cent column.—Atlanta Constitution.

Sir Samuel Baker, the famous African carpiorer, now at Associate, the ramous African explorer, now at Associate, writes that there would be now no difficulty on the part of the English in establishing an Egyptian force at Abu-Hammed, on the Nile, about 150 miles below Berber, which is the key to the position of the Mahdista.

The Dake of York was formally commis-sioned commander of the Melampus yester-day. The Prince of Wales and other mem-bers of the zoyal family bade him farewell on board the ship before he started on a two-

HE OPERATED IN CANADA. -A VIRAGO'S AIM.

HIS AWFULLY BLACK RECORD.

The Notorious Dr. Neill a Graduate of McGill College.

HIB AWFULLY BLACK RECORD.

A Montreal despatch says: Absolute proof has been discovered that Thomas Neill, now in London, Egg., charged with poisoning Matilds Cloevy, is Dr. Thomas Neill Cream, a native of Quebec city, who was graduated from McGill College in Montreal, and who was sentenced to a life term in State's prison for abortion.

Thomas Neill Cream, although he has lived the most of his life on the American continent, was born, so the registar of McGill College says, in Glasgow, Scotland, on May 27th, 1850. While attils young lad his parents emigrated to Canada and settled in the ancient city of Quebec, where old Mr. Cream managed to accumulate a comfortable competency. Young Cream first worked in the ship-building trade as a carpenter. As he showed considerable natural ability his father decided on sending him to Montreal to study at McGill College for the profession of medicine. Cream went through his chosen course. It was in 1872 when Cream entered college. In 1876 he graduated and was a full-fledged M. D.

TIM HEALY MOBBED.

Mud, Flour and Stones Thrown at the Sharp-tengued McCarthyite.

A Dublin cable says: Mr. Timothy Healy finds it dangerous to openly appear on the streets of Dublin. He was recognized there on Tuesday, and was compelled to take refuge in a house under a guard of police. Again yesterday, as he was leaving a Federation meeting, a crowd tried to stop him. Some of the crowd saluted him with cries of "Dirty Tim!" Stones and handfuls of mud were thrown at him. He jumped into a passing car, which was rushed through the men. The crowd pursued the car, and a bag of flour was thrown over Mr. Healy. When he reached the office of the Freeman's Journal and National Press he jumped from the car, and as he did so a man hit him a severe blow on the jaw with a stick. He was also struck on the face by a stone. The police seized one of his assailant, who was to-day sentenced to fourteen days imprisonment. police seized one of his assailants, who we to-day sentenced to fourteen days' imprison ment.

A DUEL TO THE DEATH. Marquis De Mores Slays the Persecutor of His Friend.

His Friend.

A Paris cable says: A duel was fought yesterday between the Marquis de Mores and Captain Mayer, in which the latter was so severely wounded that he died last evening. The duel grew out of the anti-Semetic campaign that has been carried on in the Labre Parole, the Anarchist paper, of which Edouard Drumont is the editor. The weapons used in the duel were swords. The Marquis de Mores is a close friend of Drumont, and was one of the witnesses in his favor in the recent libel suit brought against him by M. Burdeau, Vice-President of the Chamber of Deputies. Drumont, in this case, was sentenced to three months' imprisonment, and to pay a fine of 1,000t. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of the Marquis de Mores, and orders have been given to prosecute the seconds of both the contestants.

During a thunderstorm at Kalso, B. C.,

A Woman Strikes Gladstone in the Eye With a Missile.

SERIOUSLY INJURING THE ORGAN.

His Late Appeal of the Historians.

2007 (DIZ TOZ DELEAD).

A hand and gray and any of the control of the contr such trial as is spoken of in the despatch to look place in this city with Cream, Nell or Murray as the accused.]

WAEM HEISH POLITICS.

Sitcks and Stones Figure Prominently at Political Meetings.

