BUT CUTICURA WORKS A MIRACULOUS CURE

"When my little boy was six months and he had ezcema. The sores extended so quickly over the whole body that we at once called in the doctor. We then went to another doctor, but he could not help him, and in our despair we went to a third one. Matters became so bad that he had regular holes in his cheeks, large enough to put a finger sinto. The food had to be given with a spoon, for his mouth was covered with crusts as thick as a finger, and whenever he opened the mouth they became to bleed and suppurate, as did also his syes. Hands, arms, chest, and back, in short the whole body was covered over and over. We had no rest by day or might. Whenever he was laid in his bed, we had to pin his hands down, otherwise he would be only the final had sade up my miad to send my wife with the child to Europe, shoping that the sea air might cure him, otherwise he would be help and I had made up my miad to send my wife with the child to Europe, shoping that the sea air might cure him, otherwise he was to be put under good medical care there. MUST LIVE UP TO PRIVILEGES

The Wedding In Cana of Galilee-Christ's First Miracle Pregnant With Meaning-Prayer a Mighty Lever-Selfish Desires Must Be Eliminated-Belief In Man Is Also Essential.

Los Angeles, Cal.. June 23.—In this sermon the preacher shows that the secret to a life of real achievement and usefulness is to live up to our privileges by laying hold of the di-pictures by saying hold of the discovering large things. The text is John it, 7, "And they filled them up to the brim."

If there is any passage in the Bible of the searches us to expect big things from loss has best enter which I have chosen a the sentence which I have chosen at the sentence with I have a sentence in the sentence will be sentence at which I have a sentence with I have beyen orders. If they had known what was about to occur they would have said, "If Christ can change the water into wine, then while they had known what was about to occur they would have said," If Christ can change the water into wine, then will be sentence with the water pots until the water pots. "And they filled them up to the brim." They did beg things. May we to did they got big things for God and had age and make great preparations for the coming spiritual blessings.

Let us, in the first place, have a brimful faith in the first place, have a brimful faith in reference to our payors. Let us learn that prayer is the broad invitation God gives to his children the out of the Lord God Almighty, and be will be did to the beat of the did the sentence will be sentence with the got will be got the did to the buildings will be granted for the buildings of the provides and animal petitions of the lower, grosser ideas of prayer.

Instead of starting with a great sweep of holy desires to benefit all mankind through prayer, instead of filling up six great water pots with petitions for God's honor and glory, we come to God with a little thimble filled with our selfish desires, and we call that prayer. Thus some of us go on year in and year out making a lot of miserable little selfish petitions and call 'hose petitions prayer. Not for years have we broadened the scope of our spiritual horizon. Not for years have we made one prayer big enough to obliterate self and take in God's glory and honor. The way some of us make poor, puny, silly, selfish prayers is enough to make the angels in heaven laugh were it not for the fact that those prayers are so tragic.

Oh, that you and I could grow hig for the fact that those prayers are so tragic.

Oh, that you and I could grow big enough in divine grace to make the prayer which Paul made when in the epistle to the Romans he wrote, "I have great heaviness and continual sorrow in my heart, for I could wish that myself were accursed from Christ for my brethren, my kinsmen, according to the fiesh." That means in plain English: "O God, save my people; save the Jews, the men of my own race. I would die for them. I would even forfeit my own hope of salvation if by that means they might be won for Christ." Do we ever make such a prayer as that? Do we make your prayers so big that in their desires they will girdle the earth round and round and embrace the salvation of the whole world? I tell you, if we are going te make a full use of the privilege of prayer, our prayers will have to be made bigger than the little, puny, selfish desires of our hearts. Shall we ever grow bigger than self? Are we living and praying for our own personal ends? Thank God, all men are not living for themselves. There are thousands and tens of thousands, some of them far poorer than we, who are living and praying for to my father and told him my needs. I told him what I wanted. I knew he would send me that money, because what I wanted was right to have, and my father was financially able to meet my wants. So I wrote to my father to send my money to a certain postoffice, as I expected to be there in about three weeks. Upon the faith which I had in my father I went ahead and supplied my necessities, and when I arrived at the postoffice I got my money as I expected. Now, that is the way we should honor God. We should believe in him. We should ask big things of him. And then we should go forth in simple faith, expecting that he will answer our prayers." No man ever spoke truer words the

these.

The more I pondered upon this part of my subject the more I remembered that the greatest workers for Jesus Christ have been men who had no financial capital save their faith. They lived in one sense up to the last cent of their income. They prayed for big things, and then, having deliberately and calmly made up their minds that God wanted them to undertake big things, they went ahead and built their hospitals and started their reformatory movements, and their