A Dublin cable says: Mr. Jordan, M. P., was attacked by a crowd of Parnellites to day on arriving in Limerick to address an anti-Parnellite meeting. Mr. Jordan was truck on the head, his hat being smashed in, and he was compelled to take refuge in and he was compelled to take refuge in a railway station. A strong detachment of police afterwards escorted him to his hotel. Of the way the Parnellites stoned the police, who finally used their swords to disperse the crowd. Several arrests were withing mass this morning in Cork a crowd of Parnellites surrounded by the crowd, and having boarded a car was escorted to his hotel. Several fights took place on the way, stoke being freely used. Outside the hotel a serious conflict arose in which several persons were injured. The crowd was finally dispersed by the police.

Mr. Wm. Redmond and the Lord Mayor of Dublin made an attempt this morning to canvass Blarney, street, Cork, an anti-Parnellite tronghold. They were continually pelted with stones, and were soon compelled to fiee.

Mr. Wm. Redmond and the Lord Mayor of Dublin made an attempt this morning to canvass Blarney street, Cork, an anti-Parnellite stronghold. They were continually pelted with stones, and were soon compelled to fiee.

An anti-Parnellite meeting held this afternoon, addressed by Mr. Wm. O'Brien, was attacked by Parnellites, who used sticks and at sones freely.

The TOPPEDO WOEKED.

An Instructor Blown to Fragments While Attaching a Betonater.

Attaching a Betenater.

A London cable says: A serious accident caused by the temerity of a torpedo instructor is reported as having happened on board the Nile, one of the most formidable of England's armored vessels, and attached to the Mediterranean squadron. An instructor in the use of torpedoes, named Corbett, was trying to force a detonater into a mining charge of gun-cotton, when the cotton exploded, blowing a hole in the deck of the vessel and killing Corbett and a seaman, who was assisting him. Corbett was blown almost to fragments, and a portion of his body struck Lieut. Pitt, who was atanding near by, covering him with blood. Commander MacGill, of the Nile, also had a narrow escape from injury. Miles of Various Nations.

The Irish mile is 2,240 yards.
The Swiss mile is 1,156 yards.
The Swiss mile is 1,156 yards.
The Scotch mile is 1,760 yards.
The Scotch mile is 1,824 yards.
The German mile is 8,106 yards.
The Arabian mile is 2,143 yards.
The Turkish mile is 1,825 yards.
The Turkish mile is 1,826 yards.
The Flemish mile is 6,896 yards.
The Vienna post mile is 8,296 yards.
The Werst mile is 1,162 or 1,337 yards.
The Roman mile is 1,628 or 2,502 yards.
The Dutch and Prussian mile is 6,890 yards.
The Swedish and Danish mile is 7,351.5 yards.
The English and American mile is 1,760 yards.—Fact.

Edouard Drumont is the editor. The Marquis de Mores is a close friend of Drumont, and was one of the witnesses in his favor in the recent libel suit brought against him by M. Burdeau, Vice-President of the Chamber of Deputies. Drumont, in this case, was benteaned to three months' imprisonment, and to pay a fine of 1,000!. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of the Marquis de Mores, and orders have been given to prosecute the seconds of both the contestants.

During a thunderstorm at Kalso, B. C., two men near the Elocan Star Mine were struck by lightning, one of them being instantly killed. The other was insensible for some hours, but eventually recovered.

—Mother—Im shooked to hear that Willie Findlay whipped the poor cat. My little boy wouldn't do such a thing. Bobby (with conscious moral superiority)—No, indeed, ma. Mother—Why didn't you stop him? Bobby—I couldn't ma; I was holding the cat.—Dundes Weekly News.

State of Affairs. THE EMPEROR INTERPOSES.

A BERLIN SENSATION

A Murder Investigation Reveals a He

The second Provincial Convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of Ontario was held in Toronto yesterday. There were about 30 delegates present. The reports of the Provincial officers showed the Order to be in a flourishing condition financially as well as numerically. The number of counties organized is 7, number of divisions 15, total membership 1,860. John Lalor, Hamilton, was re-elected Provincial delegate; John McCarry, Toronto, Provincial Secretary, and M. Guerin, Stratford, Provincial Treasurer. The next convention will be held at Stratford in June, 1894.

Where God's Name is Not Allowed. The talk about disestablishment in the British Parliament has alarmed some of the church people, and given them a desire to take an active part in the coming general elections. At Stonehaven, in Scotland, a meeting in "defense of the church" was recently held in the Town Hall. In the course of a fervid speech the Chairman made the following remarkable statement, as reported by the Dundee Courier: "In the colony of Victoria, Australia, the name of God is not allowed to appear in any of the school books."

Victoria's One Beath Warrant. England's Queen, since the beginning of her reign, has only signed one death war-rant, which was for an execution in the Lile of Man, the act passed for relieving Her Majesty of the signing of death warrants having, by an oversight, not included that part of Her Majesty's dominions. Precisely.

Featherstone—You get all your clother made in London, don't you? How do you continue to have them fit? Ringway—They don't fit. That's what makes them look so English.—Clothier and Furnisher.

Didn't Like It. Skidds—Why did you leave your new boarding house? Didn't Mrs. Small pro-mise to treat you like one of the family? Gasket—Yes. That's why I left.

mise to treat you like one of the family?

Gasket—Yes. That's why I left.

Japan has 10,000 paupers in a population of 237,000,000.

ADLAI E. STEVENSON, the Democratic candidate for the Vice-Presidency, is a comparatively unknown man outside of his State or country. He is a Kenuckian by birth, and first saw 'the light in 1835. When he was 16 years of age he removed to Bloomington, Ill., where he industriously applied himself to the study of law. In May, 1868, he was admitted to the bar. In 1874 Mr. Stevenson was nominated for congress. The district was Republican by 3,000 majority, but, after a very exciting canvass, Stevenson defeated his opponent, Gen. John C. McNulta, for re-election by over 1,200 majority. He was defeated for re-election to congress in 1876, but was renominated and re-elected in 1878, this time defeating his opponent. Congressman Tipton,' and being elected by over 2,690 majority. After Cleveland's election in 1884, Stevenson was appointed first assistant. People called him that because of the wonderful rapidity with which he chopped off the heads of Republican fourth-class postmasters. Senator Ingalis calculated that Stevenson's are fell every fifteen minutes for seven hours each day and six days each week, and every time it fell a Republican head fell into the basket. He controlled 45,000 appointments. Stevenson is a man good to look at. He is tall and straight with a handsome gray mustache and a round head covered with rapidly thinning gray hair. He has regular features and blue eyes. He dreases well and, although of a jovial, sociable nature, brings little of his gayer nature into his daily business. He is a man of very few words, but comes directly to the point.

Mrs. Fred. Bartlet, a woman 65 years of age, living three miles north of Port Stanley, yesterday smiched by taking stryohnine. The woman entered the roor in which her daughter was seated yesterday and announced that she had taken stryohnine. The woman entered the roor in which her daughter was seated yesterday in and announced plosives. Dynamite is the name most unually given to these explosives, though other names are sometimes used. Jynamite is simply nitro-glycerine mixed with various ingredients. Nitro-glycerine is made by mixing sulphuric and nitric acid with sweet glycerine, the same that is used by the ladies to prevent chapped hands Mixing the acids and glycerine is where the great danger lies in the making of nitro-glycerine. The mixing tank, or agitator, as it is called by dynamite-makers, is a large steel tank, filled inside with many coils of lead pipe, through which, while the mixing is in progress, a constant flow of ice-water is used to keep the temperature of the mixture below 85 degrees, as above that point it would explode, and a hole in the ground would mark where the factory had been. The nitro-glycerine is stored in large earthenware tanks, which are usually sunk in the ground to guard against blows or severe concussion. The other ingredients for making dynamite are: Nitrate of soda, which is found only in Chili; carbonate of magnesia and wood pulp.

WHAT DYNAMITE IS.

Dynamite is put in paper shells usually 14 inches in diameter and 8 inches in fength, and weighs about one-half pound to each shell or cartridge. It has largely taken the place of black powder for blacking, as it is many hundreds of tipnes atronger and consequently more economical. It is used chiefly in mining all kinds of ores, coal and rock, and submarine blasting and railroad building. Without its sid many railroads, especially those crossing the Rocky Mountains, could not have been constructed; without it Hell Gate, in the East River, New York, could not have been constructed; without is Hell Gate, in the East River, New York, ould not have been constructed; without it Hell Gate, in the East River, new york, proud not have been destroyed, and without it the miner, at prices now paid for mining ores, could not earn his bread.

Dynamite will not explode from any ordinary fall or jar; it will burn without explosion, and freezes at 42 degrees, 10 degrees above ordina

Five or six millions of dollars are invested in the manufacture of dynamite in the United States, and its use is constantly on the increase. The fumes of nitro-glyoerine produce intense headache, which can be cured by taking a very small dose of it internally.

She Talks a Fellow to Death and Roasts Him for not Saying a Word.

The talkative girl is apt to be pretty and vivacious. She enters the parlor with a little rush—a mixture of cleverly-done impatience and eagerness to be with you—and greets you enthusiastically. "Oh, good evening, Mr. Van Dyke! How good of you! You don't know surprised I was when the girl brought up your card. I was not expecting such pleasure after the way you have treated us lately; it must be weeks and weeks since you've been here. I hope I haven't kept you waiting long; but you men who have sisters know that a girl can't possibly dress in two minutes, no matter Him for not Saying a Word.

honor to his profession. Integrity was the mainspring and prudence the regulator of all the actions of his life. Humane, hones all the actions of his life. Humane, honest and industrious, his hands never stopped until he had relieved distresses. He had the art of disposing of his time in such a way that he never went wrong, except when set going by persons who did not know his key, and even then was easily set right again. He departed this life December 4th, 1811, wound up in the hope of being taken in hand by his Maker, thoroughly cleaned, regulated and repaired, and set agoing in the world to come."

A Rare Inducement. Mother-I want you to be good childre his week.
Freddie-What will you give us if we Freddie—What will you give us if ware good?

Mother—If you are good you can look of when your father shaves himself on Sunday morning.

Systematized. Systematised.

Father—Inn't that young Briggins around here a great deal? Daughter—I don't know, father. He's only here a couple of hours in the morning, a couple in the afternoon and from 7 to 12 o'clock in the evening. Father (after calculating)—Well, you'd better give him only eight hours or he'll be striking next.

"Ob, that must be too lovely for any-thing !" said Hortensia, when she read an account of a stage robbery in the far West." "Lovely to be robbed?" asked Uncle

"Lovely to be robbed?" asked Uncled John.

"Lovely to be held up," said Hortensia with a roseate blush.

At a meeting of the Cabinet Council of the Manitoba Government, held on Saturday, it was decided to dissolve the Legislature at once. Nominations will be made on the 16th July, and the elections will be held on the 23rd July.

Judge Chambers, of Detroit, issued an order yesterday morning granting compensation to the female witnesses against Michael, the criminal leader of the Latter-Day Israelites, at the rate of one dollar per day for the time they were detained awaiting the trial.

trial.

The body of the countess Augusts Lintingen, who disappeared from her home in Hanover a few days ago, has been found in the River Leine near that city. It is not doubted that the Countess committed suicide, though beyond the fact that ahe had complained of suffering severely from headaches no reason for self-destruction is known.

TRICKED INTO LIVING.

Dr. Mostyn's Patient With a Pr

Italiaw creatures and poked a large hole in the kitches window of the home of the fourth.

"And now," he continued, talking to himself for the sake of company, "for home and supper and a fire. Ah, and a patient or two, perhaps. Who knows?"

At this cheering prospect his spirits rose, and he banged mightly at the well with his stick in consequence, until at length, coming to a small street on his right, he turned smartly down, and, having sade sure of his own door, knocked briskly at it.

"Who's there?" cried a shrill, female voice in response.

"It's I, Bet," said her master. "Open the door, my good gir."

"Not if knows it," was the cheering reply. "You takes yourself off, young man, whover you are. There's two bulldogs and three men with loaded guns standing by me, to say nothing ——"

"Open the door!" said the surgeon sharply. "I'm back already because m patient's dead. Come, open at once."

There was a creaking and a shooting off bolts as he finished speaking, and the door being cautiously opened, discovered an angular woman of some 35 years, whose nervous face cleared directly as she saw her master.

"I'm asking your pardon for keeping you and the visitor were beginning to tell.

"I made one," said the other, hoarsely.

"Since then everything has prospered with in the state of the sea large family. I have kept my secret at the myself. To-night at 12 my time existing in the state of the sea large family. I have kept my secret at the myself. To-night at 12 my time existing in the state of the sea my death would be a strictly natural one," continued the stranger, in order to see whether my heart was sound, or the strictly natural one, "continued the stranger, in order to see whether my heart was sound, or the strictly natural manner, owing to its disease. A watchman whom I met directed me to your door."

Half an hour passed and a neighboring church clock slowly beomed the hour of 11. One hour more. The surgeon, glancing at the lis companion, to see what effect the sound had upon him, say that his eyes were a closed and that he hysathed heavily.

Rising cautiously to his feet he felt the pulse of the strong, sinewy wrist which hung over the side of the chair, and then returning to his seat, sat closely regarding him, not without casting certain uneasy glances into the dark corners of the room.

For a few scopnds, it seemed, his eyes closed. When he opened them the fire was in the chair, though its head had now fallen on its breast.

Full of a horrible fear he glanced hurriedly at the clock and saw that it was just upon the stroke of 4; then he sprang to the side of his guest and seized the wrist on nearest him. As he did so he started back with a wild cry of horror, for some slippery, thing, darting swiftly between his feet, vanished in the gleom of a neighboring corner.

Ere he could recover himself the man in front of him stirred uneasily, and, rising Zahisasa a correct himself the man in front of him stirred uneasily, and, rising unsteadily, gazed stupidly at him.

"What's the matter?" he asked at length in days tones.

"What's the matter?" he asked at length in dazed tones.

"Matter?" shouted the still trembling surgeon. "Why, it's four hours past midnight and you are alive and well."

As he rose to his feet the old church clock slowly struck the hour of 4, appearing to both the listeners to do so with an emphasis as unusual as it was welcome.

As the last stroke sounded, the stranger, who could even now hardly realize his position, threw up the window and extended his head.

"How came I to sleep?" he enquired, closing the window and turning to the surgeon.

geon.
"I drugged your drink. It was the only thing I could do. You were in such a strange state of affairs that you would either have died or gone mad if I had not done so."
The stranger extended his hand and caught the young surgeon's in a mighty grasp.

club.

If soft cloths dipped in hot water and applied to the exuption caused by poisonivy does not kill it sugar of lead water will.

—Baldheaded customer in barber shop—to afforded a season club, a sir; which hair?

two or three together.
"You see," said the spokesman, getting down to business again, "it's just this way:
"". and you to be kind of pice and pleasant and the based singlifyly at the wild in the second of the control reverse you enthurisatically. "'Ob, good evening, Mr. Van Dyte How good of you on't know surprised I was when the evening such pleasure after the way you had girly to your card. I was not except the possibly dress in two minutes, no matter what the objecting such pleasure after the way you men who have sisters know that a girl came; he has thing to happen to you, "repided what the possibly dress in two minutes, no matter what the object he has thing to happen to you," repided what the hast olding to happen to you, "repided what the hast olding to happen to you," repided what the hast olding to happen to you, "repided what the hast olding to happen to you," repided what the hast olding to happen to you, "repided what the hast olding to happen to you," repided what the hast olding to happen to you, "repided what the hast olding to happen to you," repided what the hast olding to happen to you, "repided what the hast olding to happen to you," repided what the hast olding to happen to you, "repided what the hast olding to happen to you," repided what the hast olding to happen to you, "repided what the hast olding to happen to you," repided what the hast olding to happen to you, "repided what the hast olding to happen to you," repided what the hast olding to happen to you, "repided what the hast olding to happen to you," repided what the hast olding to happen to you, "repided what the hast olding to happen to you," repided what the hast olding to you can see he hast old you have the hast olding to happen to you, and the hast old what the hast old you have the hast old you had the was not old the hast old you have the hast old you had the was old you have the hast old you have the hast old you have the hast old you

An Essex despatch says: Ike Mulder, the notorious colored outlaw, who for the past five years has terrorized the people of Colchester South, was arrested to-day in that township by a posse of five countables. Only one shot was fired before Mulder gave himself up. He found the house surrounded more systematically than on former cocasions when unsuccessful attempts were sines when unsuccessful attempts were used to the resequals, as complementary parts of a perfect pair; with whom there is no execution of superiority or inferiority. To made to arrest him. He is wanted on a charge of assault with intent to kill. An attempt was made two years ago by Con-stable Walters and an assistant to take him, and though they shot him he got away, returning the fire as he ran. He is helieved to be the ringlesder of a gang of believed to be the ringleader of a gang of men who made travelling in Colchester unmen who made travelling in Colchester un-safe several years ago by a system of high-way robberies. He has for years been a terror to the people of the township, and his arrest is hailed with delight throughout the country.

Facts About Quinine.

Facts About Quinine.

Perhaps no drug known to medicine is more generally used than quinine, and, certainly, none presents such a wide difference in price as the quinine sold six years ago and that sold now. At that time nearly all the cinchona bark, from which it is extracted, was brought from South America, subject to heavy import duty. But the duty was taken off, and this marked the first big decline in price. Before that time it sold for about $1$ an onnce.

"Shortly after this English capitalists concluded that the bark could be grown in India as well as South America, and large plantations were purchased. The climate and soil suited admirably, and, by scientificulture, the yield was greatly increased. From India the bark is largely shipped to England and the quinine extracted, being sent here in crystals. Because of the taking off of the duty and the largely increased supply, the price in quantities of 10,000 cances is about 20 cents per cunce.

Some time ago the rumor of a big foreign trust caused the price to advance several cents, but it dropped and is now lower than before.—Philadelphia Record.

Her Exact Words. Her Exact Words.

Her Exact Words.

Housekeeper—How's this? You promised to saw some wood if I gave you a lunch.

Tramp—I recall no such promise, madam, "The ides! I told you I'd give you a lunch if you'd saw some wood, and you agreed."

"Pardon me, madam. Your exact words were: 'I'll give you a lunch if you saw that wood over there by the gate."

"Exactly. That's just what I said."

"Well, madam, I saw that wood over there by the gate as I came in."

Tried.

Cora-You'd make a trusted bank cashier, Jake.

Jake (much flattered)—Why so, dear?

Cora (yawning)—You'd never "ak out."

had complained of suffering severely from headaches no reason for self-destruction is known.

Thomas Murphy, of London, a week or so ago attacked his wife viciously, and she has since had her arm tied in a sling. On Sunday afternoon he began thrashing her, and the woman's cries attracted a crowd to the spot. Murphy was arrested, and yesterday Mayor Spencer, who was acting Magistrate, fined him $50 or twenty days. Murphy goes to jail.

Three factories in the United States consume nearly two millien eggs a year in making the peculiar kind of paper used by photographers known as albumen paper. White would not have done so if I had not been in a very excited condition. The same state of mind, perhaps, though in a milder form, that you were in on the night that you were so work of the word of the semination of the young surgeon rose rapidly to fame and the police had the utmost difficulty in repulsing them. Several women were extricated from the crowd made several action. The meeting was terminated in the contury.

When you talk to a man or a child about his faults, don's tand over him with club.

If soft cloths dipped in hot water and applied to the entrysic caused by progen iver had long kept him waiting!

Wants a hair out. Affable barber — Yes.

It soft cloths dipped in hot water and applied to the entrysic caused by progen iver had long kept him waiting?

It soft cloths dipped in hot water and applied to the entry since and the program of the program of dition. The meeting was wildest disorder.

Miss Ida C. Clothier, a Boston lady, has I secured a cottage at Manitou Springs, at I which she will this summer entertain nearly two hundred of Boston's young women, who cannot afford to take a vacation at their own expense. From twelve to fourteen will be afforded a season of recreation at one time. This is an eminently practical pro-

There are men who marry to obtain a servant, an ornament, a toy. Diamonds are a very poor article of diet; and even diamonds in the rough are not found in every bit of limestone.

There are women who live to flutter in society; who are mere lay figures on which to display fine dress goods and laces and millinery. They are the butterflies and grasshoppers of the sex. But in real life men do not look to butterflies and grasshoppers for sweets; they depend on the provident bee.

There are brainless men who prove leaden a perfect pair; with whom there is no question of superiority or inferiority. To them genin a without sex; it is divine.

Burns. he time coming when man] kind would "brithers be for a' that." In this later age we see the flush of the dawn of the happier time when they will be brothers and sisters.

No proof of a soul in woman, indeed! Was it the author of such a libel who, when a boy, wondered why he never saw any pictures of "he angels"! You see, the artist' instincts are generally in the direction of the "stream of tendency."

The saddest commentary on the sex that I could gather from the except sent me is that the writer of it had a mother.

MASQUETTE.

The Toronte Island Fresk Claims to be an Employee of Mr. Adam Brown.

There is no longer any doubt, says the Toronto Globe, that the absurd story told by the young man found bound on the crib at the eastern gap on Monday morning is an absolute fabrication. Bugle-Major Wm. Fosder, conductor of C School Band, saw the lad yesterday and said that he visited the fort last week and behaved rather queerly. He told the soldiers he had worked in the Hamilton post-office, that he was an official there, and that there was still plenty of work to be had in the Ambitious City. Turning to one of the men he said: "Haven't you been in Hamilton ? I think I saw you once on the mountain over there." The stranger seemed to be troubled about 5 mething all the time he was at the fort. He wore a gold watch and chain and kept looking at the time almost continually. He was about the fort grounds for nearly two hours, and during that time he was sent away from the gate probably half a dozen times, coming back in a few minutes. When he returned the last time he asked for a piece of small rope saying that he wanted to tie up a parcel which he wished to send to Hamilton. One of the men gave him some cord, but it was not the same as that with which he was found bound on Monday worning. The prisones still sticks to his story, but, now that the authorities are satisfied that he has been deceiving them, stringent measures will probably be taken to extract from him the truth.

—Captain Streatfeld, A. D. C. to General IS HE A HAMILTONIAN?

truth.

—Captain Streatfeild, A. D. C. to General Herbert, was relieved of $260 by a pick-pocket while taking a nap on the train by which he was going to Belleville.

Archhishop Fabre has addressed a letter to his clergy, in which he forbids picnics and pleasure excursions upon Sundays and holy days.

AND NOT IN THE PUBLIC STREETS I do not mind these monstrous trains. That all the women wear, Nor that they raise such clouds of dust Do I a copper care.

But I am year free to say.

But I am very free to say
"Twould save them lots of rack
If only they would run their trains
Upon a private track.

—"You are always a fault finder," growled the wife. "Yes, dear," responded the husband meekly; "I found you."
—Pearl—Does he love you? Madge—I'm sure he does; I spilled some strawberry loe oream over his new lavender trousers the other night, and he never even sald. "Great Coesar!"

"Many Guns," an Indian from the Northwest, who has been attending the Mohawk Institute school at Brantford, was gored by a bull while feeding cattle on Sunday, and received in juries which it is feared will prove fatal.

Asthma may be greatly relieved by soak ing blotting or tissue paper in strong sale petre water; dry it, then burn it at night in the sleeping room.